DEFYING SENATE VERDICT, ICKES KEEPS GAS CURB

Acts Despite Finding of No Shortage.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Oil Coordinator Harold L. Ickes today defied a special senate investigating committee by declaring that restrictions on oil and gasoline consumption and a curfew on operation of filling stations in the east will remain despite the committee's recommendations that they be removed at once.

It would be "stupid" to lift the restrictions now, Ickes declared at his first press conference after returning from a month's vacation in the Pacific northwest.

He said that "time will tell" whether he or the senate committee is correct on the oil situation.

Charge Unnecessary Alarm.

The committee, headed by Senator Francis Maloney [D., Conn.], filed a report last Thursday accusing Ickes and his associates of creating "unnecessary alarm" in running the oil coördinator's office and, finding no shortages either of petroleum products or transportation facilities, recommended immediate removal of restrictions.

Ickes has curbed gasoline deliveries to east coast distributors and imposed a curfew from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. every night in the east when filling stations must not sell gasoline. He attributed the "shortage" to transfer of tankers to Britain.

But Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, declared last Friday that there were more tankers serving New England in August and early September than a year ago.

Refused Pipe Line Steel.

The Supply Priorities and Allocations board also has refused Ickes steel priorities to build a 2,000 mile pipeline from Texas to New York which he claimed necessary.

As his answer to this action, Ickes warned today that he may further reduce gasoline deliveries to eastern distributors "if we don't get that pipeline from Texas." He said that he couldn't explain SPAB's action in turning down the application for steel plate for the pipeline, but added that the idea of building the line has not been abandoned. The possibility of using steel tubing for the lines is now being studied, altho SPAB also frowned on that by warning that tube mills must not be diverted from work on military contracts.

Ickes said his effort to curtail gasoline sales was designed "to soften the blow which is coming" and said that in the face of a potential serious gasoline shortage in the near future "to lift all restrictions and yell, come and get it, would be stupid."

Insists There's a Shortage.

He claimed gasoline stocks on the east coast are 12½ per cent lower than a year ago at 2,700,000 barrels, and said the "shortage" is not completely under control.

He scoffed at suggestions that gasoline companies were promoting a shortage to increase their profit. In reply to questions on the status of his deputy coördinator, Ralph K. Davies, obtained from the Standard Oil company of California, Ickes said that as far as he knew Davies had severed his connections with the oil company and said he knew nothing about a report said to have been filed with the Securities and Exchange commission last month showing that Davies was still on the Standard Oil payroll.

U. S. TAKES OVER 3 STRIKE-BOUND AMERICAN SHIPS

Acts After Seamen Balk Arbitration.

New York, Sept. 18 [Special].—The United States government late today seized three American flag freighters in Weehawken, N. J., after the Seamen's International Union [AFL] had refused to arbitrate demands for a war bonus for voyages in the Caribbean. A strike has been in progress for a week.

Five hours after the seizure of the three vessels, owned by the Alcoa Steamship company, Leonard Tir, a spokesman for the union, said that the union would consider arbitration "on certain conditions." One condition was that a $60 a month war bonus apply to ships plying West Indies ports. This was rejected by the company, which said it was merely the original demand in different form.

"Emergency" Powers Used.

Notices of the seizure were posted on the Alcoa Scout, the Alcoa Banner, and the Alcoa Trader by Capt. Granville Conway, district director of the maritime commission. He said that the ships had been requisitioned under powers given the commission by President Roosevelt's "national emergency" proclamation.

The vessels were seized in the face of threat of a general ship strike by the union, which had warned earlier in the day that seamen on lines not now affected would be called out to support the war bonus demands.

The action carried out the ultimatum, issued last night by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, that if the unions and the companies involved would not agree to arbitrate the government would take the unprecedented course of seizing the ships and operating them in their accustomed routes.

Others May Be Seized.

Other ships may be seized tomorrow, it was reported.

The strike already has spread to 14 ships of six lines. In addition, members of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, a friendly but not affiliated union, walked off three ships, in what apparently was a sympathy move.

With so many ships idle, including several loaded with important cargoes for United States bases in the West Indies, the government decided to act.

Harmon Lewis, president of the Alcoa line, a subsidiary of the Aluminum Corporation of America, called the government's seizure "a reasonable act."

A staff of men contributed to by the commission and Alcoa started work immediately tonight taking an inventory of the three seized ships. The question of crews to man the ships will be faced tomorrow, as it will be necessary for the government to sign on its own seamen.

Await Officers' Attitude.

One determining factor will be the attitude of the officer crews. The Alcoa Line has contracts with the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association and with the National Organization of Masters, Mates, and Pilots. If these men elect to extend their contracts under government operation, or to remain at their posts under any conditions set forth by the government, the only problem will be to provide unlicensed men for the stewards, and deck and engine departments.

The government is already prepared for the manning question, thru the office of the shipping commissioner in New York, which has opened a "free" hall for independent hiring.

The government also can call on its own training stations.

U. S. MUST REROOF NEW BUILDINGS AT CAMP GRANT

Camp Grant, Ill., Sept. 18 [Special].—The necessity of reroofing 170 of the new buildings recently constructed at this big military reservation was disclosed today following an announcement that the $8,700,000 construction project had been completed.

The use of green lumber which shrank as it dried was blamed for thousands of leaks that have developed in the roofs of structures erected in the last year. In many cases roofs pulled apart at the seams. Brig. Gen. John M. Willis, camp commander, found several leaks in the cottage he uses as headquarters.

The cost of reroofing with asphalt material, the same as was used originally, is expected to total $25,000.

Fraud Witness Relates 'What a Fool I Was'

BY MARCIA WINN.

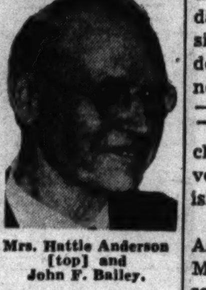
A gold encrusted dream wherein hundreds of small investors visualized all the people in the United States merrily eating salted peanuts out of penny vending machines began to explode yesterday before Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe.



Mrs. Hattie Anderson [top] and John F. Bailey.

Twenty-three men, waiving a jury trial, went on trial charged with using the mails to defraud aged men and women of $832,709. This was the money sunk, at a promise of 20 per cent dividends a year, into $35 vending machines which were to supply America's between-meal snacks from the Atlantic ocean to the Pacific.

Twenty-two of the men were salesmen for the Manufacturers Research institute, 624 South Michigan avenue, and its two subsidiaries. The 23d, Albert G. Burns of Oakland, Cal., was vice president and sales manager.

Ex-School Teacher Testifies.

A tart, indignant widow, who said, "I just hate to have people know what a fool I was," was the first yesterday to tell how the suave gentlemen operated. She is Mrs. Hattie Anderson of Burlington, Wis., a former school teacher who came to court wearing a trailing black suit of the '90 vintage, high black shoes, and a black skimmer hat. Asked her age, she said, "Why, 74, sure!"

Two of the defendants, Robert L. Swaggerty and Robert Cody, came to her home in May, 1937, she said. Previously she and her husband, Erwin, who died seven months later, had received enticing letters from the institute, replete with such phrases as, "When you and I are old, Maggie, we won't have to worry about social security."

Promises of Salesmen.

Then Cody and Swaggerty, both dapper, gray haired men, called. They used the old principle of Aladdin's lamp. If she had any bonds or securities from which she received a minute return—say, 6 per cent—they would sell them for her. The proceeds she could invest in peanut machines. Cody said he had 100 machines himself.

"The machines were $35 apiece," she testified. "They were to give me a monthly income of 70 cents a machine, or $8.40 a year. Of course," her voice rising indignantly, "I was foolish, but——"

At one point they were dissatisfied, Assistant District Attorney Francis J. McGreal revealed by reading letters sent the couple by the company. The company wrote reprovingly of their "unnecessarily uneasy mood," and sent under separate cover a package of "our mixed nuts."

Pays $4,200, Gets $288.

Mrs. Anderson received her first dividend check [on eight machines] for $4.67 in July, 1937. Her last one, for $36, came in January, 1938. Altogether, she and her husband invested $4,200 and received $288.08 in dividends. [The company went bankrupt in 1938.]

Another elderly woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Nofsinter of Wabash, Ind., who gave her age reluctantly as "past 65," testified she bought 65 machines for $2,895. John F. Bailey, 73, a retired farmer of Decatur, Ill., said he had invested $4,000.

PRESIDENT PUTS OFF SIGNING 3½ BILLION DOLLAR TAX MEASURE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—The 3½ billion dollar new tax bill reached the White House late this afternoon as President Roosevelt was preparing to leave the capital for a week-end visit to his family home at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Altho it has been estimated that the treasury is losing 3 million dollars in excise taxes for each day's delay in signing the measure, Mr. Roosevelt did not sign the bill at once.

The bill was engrossed hurriedly and turned over to treasury experts for a final check. White House aids said Mr. Roosevelt probably will sign the bill tomorrow morning or Saturday. In any event, the bill will be signed, it was said, before the President's scheduled return to the capital next Tuesday morning.

PLASTIC WINDOW LETS SURGEONS SEE WOUND HEAL

New York, Sept. 18 [Special].—A "cast window" of transparent plastic, enabling surgeons to study the progress of a wound as it heals under a plaster cast, has been developed by research workers in this country and is being used by the American hospital in Britain—a subsidiary of the British War Relief society—it was revealed today.

In the new method of treating fractures, the fracture is set, the open wound treated with sulfathiazole and the limb wrapped tightly in a plaster cast. Doses of sulfathiazole obviate the danger of infection, and doctors may use the "cast window" to keep tab on the wound as often as they wish.

Cosmic Brush Paints Chicago Sky with Light

For the second successive night Chicagoans saw a vast curtain of shimmering pale green light against the northern sky last evening. Upward from the banks of light streamed trailers, splashed as suddenly on the darkness as if they had been shot from a paint gun, to fade finally in the vault of night.

The aurora borealis, or northern lights, was playing one of its performances, rare to Chicago. The last time the display was visible here was several months ago, but last night's was one of the most brilliant spectacles within memory. The first show, just before dawn yesterday, was seen by only a few persons. The return engagement was hardly missed by any one.

Believe Sun Particles Are Cause.

The aurora borealis apparently is caused by stray electrified particles, thrown off by the sun, which are drawn into the earth's atmosphere by the magnetic field. The upper regions of the atmosphere become negatively charged and a considerable voltage is set up. It is the discharge of this electricity thru the rarefied air that produces the aurora.

The light given off has been split up into its individual wave lengths, which have been identified as characteristic emissions of the various gases that make up the air.

Most scientists believe the aurora borealis is a manifestation of sun spots which cause the magnetic storm. Altho Chicagoans witnessed the spectacle with curiosity, awe, and delight, communications companies were not so pleased.

Blacks Out Radio, Telephone.

Wireless and telephone facilities from Europe and Asia were badly disrupted. A broadcast of the Dodger-Pirates baseball game was blacked out for 15 minutes as land lines were hit.

Telegraph companies said their service was affected seriously north of the Ohio river and east of the Mississippi. Telephone service in Chicago appeared to be normal, if the calls that flowed into the Tribune switchboard are a criterion. Most callers told of the display or asked what it was.

Suburban police reported roads tied up in many areas because of thousands of motorists who drove out of the city and parked in the highways to get a clearer view of the sky display.

According to scientific reckoning, the maximum of the current sun spot cycle should have been passed three years ago. The cycles come in periods of eleven years.

Nazis at Kiev Gates, Ukraine Capital City

BULLETIN.

MOSCOW, Sept. 19 (Friday) (AP).—German forces have reached the gates of Kiev, a soviet information bureau communique reported early today. Fighting continued along the entire front, the communique said, using the same phrase it has employed twice a day for some time in describing the conflict on the eastern front. Kiev, ancient capital of the Ukraine, is the third largest city in soviet Russia, with nearly 850,000 inhabitants. It has important iron smelters and other works. It lies some 500 miles airline southwest of Moscow and 300 miles north of besieged Odessa.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Sept. 18 (AP).—Finnish army correspondents reported today that the soviet island fortress of Kronstadt, which guards the sea approach to Leningrad, had been silenced.

An army dispatch said that after ceaseless day and night bombardment by the Germans the fort suddenly went dead and has not fired a shot for several days. Thick smoke was said to have enveloped the Russian batteries after tremendous blasting by many dive bombers.

The Finns were able to see that the great cathedral and many factory chimneys on Kotlin Island, where Kronstadt fort and naval base are situated, were still standing, the dispatch said. Kronstadt is only 15 miles from the Finnish shore.

Dispatches from the front said that ship traffic between Leningrad and Kronstadt had been "extremely lively" recently, and that a large fleet of Red warships was on constant patrol in waters near Leningrad, to the east of Kronstadt.

[Stories and maps detailing the Berlin and Moscow reports of fighting in Russia and a London report that a German drive has cut off the Crimea appear on pages 2, 3, and 4.]

British Speed Unloading of U. S. War Aid

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A demonstration of how the ministry of war transport has solved the problem of speeding the "turn around" in British ports of ships bringing American lend-lease supplies was given yesterday to a group of newspaper men.

I was among those who visited a well known British port to note how quickly the docking facilities had been repaired and brought back into working order after the series of German air raids.

Five boats were unloading lend-lease supplies, including heavy machinery of all kinds, meats, lard, and bacon from Chicago, beans from Michigan, dried fruits from California, steel and even frying pans from Pittsburgh, as well as several Tomahawk airplanes, which are popular among flyers here.

Unload Planes New Way.

A new method has been devised for unloading airplanes. The system operates so effectively that planes now are at the field and in operation within three days after their arrival in port. As soon as they are unloaded the planes are immediately hooked behind trailers and hauled to flying fields along a special route.

Col. J. J. Llewellin, parliamentary secretary of the ministry of war transport, who accompanied the newspaper men, explained to what extent those in control of the docks had simplified the unloading problems, such as the irregular arrival of shipping, reduced lighting, and interruptions due to air raids. These, he said, had necessitated high pressure methods, including the commandeering of all forms of transport to prevent delays.

Barren Wharves Aid Speed-Up.

The docks on which huge warehouses had burned to the ground and considerable stores were lost again were in operation. By unloading cargoes at these wharves, now barren of superstructure, a great speedup also has been obtained in clearing and consigning the cargoes to their destinations.

Imports, including lend-lease cargoes, have been landed at the rate of 850,000 tons a week. Prime Minister Winston Churchill recently stated that Britain maintains never less than 2,000 ships at sea and never less than 400 in a danger zone.

PRESIDENT ASKS 6 BILLIONS MORE TO OPPOSE AXIS

Needed to Carry On Next Fiscal Year.

Long War Forecast

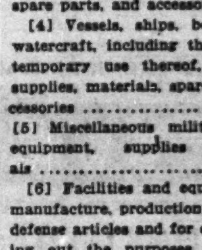
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 19 [Friday].—President Roosevelt's request for a new lease-lend appropriation to furnish armaments, ships, and food for Britain is interpreted here to indicate that he expects a long war. This impression was confirmed this morning by the Daily Telegraph air correspondent, who suggests that discussions of the formation of an empire air fleet "of overwhelming strength," scheduled to take place in London next month, "presumably are concerned with the possibilities of 1943 and 1944, rather than next year."

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—President Roosevelt today called upon congress to appropriate 5 billion 985 million dollars to continue the operation of his lease-lend program. In a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn, Mr. Roosevelt said the supplemental appropriation will keep the aid program operating until June 30, 1943.



Speaker Rayburn.

At the time Mr. Roosevelt asked congress for the original 7 billion dollar appropriation, which last March launched the lease-lend program, it was said that sum would cover all that would be required for the fiscal year which is to end next June 30.

6 Billion 280 Million Allocated.

In his second report of operations under the program, submitted to congress Monday, the President reported that 6 billion 280 million dollars of the original 7 billion dollar appropriation of six months ago is moving thru the successive stages of allocation, obligation, production, and delivery. Only 190 million dollars' worth of goods actually has been exported, according to the report.

The amount of the supplemental appropriation asked by the President occasioned no surprise in the capital, as it had been known for weeks that the administration was about to ask an additional appropriation.

With his letter to Speaker Rayburn, Mr. Roosevelt enclosed a summary of the supplemental estimate prepared by Director of the Budget Harold D. Smith.

Where Funds Would Go.

The contemplated expenditures are as follows:

[A] For the procurement, by manufacture or otherwise, of defense articles, information and services, for the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States, and the disposition thereof, including all necessary expenses in connection therewith, as follows:

[1] Ordnance and ordnance stores, supplies, spare parts, and materials, including armor and ammunition and components thereof $1,190,000,000

[2] Aircraft and aeronautical material, including engines, spare parts, and accessories $685,000,000

[3] Tanks, armored cars, automobiles, trucks, and other automotive vehicles, spare parts, and accessories....$385,000,000

[4] Vessels, ships, boats, and other watercraft, including the hire or other temporary use thereof, and equipage, supplies, materials, spare parts, and accessories $850,000,000

[5] Miscellaneous military and naval equipment, supplies and materials $155,000,000

[6] Facilities and equipment for the manufacture, production or operation of defense articles and for otherwise carrying out the purposes of the act of March 11, 1941, including the acquisition of land, and the maintenance and operation of such facilities and equipment $375,000,000

[7] Agricultural, industrial, and other commodities and articles....$1,875,000,000

[B] For testing, inspecting, proving, repairing, outfitting, reconditioning, or otherwise placing in good working order, any defense articles for the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States, including services and expenses in connection therewith..$175,000,000

[C] For necessary services and expenses for carrying out the purposes of the act of March 11, 1941, not specified or included in the foregoing........$285,000,000

[D] For administrative expenses $10,000,000

Altho the supplemental appropriation, as prepared by Smith, would

FOG, RAIN DROWN HITLER'S HOPE OF BLITZKRIEG: REDS

Plan Giant Reserve Force of 25 Million Men.

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 (AP).—The soviet union began assembling its almost unlimited man power today for the creation of the greatest reserve military force in history—estimated unofficially at not less than 25,000,000 men—while early autumn fog and rain were declared to be swallowing Hitler's last hope of quick and decisive victories.

Announcement of Premier Stalin's new conscription of every man between 16 and 50 years old not already in service to train after working hours in the use of weapons was accompanied by declarations that for Russia the struggle had just begun.

Blitzkrieg "Done for Winter."

Asserting that the German general staff faced the approaching winter with no further hope for a blitzkrieg in the east, the official organ of the soviet armies, Red Star, nevertheless warned:

". . . but we must realize that the war will be long and severe."

"Realization of this measure [for conscription] is of enormous significance in the entire course of the people's war against German Fascism," Red Star added. "Our nation never was the slave of the Germans or any other enemies and shall not become a slave now."

[Regular soviet troops already in the field against the Nazis are estimated at 9,000,000 and, the British have said, Moscow also has another 4,000,000 trained and equipped and ready to go into action at any time.]

The program, which will not interrupt civilian production, will go into effect on Wednesday, Oct. 1.

"Heavy Fighting Everywhere."

While the tremendous preliminary work necessary to this measure went forward, the soviet command maintained its now characteristic reserve about the situation on the far-spread fighting fronts.

A communique reported only a continuation of heavy fighting everywhere and a series of offensive successes for the Red air fleet; it said nothing specific of the situation either about Leningrad in the northwest or in the lower Ukraine and Crimean area.

Soviet bombers were declared to have been active particularly in the Dnepropetrovsk sector of the Ukraine, where a German troop and ammunition train was reported destroyed, and before Leningrad, where it was claimed that 15 heavy German tanks and 20 trucks were smashed.

Nazi air dromes along 2,000 miles of front were said to have been heavily attacked.

Exiled Regimes to Reveal Views on F.D.R.'s 8 Points

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The views of the various governments in exile on President Roosevelt's eight-point "Atlantic charter" will be the first subject for discussion when the Inter-allied council meets next week. Other questions will include the restoration of foreign investments and ownership; exchange of stocks, bonds and shares in holding companies and banks and reimbursement of investors in war ruined property.

Fighting on the Russian Front

WOMAN CORPORAL, 41, GOES A.W.O.L. AND GETS DEMOTED TO RANKS

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—The "smiling corporal" of the auxiliary territorial service, Frances Maud McConchie, 41 years old, the first woman to be court martialed in this war, was reduced to the ranks today for being absent without leave.

Hundreds of girls who walked out of the women's services have watched the case as a possible precedent for action in their cases. At the court martial Sept. 1, it was stated for the prosecution that Corporal McConchie asked leave from the A. T. S. but when the group commandant would not release her she said she would "walk out." She was missed from the unit June 1 and was taken in custody at her home Aug. 2.

The defense argued that any one who absented herself before July 1, when the A. T. S. came under military law, could not be apprehended by a civil power.

U. S. NAVY BARES TRAINING GIVEN BRITISH AIRMEN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Training of British aviators by the United States navy at the Grosse Isle, Mich., air station was disclosed here today. The British students are given preliminary work known as "elimination flight training" with specialization in the work of pilot, observer and air gunner.

British students work alongside American aviation students, with their expenses charged against lease-lend funds.

Terminate French Mandate Over Syria; Pick President

DAMASCUS, Syria, Sept. 18.—Termination of the French mandate as a step in the joint British-"Free French" plan to grant Syria sovereignty and independence, was announced by Gen. Georges Catroux, "Free French" commander in chief of Syria, in a letter published here today. Sheik Mohammed Tajeddin Alhassani was invited to become president of the Syrian republic, a position he held twice under the mandatory régime.

ARMS PRODUCING TOWN CAPTURED, GERMANS CLAIM

Report "Rapid Progress" for Ukraine Drive.

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP). — Germans claimed tonight the capture of a key city of the soviet armament industry in a drive so swift that the Russians had no chance to dynamite the water and electric plants as they had arranged to do.

Identity and location of the city, said to be of 30,000 population, were not disclosed in the account by DNB, the official German news agency, but the high command reported that in the Ukraine "offensive operations east of the Dnieper are progressing irresistibly." That region is highly industrialized.

Elsewhere, authorized German sources said sharp Russian counterattacks directed at an occupied town on the central front were repulsed, while the high command claimed "great successes" in fighting around the fortifications of besieged Leningrad.

Claim Collapse of Attacks.

The central sector counterattacks collapsed when the Russians suffered "bloody losses" and the Germans took hundreds of prisoners, 18 tanks, and four cannon, DNB declared.

[The Russians have told of great successes in a counteroffensive before Smolensk on the central front.]

The high command's only detail concerning Leningrad credited sections of a single infantry division with storming 119 Russian pillboxes. German sources, however, described both Nazi and Finnish forces as fighting tediously forward thru mine fields and barbed wire encircling the city.

They said big German guns now were battering away at all of Leningrad, rather than merely at military objectives, since the Russians had elected to defend the great port to the death.

Nazi Airmen Raid Cities.

The German air force reported successful raids on both Leningrad and Moscow last night, bombardment of several railroad stations and tracks behind the Russian central lines, including destruction of a trainload of gasoline, and air attacks which cost Russian motor columns considerable losses in men and materials east of the Dnieper.

DNB said "especially important warehouses in encircled Odessa were set afire," and that out in the Black sea a 10,000 ton Russian transport was sunk and another of 8,000 tons was damaged.

Classmates' Advance

Commander T. De Witt Carter, executive director of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, and Commander Charles P. Cecil, former executive director, have been selected for promotion to captaincies, the navy department announced yesterday.

Cecil is now assigned to destroyer division No. 11, having left the training station last June. Carter and Cecil were classmates at the United States naval academy, graduating in 1916. Carter is a native of Huntington, W. Va., and Cecil's home is in Louisville, Ky.

MAJOR'S WIDOW FREED ON BAIL IN HIS KNIFE DEATH

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 18 (AP).—Mrs. Marie Tucker today pleaded innocent to a charge of slaying her husband, Maj. George A. Tucker, Fort MacArthur battalion commander. Judge Edward H. Brand released her on $5,000 bond, pending trial December 8.

Deputy District Attorney Albert Colegrove informed the court that "if Maj. Tucker's death turns out to be murder at all, the district attorney's office feels it will not be murder in the first degree."

The diminutive, 39-year-old widow, mother of three children was indicted two weeks after her husband's body had been exhumed and knife wounds studied by the county autopsy surgeon. Maj. Tucker died several days after he was wounded in his San Pedro home after a cocktail party.

RUSSIA'S CRIMEA A BATTLEGROUND THRU CENTURIES

Large Iron Ore Deposits Among Its Riches.

The Crimea, toward which the Germans are driving and which British sources have reported cut off from the Russian mainland, has been a frequent scene of battle since ancient times and is of immense strategic importance.

The Crimea is a peninsula in the southernmost part of European Russia. It is almost an island surrounded by the Black sea on three sides and the Sea of Azov on the northeast. Two narrow necks of land connect it with the mainland.

The Crimea, 15,060 square miles in area and with a population of about 761,000, is an autonomous republic in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The land rises gradually from the sea in a series of steppes, the northern slopes yielding good grain and fruit crops.

Naval Base at Sevastopol.

Near Kerch, at the straits leading into the Sea of Azov, are large iron ore deposits. Iron, salt, and limestone are principal exports and tobacco and cotton also are cultivated extensively. Other industries include shipbuilding and tanneries.

A railway from Kharkov on the mainland in the Ukraine crosses the peninsula from north to south, terminating at Sevastopol on an inlet of the Black sea. Sevastopol's harbor has become the most important naval station in southern Russia, now being exclusively a naval port.

The earliest inhabitants of the Crimea were Celtic Cimmerians, who were expelled by the Scythians in the 7th century B. C. In succeeding centuries, the peninsula was overrun by Romans, Goths, Huns, and Mongols. It was conquered by the Turks in 1475 and annexed by Russia in 1783.

Charge of Light Brigade.

The Crimean war, 1854-56, found England, Sardinia, France, and Turkey aligned against Russia, which had threatened the balance of power by trying to occupy Constantinople [Istanbul]. One battle of this war was at Balaklava, eight miles east of Sevastopol. Here occurred the tragic charge of the British light brigade which is immortalized in Tennyson's poem.

England and her allies successfully laid siege to Sevastopol late in 1855 and this led to the defeat of the Russians. The integrity of the Turkish empire was guaranteed by treaty the next year. In 1918, during the World war, the Crimea was occupied for a short time by the Germans and the Turks.

JAPAN CHARGES RED MINES SINK SHIPS OFF COREA

TOKIO, Sept. 18 (AP).—The Japanese government protested to Russia today over sinking and damage to Japanese vessels which, it said, was caused by floating Russian mines in the sea of Japan.

The sea also is traversed by United States tankers en route to Vladivostok with gasoline for soviet planes. The Japanese note specifically warned of the danger to vessels of either Japan or "third powers."

The announcement said a Corean sailing vessel was sunk Sept. 1 off Nishisuira promontory at the northern edge of Corea by a mine which drifted from fields about Vladivostok during recent storms in that area. Nine Corean fishermen were said to have been lost. It said other mines also had been found.

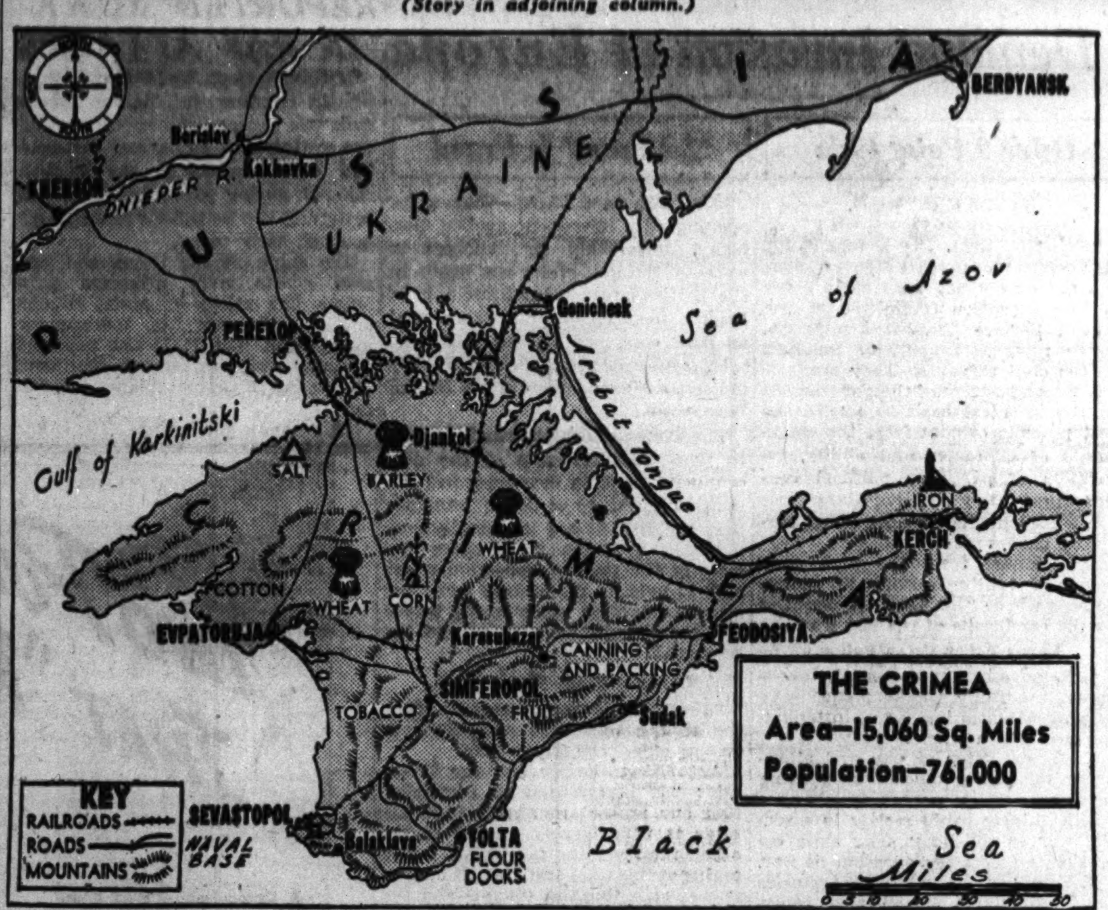
The foreign office statement said the Japanese had filed the "most categorical protest" also on the explosion of a mine under a fishing boat Sept. 10 in which four men were said to have been killed.

GIRL KILLED IN CRASH.

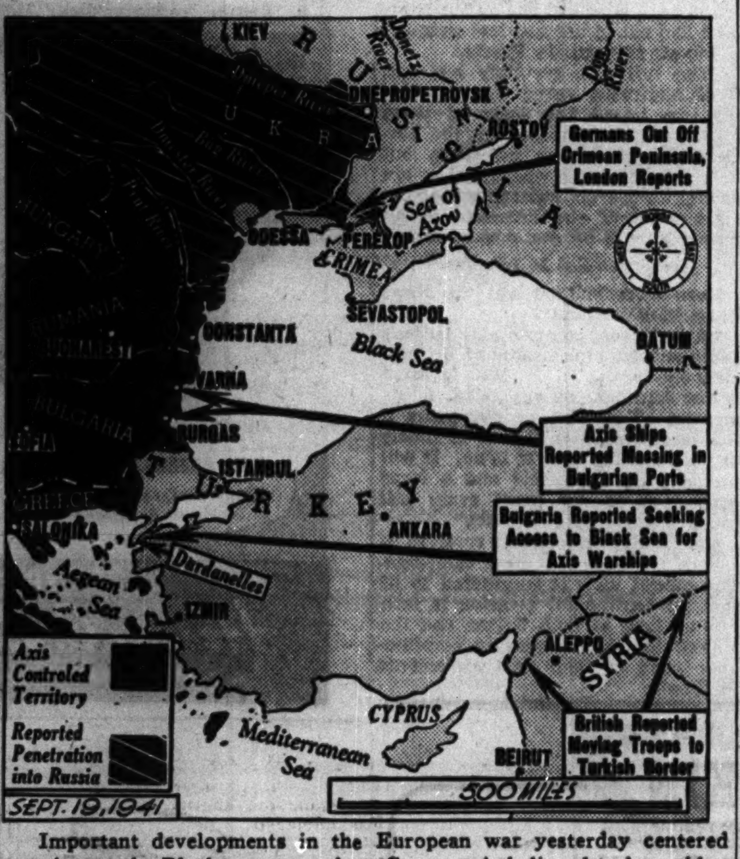
Taylorville, Ill., Sept. 18 [Special].—Miss Donna Howard, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, Morrisonville, was killed early today when the automobile in which she was riding struck the rear of a transport truck. Lamar Nankes, 17, Morrisonville, driver of the car, and Miss Evelyn Weitekamp, 16, also of near Harvel, are in serious condition.

Report Crimea Cut Off by Advancing Germans

(Story in adjoining column.)



Economic map of the Crimean peninsula, which was reported in London to have been cut off from Russia by the German army of the south. The peninsula is doubly important because of its port facilities on the Black sea.



Important developments in the European war yesterday centered attention on the Black sea area, where Germany is believed to be making a determined effort to pinch off the Crimea in an effort to reach the Donetz basin.

CHILEANS SEIZED AS CONSPIRATORS, NAZIS DISCLOSE

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP).—Several Chileans—the exact number undisclosed—have been arrested in Germany on suspicion of engaging in activities hostile to the reich, authoritative sources announced today.

"We regret being compelled to take such measures," one informant asserted, "but reasons of state make them imperative. We are in war and it is essential to eliminate all elements intriguing against us."

Disclosure of the arrests was made in connection with a query concerning 27 Germans taken into custody in Chile.

Nevertheless, Adolf Hitler cabled the president of Chile congratulations on the occasion of Chilean independence day, which is today.

Thirteen Germans, 10 alleged chiefs of Nazi organizations and three officials of German business houses, were held for investigation at Santiago, Chile, last Thursday night. One of them, Otto Zippelius, was a former instructor to the Chilean army.

Husband Decides to Drop Mrs. Husband, His Wife

Thomas N. Husband, 34 years old, 30 South Sacramento boulevard, became one without a wife yesterday. Judge Joseph Sabath granted him a divorce on grounds of desertion from Gertrude Husband, 30, who left him three months after their marriage in 1930. Husband remained one 11 years before becoming a bachelor again.

NAZIS FIX 9 P. M. CURFEW AS PARIS TERROR REPRISAL

VICHY, France, Sept. 19 [Friday]. (AP).—The Germans announced today that new and severe restrictions would be applied to the entire population of Paris as reprisals for attacks on German occupation troops.

A three day curfew was ordered, beginning Saturday. Traffic in the Seine region will be prohibited from 9 p. m. to 5 a. m. and all theaters, public restaurants and places of amusement will be required to close at 8 p. m. Violators will be arrested and held as hostages. German army units were ordered to patrol all streets.

An order signed by Col. Gen. Heinrich von Steulpnaegal, commander of occupation troops, said "I will no longer allow the lives of German soldiers to be threatened by murderers."

Norway Invokes Death Act.

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 18 (AP).—Penalties ranging up to death for acts which "disturb or endanger security, economic life, and labor peace" are provided in a decree published in the official Norwegian Gazette today.

Strikes, lockouts, industrial sabotage, and agitation and "wanton decrease of work" are included among the list of acts for which severe penalties are provided.

A second decree extends the jurisdiction of the German schutzstaffel, or élite guards, and of the German police thruout Norway.

33 SUE CROWDED REFUGEE VESSEL FOR FARE REFUND

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—Suit filed in Brooklyn federal court today against the Spanish freighter Navemar by 33 of 700 passengers, who arrived last Friday on the ship, asked for refund of fares ranging from $375 to $605, plus $20,000 each in damages, for a total of $676,500 in indemnities.

Their petitions said that the ship, with normal accommodations for 28 passengers, was jammed and unsanitary, altho they were assured adequate and sanitary conditions when they purchased passage at Marseilles.

Mexico Asks All Americas Settle Peru-Ecuador War

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18 (AP).—Mexico formally proposed a collective Pan-American effort tonight to end the border hostilities between Peru and Ecuador, in a message to the United States, Argentina, and Brazil. The conflict was described as threatening the "moral and political cohesion of our hemisphere."

REDS NEED FLOOD OF WAR SUPPLIES, LONDON ASSERTS

Claims Soviet Must Have Aid to Avert Disaster.

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—A warning that Russia must have a swift flood tide of war supplies or face military disaster and, perhaps, capitulation, came tonight from a London source in a position to speak with authority.

With the Crimea apparently cut off by Germany's Ukrainian advance and the Red army's losses in men and tanks described as astronomical, this informant said a flood of materials is essential to continuation of Russian resistance.

He cited figures to the end of August showing the Russians had lost 3,000,000 men and the Germans, 2,000,000. Moreover, he hinted that Red army losses in tanks constituted one of Russia's most serious blows, and he disclosed that the Germans were repairing captured tanks and using them in their offensive.

Survey of Reds' Position.

The British, the informant continued, have opened an effective railway and highway route to Russia thru Iran [Persia], and this can be turned into a supply artery for the Russians, once the supplies are forthcoming.

These expressions of authoritative opinion coincided with the gloomiest of surveys of the Russian military position in the south.

Isolation of Crimea, now regarded here as fact, means the loss to the Russians of service on Crimea's only railway and main highway across the Perekop isthmus. Thus, it was explained, Crimea cannot easily be reenforced when the Germans bring to bear the full force of their attack.

This, the London sources expected would come soon in a land-air-sea offensive to seize not only Crimea but the industrial Donetz basin. They considered the present threat to Crimea to be more grave than that to heavily fortified Leningrad, in the north.

Crimea Little Protected.

No such fortifications protect the Crimea, on which the Germans are reported advancing on a broad front. The peninsula is connected to the mainland by two narrow strips of land, the wider barely five miles across, and contact with the mainland would have to continue by sea, probably by way of Rostov which is exposed to all the dangers of German air and naval attack.

London sources were pessimistic, too, about the effect on either the German Ukrainian drive or the siege of Leningrad of Russia's counteroffensive in the central sector of the long eastern front.

The Red army successes in the center, they said, are too far distant from either the Leningrad or the Ukrainian salients to constitute a real threat to the flanks of the advancing Nazis.

RAF TAKES OVER PILOT TRAINING; CUTS SALARIES

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 18 (AP).—Purported resentment over high salary guarantees was said today to have led the RAF to take over training of American pilots for the British Atlantic ferry service.

Reliable informants said the nearby Eagle Nest flight center, previously used by Atfero for such training, would be utilized by the army air corps. Atfero is a Canadian corporation formed to recruit civilian pilots to ferry American made bombers overseas.

The original Atfero contract with the Eagle Nest flight center made it possible for pilots to earn $25,000 to $40,000 a year under a system of bonuses and salaries of $1,500 a trip. With the RAF taking over the ferry service it was understood the salary guarantees would comprise two trips a month at $500 a trip, with no bonus provisions.

Britain's King and Queen Visit 3d Canadian Division

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—King George VI. spent seven hours and Queen Elizabeth five hours today with the 3d Canadian division, which only recently arrived in this country and now is "somewhere in England." To a signal corps soldier who was taking down a wireless message lefthanded, the king said: "I used to write lefthanded, but was corrected."

Seek Radical British Shakeup; Demand Invasion of Europe

Offer 9 Point Plan

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Demands for nine radical changes in government and in war policies were made today by the executive committee of the Civil Service Clerical association, which represents many of Britain's 400,000 civil servants. They are:

1. Recomposition of the government on the broadest basis to secure the best possible cabinet from the standpoints of character and ability, regardless of party or political considerations.
2. Purge public services of all surviving appeasers.
3. Eliminate from the high commands of fighting services all incompetents whose "horizons are bounded by the conditions of the last war."

Favor Freer Press Policy.

4. Remove ban on communist newspaper, the Daily Worker; encourage helpful criticism instead of intimidating press as a whole.
5. Review rates of pay and allowances for junior officers in fighting services.
6. Eliminate profit motive in essential war establishments by state operation, at least for duration of war.
7. Establish in all war factories joint production committees representing management and labor.
8. An early declaration, at least in general terms, of British war aims.
9. Immediate establishment of a western land front.

Simultaneously, the national Liberal party council conference in London adopted a statement on postwar policy, suggesting an all-party conference of members of parliament to consider changes in the electoral system whereby true representative government can be achieved.

Favor American Coöperation.

The Liberals also demanded development of "coöperation between the British commonwealth and the United States and the building of a still wider area of political and economic coöperation embracing other nations."

Lord Chancellor Simon warned against too much state control. "A free press is the very lifeblood of British liberty," he said. "You cannot have a free press without capital and you cannot have capital simply provided by the state. If you did you would be left with a press which would have the monotonous uniformity of the press in Germany, and I cannot see how an Englishman would ever come to that."

Leading production engineers also met today and rejected the suggestion of state operation of the war factories, recommending that manufacturers be entrusted with the task.

'2d Front' Is Urged

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—Clamor for opening of a new front against Germany, presumably by landings in western Europe, broke out again in the British press today after a brief respite inspired by disclosure that an RAF wing had arrived in Russia.

[It is believed the British have 4,000,000 soldiers under arms in the British Isles alone.]

The Times, which ordinarily is slow to join press criticism of the government's policies, devoted a full column editorial to a sober reminder that the British are universally convinced the nation must make the most of the present opportunity not only to help on the eastern front but also to "develop other fronts where the enemy will have to expend his strength."

Indicate Time Won't Wait.

"No feeling is more discredited than the feeling that time necessarily is on our side," the Times said.

Appraising the air war the Times said: "It is essential to remember that our present immunity from air raids is very largely due to causes other than victory in the air battle raging at this time last year. It may be true enough that that victory and the casualties inflicted on the enemy's trained airmen have prevented him from launching an air offensive simultaneously on two fronts, but there is not the slightest doubt that he would have launched one on our front if he had not to use and lose so much of his air strength in Russia.

"The luftwaffe certainly has suffered enormous losses there, and it may be hoped the scale of these losses will be increased by the participation of British machines, but it is most doubtful whether they are enough to prevent switching over the main force of the luftwaffe to renewed attacks on our own country."

Army to "Rot in Idleness."

Even more pointed was the News Chronicle's demand:

"Are we, too, going to play Hitler's game and let him dispose of his enemies one by one? . . . Will invasion of the continent be any easier in six months, 12 months, or two years if Russia is broken thru lack of timely diversion? The answer is no. It will probably be impossible and a large proportion of our great army will rot in idleness on our coasts."

Official British quarters received in silence the renewed press campaign. The official view is considered to be that no continental invasion is feasible as long as both Britan and the United States are sending considerable parts of their own armaments to Russia.

4 NAZI WARSHIPS REPORTED SUNK IN RAF ATTACKS

LONDON, Sept. 19 [Friday] (AP).—British bombers and fighter planes sank two German minesweepers and two anti-aircraft ships, and damaged four other vessels in the English channel during extended operations yesterday, the British air ministry announced early today.

The ships off the Dutch and Belgian coasts were plastered with bombs and raked by aerial cannon and machine gun fire, the communiques said. The RAF also reported offensive sweeps over the continent, destroying 16 German planes and losing 11.

[A German announcement said the RAF lost 16 planes including three bombers in a raid on the coastal zone. Two other bombers were shot down in an attempt to bomb a German ship in the channel, the announcement said.]

Hits were scored on a power station at Rouen, France, despite heavy ground fire. Thursday's raids followed night attacks on Karlsruhe, Germany, and St. Nazaire, France.

Spain and Manchukuo Sign Friendship Pact

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 18 (AP).—A treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation between Spain and the Japanese controled empire of Manchukuo was signed today by Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner and the Manchukuo chargé d'affaires, Kwan Matsumura, a Japanese.

THE 1941 "In the Wake of the News Book"

On sale all over Chicago and suburbs today, the 1941 "In the Wake of the News Book" is just about the biggest dime's worth of joy and fun you can find inside the covers of any book—or outside them!

It's as full of zip as a circus, as full of color as a flower show; it's as heart-warming as a carol heard on Christmas Eve.

Between the gaily colored covers of the 1941 "In the Wake of the News Book" are captured the year's best contributions to the famous "In the Wake of the News" column conducted by Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune sports editor.

Here in 64 exciting pages are merry jests, sharp satires, loony japes and whimsies closely related to the higher forms of lunacy. And, now and then in the midst of the happy riot, you'll run across a bit of sturdy homespun philosophy, or a lyric that will do things to your heart, or your throat or your eyes—or to all three.

The 1941 "In the Wake of the News Book" contains 607 separate items—449 in prose; 158 in verse.

Get your copy of the 1941 "In the Wake of the News Book" today! When doing so make it a point to get some extra copies to send to your friends. Price, 10 cents; by postpaid mail, 13 cents. On sale at newsstands, bookstores, and

350,000 BULGAR TROOPS MASSING, TURKEY REPORTS

Hint of German Move on Suez Canal Seen.

ANKARA, Turkey, Sept. 17 [Delayed] (AP).—Balkan informants reported tonight that Bulgaria had mobilized 350,000 men in a continuing call to the colors and that German road building experts were feverishly constructing highways in south and southeastern Bulgaria which would be useful for any land-sea action directed toward Suez.

Three German divisions and other Nazi units also are in Bulgaria, these persons reported—in addition to the "Organization Todt" which is building the military roads under high pressure.

In old Jugo-Slavia, the same informants said, 600 German engineers are directing thousands of Serb laborers in repairing the Belgrade-Nis and Salonika-Sofia railroads, which are essential to eastern Mediterranean military movements. The former was destroyed by the Serbs.

British Move Northward.

On the other hand, a diplomatic observer just arrived from Syria said the British were moving artillery and other military units northward toward the Turkish frontier in a steady stream.

A reported axis attempt to get Italian warships into the Black sea via the Dardanelles by "selling" them to Bulgaria appeared doomed to failure, if, indeed, the attempt was seriously made.

Today the Turks informed the British that Bulgaria had made no proposal for transit thru the straits of any Italian destroyers and submarines. It had been reported that the axis was planning such a maneuver in order to strengthen its forces in the Black sea, where Russian sea power is predominant.

Turks to Refuse Passage.

In any event, a well informed source said, the Turks would refuse flatly to permit the passage of any warships thru the Dardanelles unless they were owned by "real neutrals."

Presumably this would exclude Bulgaria, which is technically not at war with any of the present belligerents. The Montreux convention which controls operation of the Dardanelles bars the passage of belligerent warships, unless they are on missions sanctioned by the league of nations covenant.

In a recent note Russia accused Bulgaria of coöperating in German plans for an attack on Russia by way of Bulgarian soil, and there have been persistent reports of the assemblage for aggressive purposes of 100 to 200 small ships in the Bulgarian Black sea ports of Burgas and Varna.

SAYS 2 MILLION GREEK CHILDREN FACE STARVATION

New York, Sept. 18 [Special].—More than 2,000,000 children in Greece face death by starvation this winter as a result of looting by the German army, Laird Archer, foreign director of the Near East Foundation, said in a report today. His report agreed with another on the situation in Greece contained in a cable received by Nicholas G. Lely, Greek consul-general.

More than half of Greece's ordinary milk production has been taken away by the butchering of cattle and all of her imports are stopped, Archer said.

Archer, who arrived here on Sept. 2, said the foundation's work is being carried on by Greeks. Americans were withdrawn on request of Italian authorities, who gave guarantees to the Greek war relief association to permit it to take in foodstuffs from Turkey.

The cable to Lely said that about 600 persons are dying every day from starvation and that meat prices have risen tenfold, sugar sixfold and potatoes twentyfold.

Japs Read the Tea Leaves —and Save 'Em for Feed!

TOKIO, Sept. 18 (AP).—Japan set out today to salvage used tea leaves for animal fodder. The agriculture ministry reported it expected to collect abou 30,000,000 pounds annually from hotels, stores, government offices and banks. Women's organizations and school children will conduct the campaign.

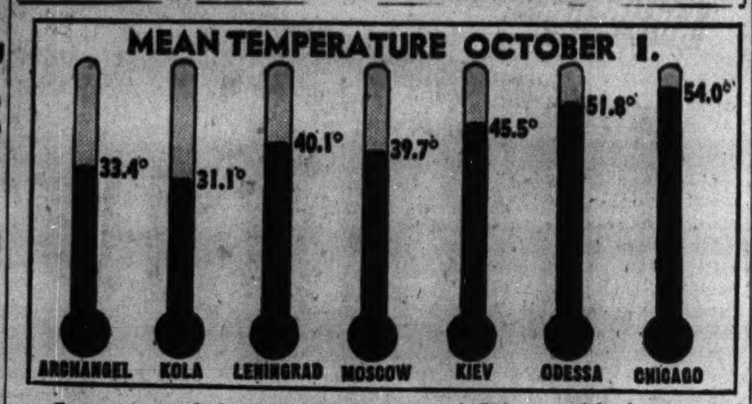
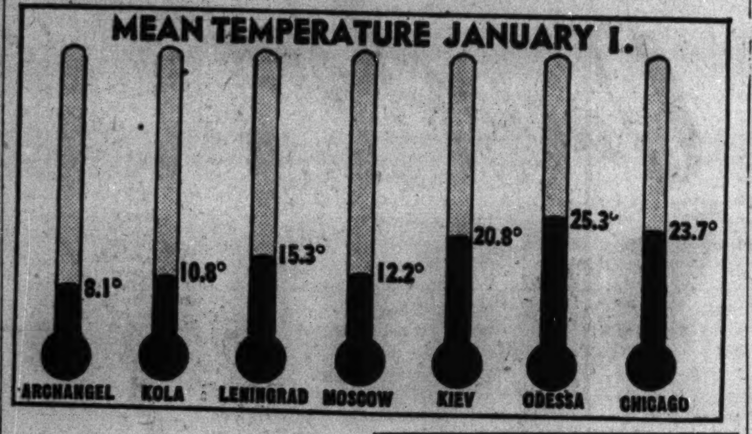
Temperatures in Russian Cities



Comparison of the mean temperature of Chicago with the mean of various soviet Russian cities on Oct. 1 (above) and Jan. 1 (below).



HERE'S WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR WAR ON RUSSIAN SOIL

Autumn Short; Snow Early; Winter Severe.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Now that the first snow has been reported in Finland and rains have set in thru western Russia, what are the fall and winter weather prospects along the Russo-German battlefront?

"The autumn season is unusually short in European Russia," says a statement from the National Geographic society. "Snow may replace rain in the central and northern sections any time after Oct. 1. The days grow much shorter and frosts quickly become sharp at night.

"The September mean temperature of more than 51 degrees fahrenheit in Moscow and Leningrad drops to about 40 degrees in October. The November mean falls slightly below the freezing mark in both cities while in December it is 22 degrees in Leningrad and 18.5 in Moscow. January is still colder—a mean of about 18 in Leningrad and less than 14 in Moscow.

Temperatures Similar.

"Since western Russia is open country, with no mountains, temperatures in general are similar, altho in the Ukraine above freezing weather lasts slightly longer. Kiev's September mean is 56 degrees, dropping to 45 in October, about 33 in November, less than 26 in December, and 21 in January. On the Black sea coast Odessa, with a mean of 62 in September, reaches a freezing mean only in December. Odessa's fall and winter temperatures are comparable with those of Portland, Me.

"Altho the actual autumn rainfall in western Russia is not especially heavy, it plays havoc with transportation because of the poor quality of the roads. The average September rainfall in Leningrad and Moscow is little more than 2 inches; Chicago, by way of comparison, normally has about 3 inches in September. Around Kiev and Odessa normal rainfall is even lower than in the north.

"November and December are referred to as the period of the 'little winter.' Northern rivers freeze in November, while ice forms on the Ukraine rivers usually in December. The Dniester river, in the southwest, is icebound for an average of 70 days a year. The Volga in its upper and middle reaches is frozen about 150 days.

Sea of Azov Frozen Across.

"By January even the large rivers have frozen, and nearly all the country has a temperature below the freezing mark. Only the southern Crimea, 'the Russian Riviera,' and the southwestern shore of the Caucasus isthmus escape. The Sea of Azov is frozen across, and icebreakers are needed occasionally to keep open such Black sea ports as Odessa. Shores of the Gulf of Finland are blocked by ice from early November to April. On the other hand, a warm current from the Atlantic ocean makes Murmansk on the Arctic coast a year-round ice-free port.

"What will be the effect of the severe winter weather on armies in Russia? For a possible answer, look back over the Russo-Finnish war in the winter of 1939-'40. Blizzards caused intense suffering among the troops, snow drifts delayed the advance of tanks, and storms often grounded planes. In other words, winter slowed up but did not actually prevent hostilities."

Spain Sentences Ex-Chief to Exile; Takes His Fortune

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 18 (AP).—The Court of Political Responsibilities today sentenced Juan Negrin, premier of Republican Spain in the Civil war, to 15 years exile, fined him his entire fortune of $10,000,000 and recommended that he be stripped of Spanish citizenship. Negrin already is in exile, having gone to Mexico after the Nationalist victory in Spain. Luis Jiminez de Asua, former vice president of the cortes, also in exile, was sentenced to 15 years of exile, fined $8,000,000 and confronted with loss of citizenship.

SON TO GIVE OLD SHAH'S FABULOUS WEALTH TO IRAN

Prepares to Free Father's Political Prisoners.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEHERAN, Iran [Persia], Sept. 18.—The possessions of fabulously wealthy Riza Khan Pahlevi, abdicated shah of Iran, will be turned back as a gift to the country by his son, the new ruler, it was announced today by the government.

Mohammed Pahlevi, the 21 year old shah, also has decided to free all political prisoners of his father's regime during which vast territory and valuable property were expropriated. When he gave up his throne this week because of British and Russian accusations that he was aiding the axis, Riza Khan was reputedly the richest man in Asia.

Owned a Province.

Among his private holdings was almost all of Mazanderan province. Revenues from monopolies, hotels, motor transport and many stores and factories swelled the royal pocketbook. Much of his money was banked in the United States and England while he was modernizing the ancient Persian kingdom with industry and a new transportation system.

The former shah's funds in the national bank already have been attached to pay government salaries. It was decided at a secret parliamentary session prior to the taking of the oath by the new shah to seize the property and to initiate reforms in taxation and spending and abolish the corrupt sale of state property to private individuals.

The British minister, Sir Reader Bullard, has received instructions from London to recognize the new regime, but the Russian attitude is not yet known.

Iron Out Difficulties.

At a meeting of the British and Russian staff officers and diplomats yesterday the Reds agreed to withdraw from a machine gun factory on the edge of Teheran which the British had selected as their own barracks durir the joint occupation which was ordered to hasten Iranian compliance with peace terms. The British are moving in today. The British brigade headquarters will be the summer legation at Semran, in the hills eight miles from the city.

Italians Go to Iraq.

The Italian legation staff was to depart late today for Bagdad, Iraq, where they will take a train for Italy. Tomorrow 350 Italian residents will leave if transportation is available. Four other Italians, who are considered dangerous, will be interned.

It was reported that the first group of Germans to leave Teheran now are at Basra, Iraq, and from there are to be taken to Australia instead of India.

F.D.R. SAID:

(Aug. 14, 1936)

"I have seen war on land and sea. I have seen blood running from the wounded. I have seen men coughing out their gassed lungs. I have seen the dead in the mud. I have seen two hundred limping, exhausted men come out of line—the survivors of a regiment of one thousand that went forward 48 hours before. I hate war.

"I wish I could keep war from all nations, but that is beyond my power. I can at least make certain that no act of the United States helps to produce or to promote war."

3 EGYPTIANS DIE IN AXIS AIR RAID ON ALEXANDRIA

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 18 (AP).—Two bombs were dropped on the Alexandria area in an air raid last night, killing three persons and wounding six, but causing only slight damage, the Egyptian government announced today. The British naval base is located there.

The RAF and aircraft of the Mediterranean fleet bombed shipping at Bengazi and Tripoli, and stores at Bardia, Libya, last night, the British command said. Munitions factories at Licata, Sicily, were raided by daylight yesterday.

British and South African mechanized forces captured 10 German tanks which thrust across the Egyptian border from axis-held Libya four days ago, the British middle east command reported today. The British lost one armored car.

[Rome dispatches, admitting RAF bombings in Sicily and North Africa, said 10 persons were wounded in Licata and "casualties and damage" were inflicted in Libya. An Italian submarine was reported to have sunk a 3,000 ton "hostile" ship carrying armored cars in the Mediterranean.]

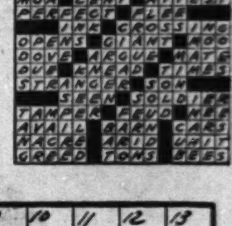
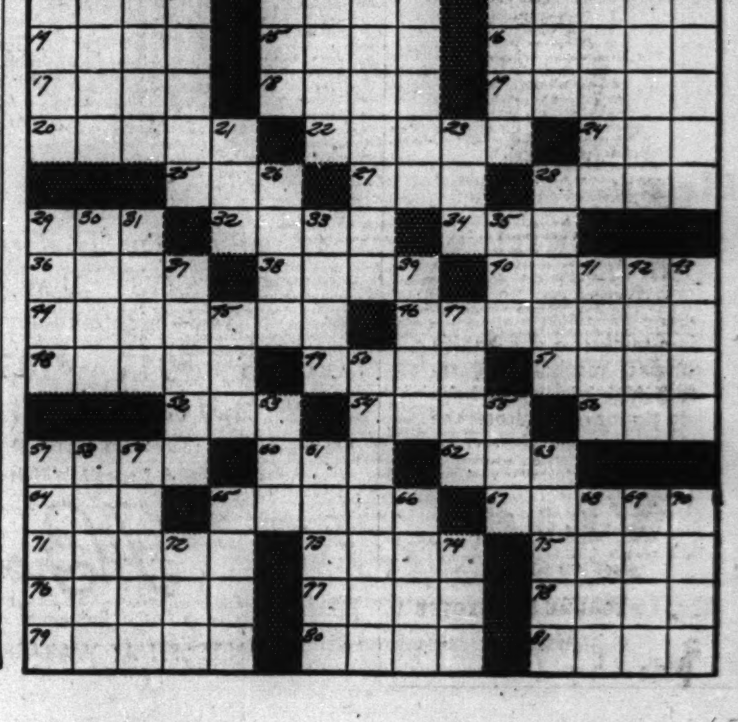
PUZZLE OF THURSDAY, SEPT. 18, SOLVED





REVEAL SECRET WAR FINANCING OF REDS BY U. S.

Millions Given as F. D. R. Denies They Need It.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Communist Russia, which has been pictured by high administration officials as having ample cash for war purchases, has been the secret beneficiary of war credits since last Aug. 15, it was disclosed today.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., not to be surpassed by the 50 million dollars in credits granted Russia by the Reconstruction Finance corporation announced yesterday by Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones, declared today that he also had helped the Russians along financially with 10 million dollars in treasury funds more than a month ago.

During the same period administration officials, including President Roosevelt, insisted that the communists had plenty of cash to pay on the line for purchases in the United States. They wouldn't even need lend-lease aid, they claimed.

Cash Basis, F. D. R. Claims.

On Aug. 1 Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference that American aid to the soviets was strictly on a cash basis because they were able to pay. On Aug. 4 all material aid short of credits was promised to the Russians in an exchange of notes between Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and Russian Ambassador Constantine Oumansky, in extending for one year the commercial agreement. No mention was made of credits, only the facilitation of filling Russian orders.

Again on Aug. 16, while returning from his ocean conference with Winston Churchill, the President told correspondents that Russia would not qualify for lend-lease aid because she could pay for war equipment.

Called Gold Advance.

On the preceding day, according to Morgenthau, 10 million dollars was advanced to the Russian government against gold which the communists were to ship to the United States over a period of 90 days. Morgenthau said he didn't know whether any of the Russian gold had reached this country to pay off the balance. In fact, no Russian gold has arrived since a shipment of $3,407,285 in the week ended Aug. 13, and that the first in more than a year.

Morgenthau said this advance was "a new type of transaction" made with the approval of Secretary of State Cordell Hull after conferences with Oumansky.

Jones prepared the way for a Russian loan, however, on Aug. 20 when he invited Russians to borrow American dollars, probably on the security of a promissory note. But he said there was no indication that the soviets would need to ask for a loan, altho if that nation purchased any large quantities of war materials in this country she probably would not have the ready cash to pay for them. The Russians then had 10 millions in their jeans.

50 Millions Advanced.

Under the agreement announced by Jones yesterday, the Reds obtained 50 millions in credits, of which 10 millions was released yesterday as advance payments on raw materials to be delivered by the Russians over a period of 2 or 3 years. The government pledged to buy a total of 100 millions in materials such as manganese, chromite, asbestos, and platinum. The remaining 50 millions will be made available as goods are delivered. None of the materials is en route.

The way is still open for an outright RFC loan of possibly several hundred million dollars, such as Jones offered last month. And the deal calling for an exchange of dollars for materials is believed only preparatory to the bigger financial aid to come, with no such strings attached.

Jones has expressed himself as favoring further aid as long as Russia keeps fighting the way she has been, and Morgenthau, when asked about Russia as a credit risk, said: "They have met every bill they have contracted for in this country and lived up to every one of their obligations in their dealings with me."

JEWISH GROUPS ASSAIL SPEECH OF LINDBERGH

New York Sept. 18 (AP).—The American Jewish committee and the Jewish Labor committee, denouncing Charles A. Lindbergh's Des Moines, Ia., speech, asserted tonight in a joint statement that "our interests and those of our country are one and indivisible."

Declaring that Lindbergh "made an unsupported and unsupportable charge impugning the patriotism of Americans of Jewish faith," the statement said:

"As individuals each one of us has a right to his views, whether for or against isolationism, without fear that Mr. Lindbergh can intimidate any of us with the low and baseless charge that there are other 'interests' which we place ahead of loyalty to our country.

"He warns Jews to support his policy on the ground that any other attitude would lead to anti-Semitism. We will not put even what he considers our 'interests' before those of our country—since our interests and those of our country are one and indivisible."

Boy Missing a Day Is Found in Field 6 Miles from Home

Richmond, Cal., Sept. 18 [Special].—Robert Salmon, 4 years old, was placed safely in his mother's arms tonight after being missing since yesterday morning. Robert was found in a hayfield six miles from his home today. More than 700 persons took part in the search.

Barrier Against Violence.

Smith proposed that "no part of any appropriation contained in this act shall be used to pay the salary or wages of any person who advocates, or who is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence."

However, it was specified that any person could clear himself of any suspicion of affiliation with such groups by signing an affidavit which would state that he does not advocate overthrow of the government or belong to any organization which does.

The signing of such affidavits, it was said, would clear persons who have belonged to such groups in the past. It was said that the signing of such an affidavit would be prima facie evidence of the Americanism of the signer.

Smith would have any person who is found to have wrongfully signed such an affidavit to be guilty of a felony and fined no more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year or both.

AMERICA FIRST TELLS PLAN TO INTENSIFY DRIVE

The national committee of the America First committee, after meeting for several hours yesterday, announced thru R. Douglas Stuart Jr., national director, that it was engaged in mapping an intensified campaign to keep the United States out of war.

Douglas also said that the committee would shortly issue a statement commenting upon Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's recent address in Des Moines, Ia.

Douglas' statement: "The national America First committee met in Chicago today to discuss an intensified campaign in answer to the President's threat of an undeclared war in violation of the constitution. Col. Lindbergh's Des Moines address was discussed, and the national committee will issue a statement within a few days."

Black Horse Troop Gets Praise from Gen. Daley

Alexandria, La., Sept. 18 [Special].—The 106th cavalry of which Chicago's Black Horse troop is a part, has been commended by Maj. Gen. Edmund L. Daley, 5th corps commander, for its recent maneuvers. In a communication addressed to Lieut. Col. Charles R. Johnson, regimental commander, Gen. Daley stated: "Convey to the officers and men of your command my appreciation of their high morale and excellent services during the recent maneuvers. Their work continued the splendid record of performance which has characterized this regiment in field operations.

TEXANS ADVISE LINDBERGH HE'S NOT WELCOME

Austin, Tex., Sept. 18 (AP).—A resolution advising Charles A. Lindbergh that any purpose he has in opposing President Roosevelt's policies will not be served by visiting Texas was passed today by the Texas house of representatives. Lindbergh was reported to be planning a series of speeches in Texas.

The resolution, passed by voice vote, recorded the house's opposition to recent utterances of Lindbergh.

"Lindbergh ought to be shipped back to Germany to live with his own people," shouted Representative Tom W. Deen, Floydada farmer, preceding passage of the resolution.

"I think it is time this house should say to Lindbergh that we do not appreciate his presence here," said Representative Roger Q. Evans of Denison.

Representative J. K. Hileman of Atlanta said he disagreed with Lindbergh but "I'll die to defend his right to say what he wants to say."

Polish Premier to Visit Countrymen in Russia

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, Polish prime minister, announced tonight that he would go to Russia to visit his countrymen there. He disclosed this in a broadcast to Moscow in which he told 1,500,000 Poles, formerly prisoners but now released, that the fact that 200,000 of them now are fighting on the side of Russia means that "victory is more certain than at any previous time."

ARMY CAPTURES 3 SOLDIERS WHO KIDNAPED PAIR

Mineral Wells, Tex., Sept. 18 [Special].—Three army prisoners who escaped Monday from the guardhouse at Camp Wolters and abducted a soldier and his girl friend, were captured today after the biggest manhunt in west Texas in recent years. Airplanes and bloodhounds were used in the chase in which peace officers from a dozen counties participated.

Also in custody was the corporal of the guard, John Steinbaugh, who disappeared at the same time his prisoners escaped. It was originally believed they had forced him to accompany them, but army authorities did not disclose his status following capture.

Steinbaugh and one of the escaped prisoners, Audley McBride, surrendered at Cross Plains at noon. Half an hour later the other two fugitives, Roy Rankin and Walter Sakaitis, the latter formerly of Chicago, were seized on a highway nearby. None of the four was armed, altho riot guns were missing from the guardhouse. The three prisoners face charges of robbing a filling station at Ranger, Tex., and theft of a car.

1,597,810 Now in Army; 710,000 Are Conscripts

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The army was estimated today to total 1,597,810 officers and enlisted men. The war department said it included 710,000 conscripts, 535,510 regulars, 278,300 National Guardsmen, and 74,300 reserve officers.

DIRKSEN DOES AN 'ABOUT FACE' ON F. D. R. WAR ACTS

Colleagues Speculate on Reasons for Change.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] amazed other Illinois Republicans in the house today by making a speech urging united support of President Roosevelt's war policies. He had been a consistent opponent of the administration's intervention steps.

Representative Dirksen

Dirksen urged that "partisanship be submerged" in order to encourage what he termed President Roosevelt's efforts to avoid sending another expeditionary force to Europe. Specifically, he asked support of the administration's "shooting war" policy of protecting lease-lend shipments to Britain by convoying and other means.

See Willkie's Hand in Change.

There was immediate speculation among Illinois Republican members that their errant brother had been swayed by the blandishments of Wendell L. Willkie and perhaps might be swelling with ambition to run against Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] in the senatorial primary next year.

Willkie, the 1940 Republican Presidential nominee, who since has become a big munitions and international marine insurance man, and is engaged currently in defending the motion picture industry against the charge of propagandizing for war—for a reputed fee of $100,000—has intimated that he will undertake a one-man purge of the Republican party next year. Published stories inspired by Willkie have stated that he will go into the Republican primaries and support prowar candidates against anti-war candidates, just as President Roosevelt, in 1938, supported New Dealers against anti-New Dealers in the Democratic primaries, without conspicuous success.

Ambitious for Senate Seat.

Illinois Republican congressmen said Dirksen for long has aspired to a seat in the senate. They had supposed that he would wait until 1944 and seek the seat now held by Scott W. Lucas, Democrat, who supports the President's war policies. But after hearing the Dirksen speech today Republican members from Illinois wondered whether he intends to run against Brooks, a leading noninterventionist, on the theory that the country will be actively engaged in the war and the President's policies will triumph.

Dirksen, whose home is in Pekin, Ill., is serving his 5th term in the house of representatives.

Calling himself a "moderationist" rather than an "isolationist" or an "interventionist," Dirksen rejected the possibility of ending the European war by agreement.

"The American people have plumped for victory," he said. "That leaves but one result—the defeat of the axis powers."

Offers 6-Point Program.

Dirksen then set forth a six point program which, he said, would conform to the framework of popular conviction. He asked for [1] a moratorium on hate, [2] candid and temperate criticism, [3] commendation for the President and secretary of state for their conduct of relations with Japan, [4] providing Great Britain and other anti-axis countries with such funds and supplies as they may require.

For his fifth point Dirksen urged support of "the efforts of the President to keep out of war and conform to the desire of the American people to avoid the experience of the expeditionary force of 1917."

"Sixth," Dirksen concluded, "the President has announced a policy of patroling and clearing the waters which are deemed necessary to our defense and for the maintenance of freedom of the seas. That policy is now known to all the world. To disavow or oppose that policy now could only weaken the President's position, impair our prestige, and imperil the nation."

Loosen your belt—and relax! You've heard plenty of sound facts to back up higher prices—for everything from ships to sealing-wax. Now listen to a different tune!

Bond prices are NOT going up—thanks to you! Yes, you—for your part of Bond's huge volume is one of the stepping stones that makes this exciting announcement possible.

Here's how! Last year, your purchases of Bond clothes came to 32 million dollars. This year you're boosting it to 45 million. With such overwhelming support, you nerved us to move fast—to our mutual profit. Knowing what was in the cards, we signed for Fall woolens and trimmings almost a year ago. Today, all things considered, instead of facing a very stiff increase in costs, ours is only 7%. Score one, for Bond volume!

Now score two. By keeping prices down, we expect to wipe out much of that 7%. Keeping prices down will hold the good will of our present army of boosters. Keeping prices down will win thousands of new friends. Keeping prices down—with still larger sales to make up the difference—will be good business, for us and for you! We can still hear the applause of 1937, when most stores raised prices and we didn't It's going to happen again in 1941.

And how about quality? Briefly—as long as there's a Bond shingle over a Bond store, there'll be no compromise with what your dollar buys. Were we faced with the need of juggling values to keep prices down, Bond prices would go up tomorrow. We've already said we are taking no chances on losing customers. Neither are we taking chances on losing our good name.

You will continue to get the finest woolens our money can buy. You will continue to get Bond needlework at its best from our own plants. You will continue to get two trousers with every suit. You will continue to get the convenience of a Bond Charge Account—with extended payments—at no extra cost. And you will pay not one cent more than you did last season!

Because more men wear Bond Clothes than any other clothes in America, we can now sit tight. To back up the government's wishes, this will be our policy until the load can no longer be shouldered alone. Then—and then only—may we ask you to help foot the bill.

This, gentlemen, is Bond's way of doing business!

PLAN STAGGERED WORKING HOURS TO CUT TRAFFIC

Surface Lines and Motor Club Join Program.

BY HAL FOUST.

Staggered working hours are being planned to relieve evening traffic congestion, particularly acute on the near west side. The 4:30 closing hour for factories and the 5 o'clock closing hour for offices, established by custom and habit, are to be changed for enough employés to ease the homeward rush by spreading it over a longer period.

George Richardson.

The Downtown council, headed by George Richardson, is studying employment hours in loop offices. The staggered plan has been inaugurated in a few northwest side industries as a neighborhood project. The Chicago Motor club, the Chicago Surface lines and several civic organizations are drafting a scheme for the consideration of west side employers.

Congestion Is Increasing.

The scheme is not a new one. But recent increases in congestion, to an intolerable degree on the new west side, have aroused a new stimulus for adoption of this and other measures such as one way streets.

In Washington, D. C., with its swollen armies of federal pay rollers, the government early this year ordered different working hours for different offices since street cars, buses and automobile thorofares could no longer carry the load for a simultaneous punching of time clocks.

Pittsburgh is about to announce new hours in big industry offices in its tight triangle. From Montreal comes a report that hours are to be fixed and staggered by decree as a war measure.

In Chicago, it's to be a voluntary, coöperative program. On the northwest side, where the plan has been developed in more detail than it has for other neighborhoods, preliminary reports from employers indicate that between 40 and 50 per cent will be able to comply with the suggestions mapped for their consideration.

Worst Peak in Afternoon.

In eight square miles, extending four miles north and two miles west of the "Y" in the Chicago river, there are 344 plants with 55,000 workers. It was found that 50 per cent are due at work at 8 a. m. and that 40 per cent quit at 4:30 p. m. Of the resultant two traffic peaks, the one of the afternoon is worse, complicated by heavy truck movements and homeward journeys of shoppers.

The plan calls for the outlying factories in this northwest neighborhood to discharge employés as early as 3:30 so they will be on their way home, the street cars filled and gone and the streets cleared of their private cars before employés of factories closer in pass thru the vicinity. Different sections of the neighborhood are given different hours, those closest to the loop waiting until 4:40, 4:50, or 5 o'clock. They can be on their way before the 5 o'clock loop worker reaches the neighborhood.

Indorsed by City Engineer.

The plan was devised by William R. McConochie, traffic engineer for the Chicago Surface lines. While his interest is primarily in improving service for street car patrons, the scheme obviously functions for private car operators in the same way that it functions for the traction company. It has been indorsed by Leslie J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer, by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, and by George G. Traver, manager of the Greater Chicago Safety council.

$750,000 BOSTON FIRE HALTED NEAR WALLS OF PRISON

Boston, Mass., Sept. 18 (AP).—Flames that destroyed four Boston & Maine railroad freight sheds, forced the evacuation of nearby tenements and finally crept almost to the state prison walls were controled tonight after a two-hour battle that brought hundreds of fire fighters to the crowded Charlestown section.

Fire commissioner William A. Reilly estimated the loss at $750,000 and said the cause was undetermined. Five casualties were reported. A fireman's arm was cut badly, a Boston & Maine transportation company worker's legs were fractured, and a fireman and two sailors were treated for smoke inhalation.

The warehouses destroyed were being used for storage by the First National stores, a grocery chain. A fifth Boston & Maine warehouse was damaged greatly and quarters of the New England Pipe company and a roofing concern less extensively.

ROLE OF FARMER IN ROOSEVELT'S NEW ORDER TOLD

He's to Get High Prices (in Lease-Lend Cash).

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The rôle assigned to the farmers of the middle west in the Roosevelt administration strategy for achieving a new idealistic world order was described yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. He spoke at a conference in the Morrison hotel of 400 department of agriculture agents and farm organization leaders who will direct the new program which calls for an increase of 15 per cent in the output of food commodities.

Claude R. Wickard.

Farmers will need the "right kind of idealism" and the "determination to produce" to carry out their part in the program, Wickard said. He promised that the government will reward the farmers with high prices for meeting the production quotas which had been announced previously in Washington, D. C.

Lease-Lend Cash Provided.

At a press conference following his address Wickard disclosed that the department of agriculture would have at its disposal one billion dollars of lease-lend funds with which to carry out its guarantee that farmers get a good return on the commodities in which production increases are sought. The information on the funds made available to carry out the food program was transmitted to him from Washington after he had made his address, Wickard said.

The objective of the new farm policy, Wickard said, is to produce enough food to provide for all domestic requirements, meet the commitments made to Great Britain, and provide for a great food reserve that can be used by the United States to dictate the kind of peace it wants when the war in Europe is over.

"We want to help organize a world order in which free men can live in peace with their fellows and find favor in the eyes of their creator," Wickard said. "Our influence at the peace table will be greatly strengthened if we are able to provide food in plenty. Our willingness to feed the hungry will be proof that democracy has a heart."

Surpluses Gone, He Says.

"Sometimes I have to pinch myself to make sure I am not dreaming that we no longer have surpluses in lard and other fats," he observed. "But it's true."

Wickard was asked about the proposals made last week by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau for releasing surplus food products in order to hold down prices and check inflation.

"I did not read Mr. Morgenthau's speech," he replied. He stated further that he did not know that Morgenthau had urged the relaxing of import quotas on Canadian wheat.

Wickard outlined the commitments the United States has made for supplying food to Great Britain thru June 30, 1942.

Tells Britain's Needs.

"The British in that period will need a supply of cheese, evaporated milk, and dry skim milk that will require the processing of between 4½ and 5 billion pounds of fluid milk," he said. "They will need a billion and a half pounds of pork and lard—the products of about 9 million hogs. They need eggs—about 500 million dozen, the output of over 50 million hens—and they will need 18 million pounds of poultry meat. There are other items included in the food commitments, but the major rôle of good in America's defense across the Atlantic will be played by the products of the dairy cow, hogs, and chickens."

Wickard touched only briefly on the effect of the program on American consumers, who are paying greatly increased prices for butter, eggs, cheese, and pork as a result of the large government purchases of these products.

"American consumers are the most fortunate in the world," he asserted. "Almost everywhere else on the globe consumers are going on short rations."

STATE SEIZES 106 CASES OF LIQUOR IN CALUMET CITY

Investigators from the state department of liquor revenue yesterday seized 106 cases of liquor in the tavern of Olga Jerzyck at 630 State Line, Calumet City, for failure to have the new additional state tax stamps on the bottles.

The seizure was made by Lester F. Mahaffay of the liquor revenue office and a squad of state police under Lieut. Frank Maureno.

Jens Jensen, supervisor of the liquor revenue department, said more than 1,000 cases of liquor have been confiscated in Cook county since the new stamps were ordered placed on the bottles July 1. He said the confiscated liquor is sold and the money turned over to the state.

Over Here a Man Still Can Hunt With a Dog

Man cannot live by blitz alone.

It's good to be in a country where—war or no war—.330 is more likely to mean a batting average than the caliber of a cannon; where a straight-arm is a football tactic, not a craven salute. Yes, it's good to be in a country where a man still can hunt with a dog.

Sports have always been part and parcel of this nation's way of life. Collier's, the National Weekly, gives its multimillion readers sports as it gives them war—with authority, color, brevity and speed.

Notable sports articles are traditional with Collier's—have been clear back to the first All-America football teams. In the last year Collier's has published outstanding sports articles at a rate of more than one a week, covering twenty-two kinds of sport—always top-notch, always timely.

Right now when chill mornings herald the coming of fall, man turns to his gun and his dog. Is there a bond more strong, a tie more storied, than the love of a man for his dog?

No one who likes to hunt—no one who has even a slight fondness for a dog should fail to read "How to Train a Hunting Dog" in Collier's out today.

★ ★ ★ ★

Collier's presentation of sports is a major manifestation of that same editorial feel which makes the magazine penetrate a little more deeply each week into the lives of its millions of readers. Top fiction, firsthand war coverage—everything in the magazine calls forth a Reader Response no advertiser can afford to disregard.

The letters we get, the reprinting of Collier's articles in other publications around the world, the velocity of movements set afoot by Collier's—all these confirm our belief that Collier's is closer to its millions of readers than any other multi-million magazine.

This study of Ariel, national field trial champion, was photographed by W Eugene Smith. The beautiful pointer appears in full color on Collier's cover.

AND WHEN AN ADVERTISER GOES HUNTING—

Wilson Sporting Goods Company ran a double spread in full color in the May 31st issue of Collier's, advertising the full line of Wilson sports equipment.

A letter from L. B. Icely, President, just received, says in part:

"I believe that few advertisements published by any industrial organization have brought such remarkable response on so many fronts. Consumers responded—we have enjoyed a substantial increase in sales. Buyers for retail stores have commented enthusiastically on the effectiveness of the promotion. Leading financial and business leaders have written us congratulatory messages.

"The reproduction was excellent; you broke all speed records, I believe; and the all-out merchandising aid you have given us shows a splendid spirit of cooperation. You have delivered all you claimed for your publication with a healthy plus."

LEGION ELECTS L. U. STAMBAUGH AS COMMANDER

Convention Comes to a Placid Close.

BY THOMAS MORROW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—The American Legion national convention moved to a placid conclusion today with the election of Lynn U. Stambaugh, a Fargo, N. D., attorney, as national commander.

Stambaugh's selection was made unanimous after it developed that Edward N. Scheiberling, an Albany, N. Y., attorney, could poll but 319 of the 1,474 votes with most of the states counted. At this point Scheiberling and a third candidate, Raymond Fields, a Guthrie, Okla., newspaper publisher, moved for a unanimous decision.

Assurance to Caucus.

"I can assure you," Scheiberling early this morning told an Illinois caucus which supported him, "that I have refused to make any deal to trade votes for my influence in the election of the next national commander.

"I may go home a defeated candidate, but I will go home with self-respect. I value that more than the national commandership."

Scheiberling's defeat was said to have been the result of his refusal to join a new edition of the plan under which commanders are chosen in the back room for years in advance. A deal in New York five years ago was reported to have set in motion the recent succession of leaders.

Four Recent Commanders.

Those favored in the New York deal were Daniel Doherty of Massachusetts, Stephen Chadwick of Seattle, Wash., and Ray Kelly of Michigan. The deal was reaffirmed in Boston, Mass., last year, according to reports, and Milo J. Warner was the machine candidate.

Scheiberling's refusal to bargain assured the success of Stambaugh, who, according to reports, is to be followed next year by Roane Waring of Tennessee, who will retire in favor of Warren Atherton of California the following year.

Nicholas Hubbard, state senator from Illinois and a delegate, left for home with a denunciation of the strong war resolutions passed by the convention.

"To use a convention of an organization like the American Legion to support the efforts of a war mongering group is contemptible," he said. "The delegates should ask themselves this question: 'For whom are the four freedoms?'"

Canada Honors Warner.

As a final act of the convention Warner, the retiring commander, was presented with a gold badge symbolizing his appointment as honorary dominion president of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service league. The presentation was made by Alex Walker of Calgary, Alta., dominion president of the Canadian Legion.

The resolutions committee brought in a resolution which was designed to answer the plea of Hanford MacNider of Iowa, past national commander, for the American Legion to show some "guts." MacNider had asked the convention to go on record in favor of asking a statement on whether the present war is the concern of the United States.

If it is our war, MacNider said, the President should tell congress and congress should tell the people. He had been assured that such matters would be covered by a resolution from the resolutions committee.

Text of Resolution.

The resolution, adopted, read:

"Whereas unity of purpose in the present peril to our nation can only be accomplished and the American way of life preserved by a full adherence to our constitution embracing as it does freedom of discussion and informed congressional action, now therefore be it

"Resolved, that as such procedures are adopted and decisions reached, the Legion stands ready to completely support them and to assist in their interpretation to an understanding by all the people. This to the end that there may be no disunity among us as we move forward to defend our nation and its liberties."

MacNider Is Caustic.

On seeing the resolution, MacNider made no attempt to get the floor.

"What's the use fighting something you can't understand?" he observed. "If that's the answer to my request for guts in the Legion, I don't know what it means."

The convention rejected a resolution proposing the drafting and conscription of all resources, including capital, labor, and industry, and approved a substitute which urged a cessation of strife in armament industries. It also urged congress to "practice a sacrificing economy in nondefense expenditures."

All this came shortly after William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, made a speech pledging full support to the armament program.

"There should no longer be any doubt in the minds of thinking people as to the real purpose of the leaders of the totalitarian governments of Europe," said Green. "It is clear and certain that the American way of life is endangered by the aggressive sweep of the Nazi-Fascist armed forces in Europe and their attempt to destroy freedom of the seas.

"The defense program does not necessarily mean involvement in war; it is insurance against war ever reaching the western hemisphere. As long as Hitler is kept busy in Europe, we know he can't come here. As long as the enemies of Hitler in Europe are powerful enough to resist his onward march, there is a possibility that he may be defeated on his own battle ground.

"The time is opportune now for the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, and other like-minded groups to resolutely determine that American tradition, democracy, freedom and liberty must be maintained at any cost. Regardless of what others may do, we must ever remain a self-governed nation. The entering wedge of Fascism, Nazi-ism or communism must never be permitted here."

Mrs. Mary W. Murrill, Sictuate, Mass., was elected to head the Legion auxiliary. She defeated Mrs. Martha Dixon, Americus, Ga.

LEGION'S CHIEF SAYS HE'LL BACK PRO-WAR PLANK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—Lynn Upshaw Stambaugh of Fargo, N. D., newly elected national commander of the American Legion, said today that he considered himself bound to carry out the prowar policies adopted by the Legion in a series of resolutions voted thru on the convention floor.

Stambaugh indicated no dissent from Legion declarations that all other controversies should be suspended until Hitler's defeat is assured, that an overseas force should be authorized by removal of all geographical limitations on troop movements, and that the neutrality act should be repealed.

Stambaugh was born 51 years ago in Abilene, Kas., is a law graduate of the University of North Dakota, and has practiced for 28 years. He served 22 months during the World war, 13 months overseas. He started as a private, assigned to the 338th field artillery, and was commissioned a second lieutenant while serving in France in July, 1918. He attended the field artillery school at Saumur, France.

INFORMER SUES POLICY KINGPIN AND POLICEMAN

Suit for $10,000 was filed yesterday in Circuit court against George P. Jones, colored boss of the south side policy racket, and Policeman William Davis, colored, charging that they harassed and falsely imprisoned a gambling informer who gave evidence against Jones and his two brothers when the government was preparing to prosecute them for income tax evasion.

The damages are asked by Ezra Leake, colored, an ex-convict, who described himself as a former manager for the Jones brothers in the operation of the policy game. Leake was arrested by Davis last year on a complaint that he carried a concealed weapon and had assaulted George Jones. He was found not guilty. In court he accused Davis of acting as bodyguard for Jones.

Edward P. Jones, one of the brothers, is now serving 28 months in federal prison on a plea of guilty to a charge of evading $198,786 in income tax. George Jones and the third brother, McKissack, who also were indicted, were freed. The three brothers are reported to have compromised the government's civil claims by paying more than $500,000.

ARMY INSPECTS RADIO CONTROLED AERIAL TORPEDO

Vallejo, Cal., Sept .18 (AP).—Army officials expressed keen interest today in a strange looking, radio controled aerial torpedo developed by a Mare island navy yard engineer.

They watched his experiments with a 6 foot working model and recommended that he continue tests. Such a torpedo could open up a totally new branch of aerial warfare.

The winged torpedo, which operates on a gyroscope principle, is designed to fly at an altitude of 30,000 feet. Carrying a load of bombs it could be set to power dive into a designated enemy target, spraying bombs over a wide area.

John Hodgdon, former professor of engineering, developed the torpedo after experiments which began 30 years ago.

G. A. R. NAMES FORMER SAILOR AS ITS NEW COMMANDER IN CHIEF

Columbus, O., Sept. 18 (AP).—A 93 year old ex-sailor, George A. Gay of Nashua, N. H., today was elected commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Gay, who succeeds William Nixon of Jewell, Kas., served in the Civil war with the union Atlantic blockade fleet.

Thomas Ridenour of Crestline, O., the G. A. R. chief of staff, was chosen senior vice commander in chief. John S. Dumser of Oakland, Cal., was selected junior vice commander in chief, Dr. Edward H. Cowan of Crawfordville, Ind., surgeon-general, and the Rev. Joshua C. Peace of Denver, Colo., chaplain in chief.

WAR ISSUE TEST OF DEMOCRACY, SAYS REV. O'BRIEN

Majority Must Prevail, Peace Rally Warned.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 18 [Special].—President Roosevelt's recent "shoot on sight" speech indicates clearly that he has few if any scruples about breaking his promises not to drag the nation into war, the Rev. Dr. John A. O'Brien, professor at the University of Notre Dame, declared in a speech here tonight.

The Rev. John A. O'Brien.

The priest addressed a crowd at an anti-war rally in the Taft High school auditorium under sponsorship of the America First committee. The program was shared by Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.].

Dr. O'Brien declared that the crucial test of whether or not democracy still functions in America will be the ability of the 80 per cent majority opposed to United States' entry into the war to make their will prevail.

Promise Violated.

"The President's decree to begin shooting," Father O'Brien said, "is a flagrant violation of his solemn promise not to lead us into war and it goes directly against the will of the overwhelming majority of the American people.

"In every poll taken the people have shown their determined opposition to involvement in the squabbles drenching Europe with the blood of its youth. Are all these expressions of the popular will to be ignored? Is our boasted democracy to be reduced to an idle mass?"

People Must Not Fail.

Asserting that there isn't a shred of ethical justification for this country's entrance into the war, the Rev. Dr. O'Brien told his audience that the American people must not fail in this crisis.

"They must not allow themselves to be browbeaten by usurping officialdom, by bellicose radio commentators, news columnists, and a cinema industry which has prostituted its services for peace into the worst inciter of the passions and hatreds that lead to war," he said. "They must assert their constitutional rights as free men in a free nation."

COURT WILL HEAR PLEA TO CHANGE VOTING DISTRICTS

Oral arguments are scheduled today before the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield on the suit brought by State Representative Anthony W. Daly [D., Alton] to erase the present congressional districts on grounds that the districts, created in 1901, vary greatly in population.

In their joint brief filed recently, Attorney General George F. Barrett and State's Attorney C. W. Burton of Madison county, the jurisdiction from which an appeal was taken, contended that there is nothing in the constitution of the United States, the constitution of Illinois or the federal statutes imposing any requirement concerning the populations of the various districts.

In a reply brief, Representative Daly and his associate counsel, Emerson Baetz, also of Alton, continued to place chief reliance on section 18 of article II. of the Illinois constitution, requiring that all elections be free and equal, and the contention that existing inequalities permit some citizens only fractional votes for congress.

CHICAGOAN GAINS ARMY RELEASE UNDER AGE RULE

The first Chicago conscript known to have been ordered released under the selective service amendment exempting men 28 years old or over is Private John M. Skodon, 33, who has been assigned to the transportation division of the Chicago induction station since his induction last Jan. 21. He was notified yesterday that he will be discharged from the army Sept. 27. Skodon's wife, Helene, is a teacher in the McKay elementary school. They live at 5408 Aberdeen Street. After his discharge he will return to his civilian job as assistant editor of the Building Supply News, 59 East Van Buren street.

ARMY CREATING FIRST AIR BORNE INFANTRY UNIT

Carry Jeeps, Cycles, and Mortars.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—The war department today announced the impending organization of the first air borne infantry battalion at Fort Benning, Ga., Oct. 10. The battalion, which is to coöperate with parachute troops, will be equipped with jeep reconnaisance cars, motorcycles, and folding bicycles.

The unit, which is to be designated the 88th air borne battalion, will have an initial strength of 500 men. Men for the organization are to be selected from volunteers. The first 50 will come from the 9th division at Fort Bragg, N. C., and 450 from infantry replacement centers at Camp Croft, S. C., and Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Carry Mortars, Machine Guns.

The battalion is to be composed of two rifle companies, one heavy weapons company and a headquarters company. Each rifle company will be equipped with motorcycles, jeeps, and bicycles. Of the 280 infantrymen in the battalion 40 will ride bicycles and 140 motorcycles. The heavy weapons company will be equipped with 60 mm. and 81 mm. mortars and 50 caliber machine guns.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, in announcing the organization, said transport planes have been assigned to the unit. He would not disclose the number.

He emphasized that the air borne battalion is not to be confused with parachute troops altho its members must have the same qualifications. The air borne troops, he said, are to be transported and landed by plane and not dropped from planes.

Champman in Command.

The new battalion will be commanded by Lieut. Col. Elbridge G. Champman Jr. who served with the 5th machine gun battalion of the 2d division in the World war. Col. Champman won the Distinguished Service cross and the silver star with oak leaf clusters during the war. He is now on duty with the tactical department at Fort Benning.

The new battalion will be used to test various equipment. After its equipment and tactics have been standardized its trained men will form the nucleus of other units.

Winning Drum and Bugle Corps Is Welcomed Home

Members of the Commonwealth Edison post drum and bugle corps were given a tumultuous welcome home yesterday following their third triumph in the national bugle corps competition at the American Legion convention in Milwaukee, Wis. The musicians were met at the Congress street terminal of the Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee railroad and were tendered a reception in the Commonwealth Edison assembly hall. A 75 pound cake was cut in their honor.

ARMY TO DOCK PAY OF 43 SOLDIERS TO REIMBURSE TAVERN

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 18.—Leaves for soldiers at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis army post, were restored today in what appeared to be the final incident following the wrecking of a tavern here Monday night by 43 troopers.

Capt. William Keefe, of the post's public relations department, said that 43 men, identified as participating in the foray, will have a total of $150 deducted from their pay to reimburse John Terss, tavern owner, for damage.

Leaves of 9,000 men at the army post were cancelled for 24 hours to permit military police to round up guilty men.

LIKE TO TRY YOUR WINGS? JUST HOP INTO THIS GADGET

Young men interested in aviation were invited yesterday to inspect a special type of ground training device installed in a State street store as a part of Retailers for Defense week. The trainer represents the cockpit of an airplane complete with instruments, switches and flight controls, and by means of electric motors it can be made to simulate flight maneuvers.

A flying officer from the naval air base at Glenview, Ill., has been detailed to the store for 10 days to demonstrate the trainer. Those who wish may make simulated flights to determine their probable aptitude as pilots.

Accuracy of flying in the trainer is determined by a beam of light that shines on a chart two feet in front of the device. Prospective pilots are asked to control the "airplane" so the light follows a figure eight path traced on the chart.

INVADING BLUES SEIZE CONTROL OF SKY IN DIXIE

Defenders Find All Roads Blocked; Tanks in Bog.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Natchitoches, La., Sept. 18.—The air force of the Blue 3d army, which is mythically invading this country from the Gulf of Mexico in the vast training exercises here, had a field day today as its fast and heavily armed planes held control of the skies over the defending Red 2d army.

Wave after wave of bombing and fighting planes were sent over the columns of Red forces driving southwestward with armored forces as a spearhead.

Only two or three Red planes appeared to contest control of the air. From headquarters came the explanations that many of the Red planes had been grounded after being "destroyed" in Blue bombing raids on hidden airports and that other Red ships were engaged in aerial work back of the Blue lines.

Cannon Planes Used.

For the great airplane and tank fight, the Blue army threw into action its cannon firing fighting planes which in war would fire explosive armor-piercing shells. It is the first time that the planes, which are swift, single seater fighters, have been used for anything except attacks upon other planes.

Dive bombers of the Blue air force heavily attacked road after road filled with Red tanks, troops and trucks. Red unit commanders appeared unwilling to leave the highways. Even the 3d army's 400 mile an hour pursuit planes were theoretically equipped with 500 pound bombs in the assault on the 2d army's two armored divisions.

The main objective of the Red junior commanders appears to be cross roads. One senior officer here in the rôle of observer commented that the enemy could obtain an easy victory if he concealed men in bushes near roads and captured Red trucks and columns as they marched past.

Tank Divisions Bog Down.

Red tank divisions completely bogged down in an attempt to utilize their speed in a sensational flanking movement. Liaison officers reported the tanks had proceeded only about three miles in 24 hours.

Blue forces organized an effective defense against attackers from the north by placing a field piece on each side of roads every few hundred yards and by theoretically blowing up bridges. Each time a tank unit encountered a gun emplacement it had to stop and fight, which consumed time and lost vehicles.

A great obstacle to tank movement is the inability of the machines to leave roads and go across country on account of the dense undergrowth and water holes. Altho there is plenty of standing water here, the scarcity of drinking water for both the soldiers and cavalry is a serious problem.

Coach Company Adds 25 Buses to Chicago Fleet

The Chicago Motor Coach company yesterday added 25 single deck 40 passenger buses to its fleet, making a total of 518 coaches in operation. The latest additions were acquired from the New York City Omnibus corporation and have been driven an average of 170,000 miles apiece, but are of the modern streamlined type used in Chicago. The company has 35 new buses on order, but delivery is not expected until the first of the year because of the armament program.

TWO IDENTIFIED AS BANDITS.

Richard Lucas, 17 years old, 6827 Evans avenue, and Edward Davis, 18, of 711 East 69th street, both colored, were arrested yesterday and identified by John H. Chamberlain, 6109 Kenwood avenue, as the men who robbed him of $13 Wednesday night.

TO WHAT LENGTH DOES A SMART COAT GO?

The smartest topcoat in the wrong length for you (particularly if you're short) will give you the look of someone stepping out of a 1904 Cadillac. Current fashion calls for shorter topcoats. The short man needs his about knee-length to give him the illusion of height. Current styling, with the simplicity of its lines, leaves the entire matter of smartness up to length.

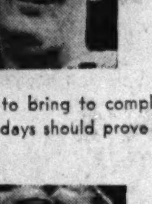
3. Prizes shall be payable only to the persons whose photographs are selected and published in the Daily Tribune. 121 photographs and readings will be published each week. Entries for each week's awards must reach the Tribune by noon Thursday preceding the week of publication. All photographs received during the offer and until midnight, November 4th, will be considered for the Grand Prizes.

4. This offer is open free to everyone—regardless of age or residence, excepting employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families. Age will not be published. No photographs will be returned unless Return Postage is inclosed. Due to the enormous interest the Tribune cannot engage in any correspondence on this subject. Entrants agree to accept the judgment of Doris Blake as final in all matters.

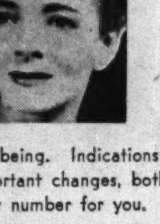
NOTE THESE READINGS:

TED WILLIAMS



Oct. 30th. You were born under the sign of Scorpio. Your ruling planet is Mars. Most people with as much enthusiasm as you have fail in tenacity but you do not. You are inclined to take big risks and must guard against going to extremes. You like to be well thought of and sometimes disregard the warnings of your best judgment about people. Indications are that October should be a good month for you to bring to completion any matters that might now be pending. Tuesdays should prove favorable days for you.

HELEN HAYES



Oct. 10th. You were born under the sign of Libra. Venus is your ruling planet. Yours is the rare combination of keen sensitivity balanced by self control and innate wisdom. You are extremely kind, consistently generous and sometimes foolishly extsavagant with money. You are an independent thinker, but value peace at any price, since harmony is important to your peace of mind and your physical well-being. Indications are that you are on the threshold of many important changes, both personal and professional. Six should be a lucky number for you.

NOTICE:—

TODAY, you can obtain the first of the 10 NEW SYMPHONIES in Chicago's New 1941 Music Appreciation Offer. Beginning this morning at 9 o'clock, we start distributing the famous "New World" Symphony by DVORAK, his No. 5 in E Minor.

This symphony comes to you complete, in a magnificent and inspired interpretation by one of the world's outstanding symphony orchestras and conductors—on 5 large-size, 12-inch, double-faced records (10 sides).

BRILLIANT AND STIRRING

Of all the thrilling moments in symphonic music, there are few that surpass the dramatic surges with which Dvorak emblazes themes taken "From the New World." Richly melodic, fiery in intensity, this glorious work traverses the entire range of human emotions in a triumphant musical monument that has won the rousing acclaim and sincere affection of music lovers the world over.

Now, this brilliant symphony can be yours—complete—AT AN INCREDIBLY SMALL COST. Now, you can bring this symphony into your own home—for your constant hearing and re-hearing—for your continual enjoyment and inspiration.

Come in today to be sure to get your recordings of this great symphony.

The 10 new symphonies included in this New 1941 Music Appreciation Offer will be released at the rate of one symphony each week, in accordance with the list printed at the left. Note the names of the illustrious symphonies and symphonic masterpieces in this group. Think of the rare musical delights in store for you and your family. Consider the joy of possessing Tschaikowsky's revered "Pathetique" Symphony . . . Beethoven's soul-stirring "Eroica" Symphony . . . Brahms' majestic First Symphony. Here are 10 magnificent symphonies that truly pay tribute to the public's growing taste for good music . . . 10 symphonies that rightfully deserve a place in every home.

ALL RECORDS ARE THE LARGE 12-INCH SIZE (DOUBLE-FACED)

The Wedding of Art and Industry
A CULTURAL TRIUMPH FOR AMERICA

For many years, America's civic, cultural and educational leaders have sought to bring the cultural and spiritual values of good music to the great masses of people. Huge contributions have been given toward the support of symphony orchestras, and philanthropists have made huge bequests for the founding or continuation of music schools, all to the end that more and more people might experience the enjoyment of good music.

About two years ago, out of a desire to advance the cause of music in the District of Columbia and to render a cultural service to its community, a prominent newspaper, the Washington Star, launched the campaign that has since served as the model for all succeeding Music Appreciation campaigns.

The Star's campaign was based on the idea of supplying to its readers valuable phonograph records for a mere fraction of their customary cost, coupling the distribution with an extensive editorial and advertising program to induce readers to play the records frequently.

In order to distribute valuable symphonic records for a small sum, it was necessary for all orchestras and conductors to accept no royalties, but to receive instead only a single recording fee; furthermore, for the record manufacturers to reduce costs to what they considered their lowest practical operating minimums; to make further savings it was necessary that the distribution of the records be made from one central point, which in that case was the newspaper office.

Public response was beyond all expectations. In less than three months approximately 50,000 symphonies were distributed in the District of Columbia, with the result that educators and music authorities throughout the United States enthusiastically studied the Washington distribution and quickly prepared to secure the same benefits for their respective communities. Music Appreciation Committees representing the civic, cultural and educational leaders of each community were formed to sponsor the local distributions.

New 1941 Distribution Begins in Chicago This Morning at 9 A. M.

The new 1941 distribution of symphonic recordings is undertaken in recognition of the tremendous acceptance accorded the first series of symphonies. The new symphonies include the more impressive symphonic works as well as the more popular.

These new symphonies, like those distributed in 1940, represent the recordings of some of the world's greatest symphony orchestras and conductors. Neither orchestras nor conductors receive any royalties on these records, nothing more than the standard recording fee, thus co-operating to keep costs down to a minimum, and place these symphonies within the means of the greatest possible number of people.

Steadfastly, the sponsors of Music Appreciation distributions have maintained that if music is to be democratic in appeal IT MUST BE DEMOCRATIC IN PRICE; that the cost of hearing good music must be reduced to the point where it is within the reach of every family in the land.

PUBLISHERS SERVICE CO. DISTRIBUTES THE RECORDS

The recordings included in this Music Appreciation offer are distributed by Publishers Service Company, Inc., one of America's most prominent newspaper services, an organization for profit. Publishers Service supplies the records on consignment and turns over a portion of the receipts to the Chicago Society for Music Education, a non-profit organization which, in turn, pro-rates the receipts among musical groups of its selection in Chicago. Since the beginning of the Music Appreciation movement in Chicago last year, the Chicago Society for Music Education has distributed more than $30,000 in benefits to four non-profit Chicago musical organizations, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Chicago Opera, the Ravinia Festival and the Chicago Woman's Orchestral Association.

HOW TO GET YOUR RECORDS

1. THIS MUSIC APPRECIATION OFFER is open to everybody. There are no requirements beyond the payment of the small amounts asked for the symphonies, and your statement that you are obtaining the records for your personal use and not for purpose of re-sale at a profit.

2. There are 10 symphonies. Each week, on Friday, for a period of 10 weeks, one of the symphonies will be released. The first symphony to be released will be Dvorak's Symphony No. 5 in E Minor ("From the New World").

3. The distribution will begin today, Friday, Sept. 19th, at 9 a. m., and will be conducted from the Distribution Headquarters of the Chicago Society for Music Education, 65 East Lake Street.

4. You obtain any symphony consisting of two double-faced, 12-inch records, 4 sides, for a payment of $1.19; any symphony of three double-faced, 12-inch records, 6 sides, for $1.69; any symphony of five double-faced, 12-inch records, 10 sides, for $2.39. Symphonies consisting of 6 double-faced records, 12 sides, have been divided into two groups of 6 sides each, and the price of each group is the same as that for any other three-record group. A quantity of symphonies will be made available in albums at a higher price.

5. Mail orders will be honored and filled in the order of their receipt. If you order by mail, add 2% Illinois sales tax and 25 cents for each symphony you select for postage, packing and insurance.

Distribution Begins This Morning at 9 a. m.

QUOTING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Perpetuating the Liberties.

I am exceedingly anxious that this Union, the Constitution, and the liberties of the people shall be perpetuated in accordance with the original idea for which that struggle was made, and I shall be most happy indeed if I shall be a humble instrument in the hands of the Almighty, and of this, His almost chosen people, for perpetuating the object of that great struggle.

A. Lincoln

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21, 1861.

THIRTY PIECES OF SILVER.

The official record of the American Legion convention at Milwaukee will show that it voted to send American boys to fight in foreign wars and for the repeal of the neutrality act. The only purpose of that repeal is to permit a warbound administration to create the incidents which it hopes will inflame the people to follow its suicidal course.

But the convention record will not show the backstage maneuvers and the card stacking by which the passage of those resolutions was procured. It will give no more than a hint of the trickery which, an opponent of one of the resolutions charged, was used to push it thru in advance of the time at which its opponents had been told it would be brought up for discussion.

The record will show that the clique in control of the convention saw to it that the official invitations to address the delegates were confined to such extremists among the war mongers as Secretary Knox and Mayor La Guardia. But it will not show that many members of that clique were themselves recently placed on the war mongers' pay roll, paid out of defense funds.

Secretary Knox is a pay roller. Mayor La Guardia is on two federal pay rolls, altho he may have had the decency to turn back his pay checks to the treasury so long as he is also being paid by the people of New York City. He should do so, if he hasn't. Paul McNutt is a pay roller. Raymond J. Kelly, past national commander, is a pay roller, paid by La Guardia's phony Paul Revere outfit to excite the middle west about air raids. Franklin D'Olier, another past commander, has a similar assignment in the east. The Legion's director of defense has also taken La Guardia's shilling. McNutt has found a berth for Capt. Watson Miller, former general counsel for the Legion. The war department is taking care of the former director of employment for the Legion and the former editor of its magazine.

That is by no means a complete list, but it alone represents a large segment of the men who have made a profession of Legion politics and who could be depended upon by their employers to deliver the convention. The war mongers' drive to obtain control of the convention was not difficult to achieve. No such project is difficult when men can be found willing, for personal gain, to betray the interests of those they are supposed to represent. There was only one defect in the plan, but that was a fatal one.

The preparations were so elaborate, the machinery was so obvious, that the result has lost any meaning in the public mind. Gen. Robert E. Wood, himself a Legionnaire, challenged the leaders of the Legion to submit the vital questions on which they presumed to speak to a referendum of the whole Legion membership. Had they done so the stand of the Legion would have had real significance. But they did not dare accept the challenge. What they did at Milwaukee is meaningless.

What happened in that convention will have one salutary, if perhaps unforeseen, effect. The least pleasing side of the Legion's past activities has been the constant pressing of its leaders for subsidies from the federal treasury, increasingly less related to any claim of service. Men who are so avid for war bar themselves from any subsequent claims to indemnities for its damages.

A FEEBLE REFORM.

The war department has established a new scale of age limits for officers on active duty with troops. It is predicted that the new age limits will result in the assignment of some 5,000 officers to less taxing duties, of whom only 500, however, will be on the regular army list. The order is a start toward a goal long neglected by the United States army, but it is a feeble start.

The age standards, according to the war department, are designed to insure that officers serving with troops "are within the ages that permit the efficient, continuous performance of field duty under the arduous conditions of modern field service." Yet captains may still be 42 years old. A captain must be strong enough to lead his men and to fight hand to hand. It is a tough assignment for a man of 42 to engage in physical combat with men in their 20s. It is not conducive to good morale. A regular army officer of 42 has spent 20 years in his profession. If that has not fitted him for greater responsibility than the command of a company he should be sent to second line duty.

Colonels, as field officers, must lead a life not much less taxing from the physical standpoint than that of the men in their regiment, and who must bear in addition the mental strain of command, may be as old as 55 years and still do field duty. That age is probably well above the average of the generals in the German army, many of whom are under 50.

Army officers as a class, it may be conceded, are usually in better physical condition than civilians of the same age. But physical fitness is not the only criterion. The aged mind, hardened by routine to antiquated rules of warfare, is an even greater menace to the efficient functioning of the army than physical disability in its officers, and age is probably as good an index to stuffy, old fashioned military ideas as can be found. The rejuvenation program still has a long way to go.

TO PREVENT INFLATION RESTRAIN THE INFLATOR.

Congress and the congressional committees should be able to get from the executive departments of the government factual information which is full and revealing. Unfortunately, however, the data which are often sent to the capitol by leading public officials are twisted and warped, and accompanied by misleading illustrations conveying impressions which are false.

The administrator of prices, Mr. Henderson, has appeared several times before the house committee which has been conducting hearings on a bill authorizing the government to control prices. He has testified to the sharp rise in the average price level. He neglected to point out that the average price level has been lifted by the action of certain groups of commodities. He did not tell the committee that farm products advanced 46 per cent, foods 32 per cent, and textile products 30 per cent since the war started.

He neglected to observe that the advance in these commodities has been entirely due to price raising activities carried on by the government itself. He did not make it plain that the price of every class of commodities except the three groups mentioned had risen by less than the average. Had he been frank, he would have had to admit that what is needed to keep prices down is a government which will stop doing what it has been doing deliberately to put prices up. The government has produced scarcity prices on a wide range of products when there is no scarcity. The cure for inflation would require the Roosevelt administration to restrain itself.

A chart on the financial page today shows that a market basket of groceries, which cost $4.21 when the war broke out, cannot now be duplicated for less than $4.85. This is an advance of 15 per cent. The poor grocers aren't responsible for that. The government reports that the wholesale price of food has gone up 32 per cent in the same interval. The wholesale price went up because of all the buying the government did. Even the secretary of the treasury demanded the other day that the department of agriculture sell some of its hoarded merchandise.

But Henderson is not alone in failing to be objective when he goes to congress with a bunch of figures. The President himself has not always set a good example. On Monday Mr. Roosevelt sent a report to congress covering lease-lend activities for six months. In the text of the report he sought to prove that the British were reducing their competition with American goods. This was done by showing how much leading exports in 1940 had declined from 1937. The report neglected to say that 1937 was a boom year for the British export trade. It showed there had been a decrease by taking as a standard a year of swollen British exports. Following are the figures for exports of British goods from 1931 to 1940 in millions of pounds sterling:

1932—365	1937—522
1933—368	1938—471
1934—396	1939—439
1935—426	1940—413

Shipments of British iron and steel manufactures in 1937 reached a level which had not been attained in any year since 1929. And machinery shipments in 1937 were at the highest level of all times. The foreign business of the British in cotton goods in 1937 set a record since 1930. To attribute to the war the entire decline in British exports from 1937 to 1940 is to exaggerate.

Of course, the President did not prepare his own figures. He is much too busy for that. But those who draft the reports to be issued in the name of the President for the guidance of the legislative branch of the government ought to realize that incomplete and misleading statements are not in keeping with the traditions of the high office with which they are now connected.

BENEATH CONTEMPT.

A strike of employés of the Kansas City Power and Light company Tuesday night deprived half a million people of electrical service. The walkout came unexpectedly and caused a great deal of inconvenience and distress, particularly in a number of hospitals where lives were imperiled.

No doubt the incident, tho speedily terminated, will be cited for years to come as a justification for repressive legislation directed against trade unions and particularly against the unions in the utility industries. Certainly the officials who, by action or inaction, were responsible for the walkout have done the labor movement in this country a great injury. If they are allowed to remain in office it will be because their international and the American Federation of Labor are blind to their own interests.

The Kansas City strike may or may not indicate a need for corrective legislation; it certainly emphasizes a need for education in common decency. The men who participated in that strike as well as the men who led it are guilty of selfishness on a fantastic scale. In pursuit of an interunion quarrel of no great importance to them or any one else they deliberately imperiled innocent lives.

Their deed was no less foul because it was a collective rather than an individual act. Men who commit brutal acts in concert are just as culpable as if they had committed them as individuals. The men who participated in this strike in any capacity have disgraced themselves. They ought to be thrown out of every society and lodge to which they belong. That might do a lot more to discourage future strikes of this sort than a bookful of anti-union laws, written in anger. We don't need more laws so much as we need more insistence on common decency.

Editorial of the Day

OTTO AUTO.

[Elgin (Ill.) Courier-News.]

Maybe you don't remember a comic strip called "Otto Auto." There was one once, long ago, and you would be pardoned for assuming that Otto Auto was dead.

But he isn't. He's alive, and he's just had his license revoked at Royalston, Mass. This Otto Auto is better known as Otto of Hapsburg, who would be an archduke if there were any Austrian hierarchy of nobility left. It seems he was zooming along at 60 miles an hour, and the license commission suspended his license.

What Otto could have been doing that warranted doing it at a speed of 60 miles an hour eludes us. In fact it is difficult to imagine what he is doing here at all, since American interest in restoration of the long-since-discredited house of Hapsburg might be said to approach zero, Fahrenheit.

EQUINOCTIAL MURMURS.

Only four more days until the autumnal equinox, and can you remember any other September in which the trees were in such full, green leafage?

* * *

It's about time for bright young pseudo-meteorologists to spring up and tell us again that equinoctial storms are merely a superstition. We will refer them to an article on hurricanes in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post, which gives a vivid account of what September often brings to towns on the Gulf of Mexico.

The upper ramparts of the Mather Tower are a familiar view; we dine on that level of the stratosphere, across the street, five days in the week. Yet we didn't know until told by an expert that during the recent cleaning of the tower some of its ornamental pinnacles had been removed. It's a trimmer spire now.

* * *

A year or two after the Wrigley building was erected, Pierce Anderson, the architect who designed it, said, "Sometimes I feel that I'd like to take a hammer and knock off a lot of that wedding cake stuff up there on the skyline."

One of our hobbies when seeing America from the highways is college collecting. Whenever the guidebook says "College town" we turn off the main stem, if necessary, to take a look at the campus, and our score at present is well over 100. Nevertheless, we insist that there is no finer site than Northwestern's campus in Evanston, and no more impressive massing of Gothic architecture than at the University of Chicago.

For marine drives within city limits, the 15 miles [approximate] from Jackson park north to Foster avenue are, we suspect, at the head of the class. Try to think of their equal, for metropolitan motoring, anywhere in the world.

THE WOODLAND DOOR.

My hands are at their toiling, my feet are on the floor,
But truly now, my heart is at a woodland door.
A woodland door that opens at touch of magic key
Into a world of wonder that fall has brought to me.
Within this world a princess, with goldenrod in hair,
Walks thru the morning hours with most mysterious air.
She stirs the purple asters, the bronzed and mellowed leaves,
And wakens softest music within the waiting sheaves.
She fingers laden grapevines, lying on the wall,
The cottonwoods grow eager, waiting for her call.
She bends the meadow grasses to rhythm of her dance,
The stately poplars bow while held within her trance!
O pagan princess Autumn, have mercy on all men
Who would be with you always instead of now and then.
Our hands must stay at toiling, our feet must keep the floor,
Tho they would rather meet you beside the woodland door!

Newcomer.

Anarchism and "Annie Laurie."

From personal knowledge, may I set down the simple facts about "Annie Laurie" [Sept. 16] being sung in jail just before Albert Parsons and his fellow Haymarket anarchists were hanged.

The singing took place not the night before their execution, but about 10:30 a. m. the day of the execution. I and many other newspaper men heard the song come clear and defiant thru the bars of the steel gate that opened into the jail office from the corridor along which the condemned men were shortly to march to the gallows.

We were told by guards inside the gate that it was Parsons in his cell who was singing, and that to him the familiar old ballad meant no literal Annie Laurie, but signified Anarchy, world-wide communism. No reason to doubt this was apparent, and effort further to verify the statement at the time would have been useless, as all newspaper men were ejected from the corridor into the jail office a few minutes previous.

I was there as a writer for the Associated Press to report the wholesale hanging, and I do not hesitate to say it is beyond reasonable doubt that Parsons, awaiting his death, did sing "Annie Laurie" with "beauty and pathos," but it is not so that "all other prisoners and even the guards joined in the song."

It may well be that Mr. Eisenschiml writes correctly concerning what Clara Laughlin and Parsons and others did or did not do the night before the execution. The singing of "Annie Laurie" in the old jail adjoining Dearborn street the day of the anarchist execution, however, is no hoax or myth, but authentic, historic fact.

THE CHEERLESS CHIMPANZEE.

(A Brookfield Ballad.)

If you should live four hundred years,
Beset by troubles, doubts and fears,
It's obvious (at least to me)
You'd look much like the chimpanzee.
With sunken eyes and wrinkled face,
This elder brother of our race
Stares sadly past his button nose
And glumly broods upon his woes,
For tho he has intelligence
He doesn't have the common sense
To know that worrying should be Reserved for man, exclusively.

What the Umpire Says.

Watching a semi-pro ball game recently, I was close enough to hear what the umpire says. A player tried to steal home. He turned out to be slow of foot and had timed his start poorly, so the catcher was waiting for him with the ball when he was a dozen feet from home. Nevertheless he jumped up and ran belligerently at the umpire, claiming the catcher hadn't touched him.

"He didn't have to," yelled the ump. "I'd call you out for trying it!" A. C. L.

What's become of Petain's vice premier? It's been some time since we've heard from "the old man's Darlan." Bud Smith of Wausau.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

PAINFUL BONES MAY MEAN PAGET'S DISEASE.

In our centennial year, 1876, James Paget, a surgeon of "Bart's" hospital, London, described to his colleagues a new bone difficulty which proved to be a chronic inflammatory malady. Today, we call the disorder "Paget's disease" and the condition is apparently as old as man himself. Evidences of its existence have been found among Egyptian mummies and in prehistoric remains on the American continent.

Paget's first patient was a man of 46, who had suffered no previous illness. At the age cited, he observed twinges in his thighs and legs, which were more noticeable after exercise. As he put it, "My legs are less serviceable than they were." His general health remained good, altho he looked somewhat older than his years. Many months later the region above the left ankle appeared misshapen and the area felt nodular and uneven. There was no tenderness on pressure, altho a slight aching was present during activity.

The progress of this case was followed for 20 years thereafter. Other parts of the skeleton eventually became affected. The skull increased in size gradually and each 12 months he would be obliged to purchase a new hat of larger dimensions.

Concluding his report, our author pointed out that no undue distress was suffered, neither was vigor impaired to any noticeable degree. He did not consider the trouble dangerous to life, altho it was annoying because of the uncomfortable deformities.

We must recall that this report was made long before X-rays permitted us to study the actual and progressive changes within the skeleton. What concerns us most is the recognition of symptoms and an understanding of what is going on. Aching is the most common complaint. This is now ascribed to the stretching of the thin covering membrane [periosteum] of the bone and to a straining of the ligaments due to bending. Thus soreness is confined to the lower section of the body where the greatest weight is borne. Occasionally, a victim will mention frequent attacks of shingles [herpes zoster] or arthritis.

The cause still remains obscure. Laboratory workers have been unable to reproduce the disturbance in experimental animals. Among the theories advanced is that the endocrine glands—perhaps the parathyroids and the adrenals—are at fault. At any rate, the system must be producing a chemical which has the power of dissolving rigid tissue, thus rendering it softer and more pliable. In some instances, phosphorus, which is one of the necessary ingredients of bone, is less likely to be present in normal amounts.

The suggestion has been offered that extract of the outer portion of the adrenal glands will be helpful, because this substance will help hold back the loss of phosphorus. Injected at weekly intervals, this preparation seems to lessen discomfort and retard the progress of the disease.

Other measures involve large doses of vitamin D, the administration of magnesium, and the use of diets low in calcium. This latter element is apparently mishandled by the victim. Most physicians rely upon X-ray exposures for relief of pain and on braces to avoid crookedness.

As a rule, complications are few. Nevertheless, changes in eyesight have been exhibited and even deafness may be intensified. But most of us, as we grow older, encounter slowly failing vision which may be corrected with proper glasses. In like fashion, we may become "thick" of hearing. It is entirely probable that these manifestations are purely coincidental and not related to the state of the bones.

Now and then, however, fractures will occur and the patient must be cautioned against overexertion. He must employ all the support possible and "wearing" a cane may be advisable.

EYE SYMPTOMS.

R. W. writes: Every morning the whites of my eyes are muddy looking and bloodshot. I do not dissipate in any way. What could be the reason?

REPLY.

You may have a mild conjunctivitis. A careful check is advised, as normal vision is all-important.

ACID NOT CAUSE.

F. G. writes: I have been told that arthritis is due to acid in the blood. Is this possible?

REPLY.

No. The healthy body maintains itself on an even keel—neither too acid nor too alkaline. A balanced diet helps to preserve this equilibrium.

CARLYLE ON "SHOOTING WAR."

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 15.—Thomas Carlyle had the following to say on the fallacy of war:

"What, speaking in quite unofficial language, is the net purpose and upshot of war? To my own knowledge, for example, there dwell and toil in the British village of Dumdrudge usually some five hundred souls. From these, by certain 'natural enemies' of the French, there are successively selected, during the French war, say 30 ablebodied men. Dumdrudge, at her own expense, has suckled and nursed them; she has, not without difficulty and sorrow, fed them up to manhood, and even trained them to crafts, so that one can weave, another build, another hammer, and the weakest can stand under 30 stone avoirdupois.

"Nevertheless, amid much weeping and swearing they are selected; all dressed in red; and shipped away, at the public charges, some two thousand miles, or say only to the south of Spain; and fed there till wanted. And now to the same spot in the south of Spain, are 30 similar French artisans, from a French Dumdrudge, in like manner wending; till at length, after infinite effort, the two parties come into actual juxtaposition; and 30 stand fronting 30, each with a gun in his hand.

"Straightway the word 'fire' is given, and they blow the souls out of one another; and in place of 60 brisk, useful craftsmen, the world has 60 dead carcasses, which it must bury, and anew shed tears for.

"Had these men any quarrel? Busy as the devil is, not the smallest. They lived far enough apart, were the entirest strangers; nay, in so wide a universe, there was even, unconsciously, by commerce, some mutual helpfulness between them. How then? Simpleton! Their governors had fallen out; and instead of shooting one another had the cunning to make these poor blockheads shoot."

J. A. Timme.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Congratulations from a long suffering public are due to the energetic lady who took possession of the "reserved" seat at the Grant park concert.

In a democracy the fair principle of "first come, first served" should be the rule and those who come early should obtain public seats. Why should any one expect to reserve a seat for a late comer when said seat is surrounded by other members of the public already present? What would the complainant say if he or she arrived in time to find half of the seats occupied by music lovers and half occupied by coats or wraps awaiting later arrivals? Alexander Lindsay.

WON'T BE HARD TO REMEMBER.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Saying that it is no act of war on our part to "protect" our shipments of munitions [legitimate business!] to one of the belligerents by shooting first makes me wonder who are these "deluded" Americans the President talks about and where do they live?

I suppose those of us who think it unwise that the British stay in Iceland while we occupy it are also "deluded."

Also, how can we ever forget our great Senator Lucas and his "far sightedness in voting for peace" via the lend-lease bill? When you buy eggs at 48 cents, milk at 15½ cents, and so on, it will be easy to remember him. H. E. W.

UNIFORMITY IN TAXES?

Elmwood Park, Ill., Sept. 7.—Soon the annual hue and cry about personal property tax delinquency will be raised again by publicity seeking politicians, but no one seems to do anything about correcting the root of the evil which causes the breakdown of personal property tax collection—to wit: inefficiency in the assessor's office.

Consider these cases: A tire shop, having no employés and occupying a 14 foot frontage store, is assessed $1,665, which will represent a tax bill of about $150. This sum, of course, is over and beyond what a small business man can pay and, therefore, there will be another case of tax delinquency which will be carried thru the red tape of suit and finally will probably be adjudicated by a court for about $10 and costs. An appliance store carrying a huge stock of costly merchandise and having a 25 foot frontage is assessed at $222, no return made; a motor sales corporation having a 100 foot frontage plus a used car lot containing as many as 100 used cars and employing 20 files, a return of $1,369; a large department store, employing 40, is assessed $2,220; a large hardware store files a return of $323; a bakery, out of business now for three years, is assessed $444.

Of course complaints of inequality of assessment may be filed with the board of appeals, but such complaints cannot be made thru the mail and necessitate a personal appearance and a routine of red tape after which another appearance is necessary, representing a waste of two days. A Disgusted Taxpayer.

THOSE "ODIOUS FUMES."

Chicago, Sept. 12.—I am glad some of the victims of this dangerous smoke habit have written in their complaints. I would like to add my name to the list of victims.

May I add a few more grievances that I am sure have been experienced by many others. After a hard day's work, you try to get a seat. There isn't any, so you stand. You try to avoid the upper deck, but you are just too tired to stand and you feebly sink into an empty seat. Ashes flicked accidentally on you; apology—smoke blown into your eyes and lungs, air stifling. You make a timid effort to open the window, if you are near it and if it doesn't stick and you can stand the dirty looks and oral insinuations about being a fresh air fiend, etc.

Why can't the bus company do away with smoking entirely; even the inveterate smoker can stand a release from the odious fumes of tobacco for a short time. Anne Rudolph.

SEES PROFITEERING.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 16.—Let me call your attention to one of the most flagrant cases of profiteering I have yet seen.

A well known restaurant chain with six places of business in the loop has done a bit of price raising that is "the pay-off." Milk has gone up a cent and a half a quart and the company has increased the price of a bottle of milk containing possibly two-thirds of a pint from 7 to 10 cents.

Coffee has gone up 5 cents a pound and the increase in price of a cup of coffee has gone from 5 cents to 7. I understand that 40 cups of coffee can be made from a pound.

If the federal authorities would correct this situation the people of small means would have more money with which to buy the defense bonds the government is trying so hard to sell.

Frank W. Smith.

FOOD RATHER THAN BULLETS.

West Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 16.—We read that all but 100,000 of the people of Belgium are on hunger rations. Probably nearly 60,000,000 people in Holland, Belgium, France, and Spain are threatened with starvation.

The United States is blessed with such big surpluses of wheat and corn that our government finds itself in deep embarrassment in its efforts to use, store, or dispose of it all.

Why not send some of this surfeit of God's blessings to the tortured peoples of the countries of western Europe? Such action is still possible. If we enter the war any idea of such succor will be impossible.

Which is the Christian act, to enter this conflict or to save 60,000,000 from starvation? E. V. Greenfield.

DECEASED'S DEBTS.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My uncle died leaving a personal loan unpaid.

1. Can the loan company collect on a group insurance policy?

2. My aunt is the beneficiary and knew nothing of the loan.

3. Does the loan become automatically canceled? A. R.

1. Yes, if the policy is payable to the estate; no, if it is payable to a named beneficiary.

2. She would not be liable unless the debt was for family expenses.

3. No, in the sense that it would continue as an obligation to any estate that the deceased may leave but other persons would become personally liable.

NEW CARGO SHIP ANSWER TO SUB, NAVY MEN HOLD

Submit 1,900 Ton Vessel to First Tests.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—The navy department today announced that it believes it has the answer to submarine warfare in a 1,900 ton armed cargo vessel, perfected with "the active and insistent help" of President Roosevelt.

It was announced that a new government corporation, Ships, Inc., is being formed to produce the ships. The carriers will be constructed on the Mississippi river and other inland waterways and the Gulf of Mexico, and delivered to the lend-lease agency for transfer to other nations as rapidly as they are built.

The vessel, undergoing tests, is described as simple in construction, cheap to build and operate, and embodying a novel propulsion mechanism.

See Bridge of Supplies.

The ships can be produced faster than they could be sunk by submarines or dive bombers, according to the navy department, and thus assure a bridge of supplies from this country to Europe.

The navy department revealed that its plans called for the arming of the vessels, altho the neutrality act specifically fobids arming of Ameri ican merchantmen. These plans were made in the expectation that the neutrality act will be repealed or that the vessels would be transferred to the British or other foreign flags.

The vessels, it was said, will mount anti-aircraft batteries. It also was said that the craft would be able to cope with submarines.

Propellor Sunk Amidship.

The new ships, known as the Sea Otter class, will be driven by a six foot propeller sunk amidship. The propellor will be powered by 16 gasoline six cylinder engines of 110 horsepower each. The entire propelling mechanism can be hoisted and replaced while the cargo ship is under way.

The vessels will be 270 feet long and carry a net cargo of 1,500 tons. They will carry a small crew, have a speed of 12 knots, and a range of 7,000 nautical miles.

Naval engineers believe that the vessels can be turned out in two months after plans are standardized. Naval engineers expressed confidence the new type vessels would meet the demands of all tests.

WOMAN SLUGGED AND ROBBED OF $3,450 IN JEWELS

Mrs. Selma Sandack, 37 years old, was slugged last night and robbed of $3,450 in jewelry by two armed bandits in the vestibule of her home at 643 West 62d street. Her husband, Louis, a jeweler at 6211 South Halsted street, suffered head cuts in a struggle with one of the robbers when he broke thru the glass partition of the door.

The Sandacks and their son, Ronald, 14, were met in the vestibule by the robbers. Mrs. Sandack screamed and was struck on the head with the butt of a gun. The robbers took from her four rings and a wrist watch, and, in addition, $45 in cash.

Earlier in the night Albert Chatkin, 6805 Clyde avenue, an accountant, was robbed of a ring valued at $750, a watch which cost $25, and $16 in cash by three bandits at 72d street and Clyde avenue.

JUDGE TOSSES BOUQUET TO AN ARDENT SUITOR

Gus Janis, 33 years old, 2631 Haddon avenue, appeared before Municipal Judge John T. Zuris yesterday to answer a charge of disorderly conduct after he was arrested for picking an armful of flowers in Humboldt park.

"I did it," he said, "to prove my love for Sophie. She recently became engaged to another fellow. I was coming home from a party, and I wanted to hand them to her at the place where we both work. It was too early for the flower shops to be open when I was due for work, so I went to the park."

"Park flowers are for the public," the judge said. "Any time you want to pick flowers and the shops aren't open, come to my garden and take what you want."

The charge was dismissed.

INVENTORY PUTS HELEN M. BLISS' ESTATE AT $800,000

An inventory approved yesterday by Thaddeus Adesko, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell, showed the estate of Mrs. Helen M. Bliss, widow of S. E. Bliss, founder of the Bliss and Laughlin steel works, to be in excess of $800,000. A preliminary estimate had been $300,000 less.

Among the assets were $596,000 in government bonds, $188,000 in cash, $7,800 in jewelry, and stocks and bonds, including 300 shares of stock in Bliss and Laughlin.

The estate is divided between a sister, Mrs. Willa Sanborn, widow of Gen. Joseph B. Sanborn, and Warren F. Weck, a brother. Mrs. Bliss died last July 5 at her home in Evanston.

J. B. Stetson's Grandson Killed in Crash of Planes

Corpus Christi, Tex., Sept. 18 (AP).—Capt. Stuart Carlisle Stetson, 36, grandson of John B. Stetson, the hat manufacturer, was killed today in the collision of two planes on a runway of the naval air station. Capt. Stetson, reserve officer in the marine corps, was an aviation instructor. He formerly was a commercial pilot.

MOLLIE N. HART, EVANSTON CLUB LEADER, IS DEAD

Mrs. Mollie Nuveen Hart, who was active in the Evanston Woman's club, the University guild, the Red Cross, and the First Baptist church of Evanston, died yesterday in the Evanston hospital. She was an accomplished musician. Mrs. Hart leaves a daughter, Mrs. E. L. Edmondson; two sons, Milton N. and Willard O. Hart, and a brother, John Nuveen, an investment banker. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the First Baptist church. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery. Mrs. Hart lived at 1045 Chicago avenue, Evanston.

Estate of $250,000 Left by Widow of Emil Eiger

The will of Mrs. Thekla Eiger, widow of Emil Eiger, a millinery manufacturer, disposing of an estate estimated at $250,000, was admitted to probate yesterday by John F. Keeley, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. The estate is divided among Siegfried M. Robins, 5340 Kimbark avenue, a brother; Lucille Alpert, 3756 Agatite avenue, a niece, and Norwin Prosser of Los Angeles, Cal., a nephew. Mrs. Eiger, who lived at the Chicago Beach hotel, died last July 22.

GROUP OPPOSING NEW TVA DAM TO SEEK HOUSE QUIZ

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 18 [Special].—Business men and farmers of the French Broad river valley who oppose building of a new TVA dam there because it would cover fertile acres will seek a hearing before the house military affairs committee James Wood of Newport, Tenn., head of a citizens committee, said today.

Many prominent citizens are fighting the new dam, including President James Hoskins of the University of Tennessee; W. B. Stokely, director of Stokely Brothers Canning company; Fred C. Bush, president of Bush Brothers Canning company; John Hampton, head of the Cocke county farm bureau, and J. F. Porter, president of the Tennessee Farm bureau.

Mayor H. B. Jarnagin of Dandridge has asked Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, confidant of President Roosevelt, who is now inspecting the TVA here, to intercede with the President against the dam. Mayor Jarnagin, says the area is "wholly in accord" with increased power preparations in the rearmament program but feels that steam plants using coal from nearby mines would be just as cheap and result in saving millions of dollars worth of farm land and products.

URGES KEEPING RADIO STATIONS RUN BY PAPERS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—Spokesmen for two Kansas City radio stations—one of them newspaper-owned and the other unaffiliated with any publication—contended before the Federal Communications commission today that newspaper ownership of broadcasting facilities should continue to be sanctioned.

The witnesses were Roy A. Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star, which operates station WDAF, and Donald D. Davis, president of station WHB. Both appeared at commission hearings to determine what policy will be followed with respect to newspaper applications for radio licenses.

"Radio would be better off if we had more newspapers running radio stations," Roberts told the commission. "I think the two go hand in hand."

"I feel that newspaper radio operation is a logical development for dissemination of news in a community," Davis testified.

ESTATE OF $100,000 TIED UP; HEIRESS LIVES IN FRANCE

An estate of $100,000 left by Alonzo St. John Huntington, Chicago and New York artist, to his sister, Elizabeth St. George Huntington, was tied up yesterday because she lives in Versailles, in occupied France. Freezing orders by the government prevent the transmission of cash to occupied countries. The will was admitted to probate by John F. Keeley, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. E. D. Schwantes, attorney for the estate, said that Miss Huntington was bedridden. Huntington died Aug. 3 at the age of 70 in his apartment in the Pearson hotel.

SLIDING SCALE SET UP TO FIX BOOKIES' FINES

A sliding scale of fines for gambling violations was set up yesterday by Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl in the Willow Springs county highway police station. With each raid the fine was upped $25.

The scale was invoked in the case of an alleged book at 2131 South Cicero avenue, Cicero. Last week Willow Springs highway police raided it three times. Samuel Russo was arrested as keeper the first time, Jack Cole as keeper the second time, and Joseph Prarrillo the third time.

In court yesterday Justice Pendl fined Russo $25; Cole $50, and Prarrillo $75. In another case, Louis Bell, keeper of a book at 4807 Cermak road, Cicero, was fined $25.

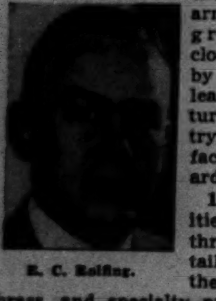
PIANO INDUSTRY FACES 2 THREATS FROM PRIORITIES

Supplies Cut Off; British Enter Market.

A dual threat to the American piano industry under the priorities of the national rearmament program was disclosed yesterday by spokesmen of leading manufacturers. The industry, they asserted, faces these hazards:



R. C. Rolfing.

1. The priorities themselves threaten to curtail or shut off the iron, copper, brass, and specialty products which go into pianos.

2. The American market is being invaded by British piano builders who apparently are having no difficulty in obtaining needed materials.

Altho the amount of metal required by American piano manufacturers is small in comparison to the amount available and the amount needed for defense and export, the Office of Production Managament has as yet made no comment on the estimate of needs recently presented to it.

Hard to Get Materials.

Meanwhile, substitutions already have begun. James V. Sill, vice president of the W. W. Kimball company, told of growing difficulty in obtaining materials.

"We are changing over from brass to cast iron pedals," he said. "Cast iron, however, must be plated, and there another difficulty arises.

"Another problem is steel for strings. In addition, bass strings must be wound with finer wire to weight or 'load' them, as we say, so as to deepen the tone. Many of us are resigned to the use of iron windings instead of copper. Our biggest demand is for cast iron to be used in piano frames."

R. C. Rolfing, president of the National Piano Manufacturers' association and head of the Rudolph Wurlitzer company here, said there is no reason why the small needs of the industry should not be supplied.

"The amount of metals we use is just a drop in the ocean," he said. "Moreover, we think our industry is an essential one. More than 80 per cent of the pianos sold are for use in educating children."

Altho Rolfing still is hopeful that the OPM will act favorably, the national Piano Trade Magazine, of which Roy E. Waite is editor, expressed gloom at the growing shortages.

"Right now many concerns that fabricate things of metal essential to manufacture of musical instruments cannot get their orders accepted," the magazine said.

Only 25,000 Tons a Year.

"Manufacturers of certain metal specialties which we must have say they have no assurance that their present inventories, when exhausted, can be replaced. These people state that suppliers of certain metals from which these parts are made will not even accept orders."

Waite asserted that putting the squeeze on these builders of special parts—the action parts, hammers, etc.—amounts to putting a squeeze on the entire piano industry. With few exceptions, he said, all piano makers buy these parts from other manufacturers.

Meanwhile, the spearhead of the English piano invasion already has reached this country. Whelpdale, Maxwell & Codd, Ltd., of London, has begun bombarding dealers and department stores in this country with solicitations for orders, quoting prices described as definitely competitive.

The British company admits frankly that it and others like it are under government pressure to sell to America. One of the letters, to Clarence Hammond of the Frederick Loeser company of Brooklyn reads:

"We are being urged by our government to expand our export trade, particularly to the United States and Canada where this country is, of course, very anxious to obtain dollar exchange to be expended on our war effort. I know that you can buy as many pianos as you want from American manufacturers, but nonetheless I have the teremity to ask you whether you could see your way to give me a sample order."

BARN EXILE GOES BACK AFTER ONE NIGHT AT HOME

Adolph Jozalis, 52 years old, who won a court order Wednesday to reënter the family home at 5554 South New England avenue, Argo, after his wife, Anna, 53, first exiled him to the cow barn, then left him no choice of quarters except the chicken coop, reappeared yesterday before Judge Rudolph Desort.

"I have spent one night in the house," he said. "I want to go back to the barn."

His lawyer, Victor Frohlich, hinted that Jozalis had encountered difficulties with his wife and mother-in-law. The attitude of 11 children was not suggested. Jozalis originally charged that his wife evicted him to make room for her mother.

Judge Desort ordered Charles C. Cooley, special commissioner, to decide Monday whether Mrs. Jozalis has the right to bar her husband from the barn. She is suing for separate maintenance, and Cooley is also to determine whether she is entitled to payments.

Doctor Convicted in Assault

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Dr. Robert Murrell (left) was convicted in Bolivar, Mo., yesterday of felonious assault and sentenced to two years in prison. He was accused of holding a gun on Max Caldwell while Murrell's fiancee flogged Caldwell with a whip. Murrell is shown with his daughter, Judith Ann, 2, and his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Murrell.

PHOTOGRAPHER TELLS DEAL WITH NAZI SPY SUSPECT

Plane Pictures Sought, He Testifies.

New York, Sept. 18 [Special].—Private Harry Thorell, a 22 year old aerial photographer in the army air force, took the witness stand today in an effort by the government to link Edmund Carl Heine, former foreign representative for American companies, with a German spy ring that operated in this country until the arrest of 33 suspects last June.

Heine and 15 others are on trial before Judge Mortimer W. Byers and a jury in the United States District court in Brooklyn, accused of espionage and failure to register as agents of a foreign government. Seventeen of the 33 have pleaded guilty.

Agreement Told on Stand.

Thorell took the stand after the government apparently completed its case against Frederick Joubert Duquesne, described by the prosecution as an espionage agent for 40 years whose motives were actuated jointly by a desire for money and hatred of the British.

Thorell testified that on May 22, 1940, he had agreed to sell Heine 50 photographs of the latest types of airplanes. Thorell said he then owned an aerial photography service in his home town of Bridgeport, Conn.

A letter from Heine, identified by the witness and read into the record, allegedly confirmed the order of "40 to 50 or 60" photographs of "only the current types of planes, giving the names of the manufacturers of the planes."

The trial was adjourned until tomorrow before Thorell could elaborate on his testimony.

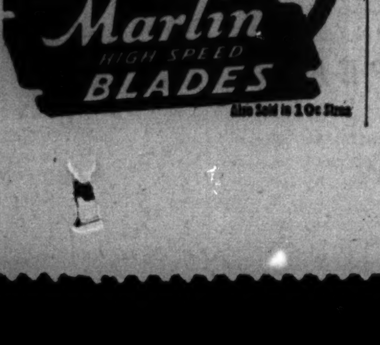
Agents Tell of Arrest.

Earlier, a number of agents of the federal bureau of investigation testified they had arrested Duquesne in the Manhattan apartment of Evelyn Clayton Lewis, an artist. Miss Lewis has pleaded guilty to the indictment.

The agents also identified a number of documents seized in the apartment purporting to bear on Duquesne's espionage activities. Most of these were identified by Charles B. Appel, handwriting expert and founder of the FBI laboratory at Washington, D. C., as having been signed by Duquesne or written on the typewriter found in Miss Lewis's apartment. Duquesne had made the mistake of keeping carbon copies of some of his correspondence.

Maj. Gen. Andrews Takes Command of Panama Canal

BALBOA, C. Z., Sept. 18. — Command of the Panama canal and the Caribbean defenses today was transferred from Lieut. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis to Maj. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, who relinquished command of the Caribbean air forces. Gen Van Voorhis was transferred to command of the fifth corps area in the United States.



Termed a 'Cleopatra'

Bolivar, Mo., Sept. 18 (AP)—A Polk county jury decreed two years in prison today for Dr. Robert Murrell for his part in the cat-o'-nine-tails flogging of Max Caldwell, an Ozark guide once accused of raping the 35 year old osteopath's fiancée. Murrell had pleaded innocent by reason of temporary insanity.

Miss Aldythea Keeth, 26, was convicted in June of assault and fined $100. Miss Helda Rhoads, 25, Murrell's fiancée, is to be tried next month on a felonious assault charge. In his argument today, Prosecutor Vane Thurlo termed Miss Rhoads "The Cleopatra of the Ozarks." Murrell was alleged to have kept a pistol pointed at the guide while the women lashed him.

Train Cuts Up Mail Pouch, Flood of Coins Rolls Out

Aurora, Ind., Sept. 18 [Special].—A registered mail pouch tossed from a Baltimore and Ohio streamliner today bounced under the wheels of the train and was sliced in two. From the dismembered parts rolled silver dollars, quarters, nickels, dimes, and dollar bills. Witnesses scrambled for the money. However most of the contents of the bag were retrieved by postal authorities. Postmaster Albert Betscher said postal and railroad agents would investigate the matter.

RAP $6,000 EDICT AS A STYMIE FOR HOME BUILDING

Plan Commission Fights U. S. Priority Ruling.

The Chicago Plan commission yesterday directed a special committee on housing to make a protest to the federal government against its plan to grant a top priority rating on building materials for homes only to "defense housing" costing less than $6,000. The committee, headed by Frank C. Rathje, will send the protest to Office of Production Management officials in Washington, D. C., next week.

T. T. McCroskey, executive director of the plan commission, told the members that the housing priorities plan would place a virtual "blackout" on new home building in Chicago and would drive all new construction of low cost homes into the suburbs.

Other Types Get B Rating.

Under the plan, outlined in Washington earlier this week, defense homes in the less than $6,000 class would get an A rating on materials. Other types of housing would be assigned B ratings.

"Chicago's development will be stymied by such a ruling, because the $6,000 limit applies to the cost of house and lot combined," McCroskey explained. "Lots in Chicago are more expensive than in surrounding suburban and rural areas.

"By the time a man pays for a lot in Chicago, he can't build much of a house and stay within the $6,000 limit. This will drive homebuilding into the outlying areas where lots can be bought for $300 or $400. Homes will be built on these unimproved lots, while lots with water, sewage, and sidewalks in Chicago will remain vacant."

Exclude Land from Ruling.

McCroskey suggested that if priorities are to be placed on materials for houses, the cost limitation apply only to the house, and not to the house and lot combined.

He also proposed that a more equitable classification of homes entitled to top priorities be based on cubic content of houses, or on housing cost indexes adjusted between cities, instead of straight dollar limitations. In this way, variations in building costs in different areas would be equalized, he explained.

Rathje declared that land owners in suburban areas already have started hiking their asking prices for land in anticipation that a suburban housing boom will grow out of the priorities plan.

Payments by Richberg to Ex-Wife Are Revised

Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday approved an agreement altering the terms of support payments which Donald R. Richberg, former NRA chairman, now practicing law in Washington, D. C., has made to his former wife, Lynette, of Minneapolis, Minn., since their divorce in 1924. His lawyers said that he has paid $50,000 to her at the rate of $250 a month. In the future Mrs. Richberg will receive $100 a month from a life annuity and an additional $150 a month from Richberg during his lifetime. She also receives an outright gift of $1,500.

Becomes Citizen

SONJA HENIE.

Stamford, Conn., Sept. 18 (AP).—Screen and skating star Sonja Henie disregarded an illness that has confined her for two weeks to come to Stamford today where she was sworn in as a citizen of the United States.

"I had to come today or wait another year," she told reporters. "I am very happy to be a citizen. I've achieved most of my success in this country, and I love it."

Miss Henie, wife of Dan Topping, cheerfully signed autographs for many in the crowd that thronged around the city court, where she and about 50 others were administered the oath.

HOPE TO UNCOVER UNION RECORDS IN POLLACK'S CACHE

Assistant State's Attorneys William B. Crawford and Gordon Nash said last night that they will attempt today to get permission to open a safe deposit box of Michael Pollack, former recording secretary of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks International Protective association. The box is in the Continental Illinois National bank. They hope to find some of the records and possibly the funds of the union in this cache.

The prosecutors, who have been instructed by State's Attorney Courtney to gather evidence on which to indict Max Caldwell, ousted czar of the local, obtained a court order yesterday to open the box. [Pollack is a brother of Caldwell, whose original name was Pollack.]

When they arrived at the safety vault, however, they learned that federal authorities had already put a lien on the properties of Pollack. Crawford said he hoped to have the coöperation of the government in examining the box contents today. The court order was issued in connection with a suit filed by members of the local demanding an accounting from Caldwell of $910,000 allegedly collected in his four year rule.

Accused Slayer of Wife Declared to Be Insane

Monticello, Ill., Sept. 18 (AP).—John Gerth, 41, a Peoria factory guard charged with murdering his wife, was declared insane today by Circuit Judge W. S. Bodman, who ordered him committed to the Illinois Security hospital at Chester. Gerth was under indictment on a charge of shooting and killing his wife May 27.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

DISCLOSE COURT FREED TWO WHO TURNED KILLERS

Records Show Seizure for Other Crimes.

The previous release by the Juvenile court of two young Negroes held by Warren avenue police as participants in the murder of Mitchell Hetman, a watchman, was disclosed yesterday.

One, Edgar Shepherd, was arrested in January, 1939, and again in May, that year, on charges of stealing from freight cars. He was turned over to the Juvenile court, headed by Judge Frank J. Bicek, pronounced feeble-minded by the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research, a state institution, and sent home.

The Other Disappears.

The other, Willie Norwell, was arrested in April, 1939, and again two months later for purse snatching. He also was pronounced feeble-minded by the institute. His case was continued. He disappeared.

Shepherd, who is 15 years old and who lives at 115 North Leavitt street, and James Norwell, also 15, of 1958 Hubbard street, are in custody. James is a brother of Willie. Willie, who is 19, is being sought.

Shepherd and James Norwell confessed the Hetman slaying at the state's attorney's office yesterday, and named Willie Norwell as an accomplice. The two also admitted committing 21 burglaries, police said.

Hetman, 45, was slain Aug. 17 in a furniture factory at 2130 Fulton street. He was tied to a post, and tortured by his slayers in an effort to compel him to help them open the office safe. He was strangled with a towel and beaten with an iron bar. His right ear was almost severed.

Tell of Trap.

In their confession, Shepherd and James Norwell stated that they lured Hetman into a trap. They threw a brick thru a window, then ambushed Hetman as he stepped up to investigate.

Capt. Walter McGloon, who directed the search for Hetman's slayers, when informed of the Juvenile court's findings of "feeble-minded" for Shepherd and Willie Norwell, commented:

"Feeble-minded? I don't care what the Juvenile court rates them—any kids smart enough to use that decoy gag with the brick, and to pull 21 burglaries, aren't dumb. They're smart and tough, but not feeble-minded."

PAROLEE KILLER OF FARM WIFE IS TAKEN TO PRISON

Richard Martin Wesolik, 16 years old, who bludgeoned to death Mrs. Margaret Jung, wife of a farmer living near Woodstock, last July 14, was taken to Joliet state prison yesterday by Sheriff Lester Edinger of McHenry county.

Wesolik, a parolee from the Illinois State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, was sentenced to a life term for the murder after he pleaded guilty in McHenry county Circuit court on Sept. 8.

Mrs. Jung, who was 36, was fatally beaten with a wrench in the milk house of her farm while her husband, Joseph, was absent. Jung had been Wesolik's parole sponsor.

HOME LOOTED OF JEWELRY.

Thieves broke into the home of Reinhold W. Schumann, 3251 North Damen avenue, last night, and stole $303 in jewelry.

Tavern Owner Shot

Richard Knight. Fred Lozo.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Englewood police yesterday began a search for Robert Bock, 30 years old, a brother-in-law of Danny [Public Enemy] Stanton, for questioning in the shooting earlier in the day of Fred Lozo, 25, a tavern owner. Lozo, who lives at 7729 Fielding avenue, was shot in the right arm near 72d street and Eggleston avenue.

Capt. Patrick Collins received information that the gunman was riding in Bock's automobile. Lozo was riding with Richard Knight and another companion when their car was followed for a mile and then curbed. When Lozo got out of the car to talk to the other driver the latter fired six shots at him.

Lozo told police that he quarreled with a patron in a tavern near 79th street and Cottage Grove avenue a week ago. He said that the patron insulted Miss Silvia Harris, 5600 Normal avenue, a tavern hostess. Miss Harris told the police that she did not know the patron. Lozo, married and the father of one child, is separated from his wife.

LOAN BANK WILL BE TOLD TO GIVE UP PAWNED FURS

Martin Ward, referee in bankruptcy, indicated yesterday that he would order the loan bank at 519 North Clark street to surrender 33 fur coats and 11 oriental rugs pawned by Bradford L. Keeler, former president of the North Suburban Cleaners, Inc., 1811 Benson avenue, Evanston.

The coats had been stored at the cleaning plant. Attorneys for the establishment, which is undergoing reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws, contended that Keeler had pawned the coats improperly.

Referee Ward said he would enter the order returning the coats next Tuesday. Attorneys for the loan bank said they would ask the federal district court to review the order. One of the witnesses at the hearing yesterday was Keeler. He had failed to appear at two previous sessions. He admitted pawning the coats and pocketing the $1,700 loan.

WOMAN, 55, DIES AFTER BEING HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. Carrie Bird, 55 years old, died yesterday in the Englewood hospital of injuries suffered last Saturday when she was struck by an automobile in front of her home at 6222 South Wolcott avenue. The driver was Walter Sabin, 27, of 3026 West 95th street.

Three women passengers on a street car and two men were injured last night in a collision between an oil truck, a street car, and a passenger automobile at Wallace and 39th streets. Police said an oil truck driven by Darwin Perkins, 54, of 1022 119th street, Whiting, Ind., collided with an automobile driven by James Peden, 57, of 503 West 45th place, and both vehicles struck the street car. Both men were injured, as were Lucille Springer, 20, of 7429 May street; Margaret Walsh, 40, of 6421 Carpenter street, and Peggy Daly, 35, of 8428 Morgan street.

Jessie Ford, 22 years old, colored, 2025 Emerson street, Evanston, died in the county hospital of injuries suffered July 20 when a car in which she was riding was struck by a truck at Lake street and Western avenue. The truck did not stop.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 670 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 463 were killed in Chicago, where 17,961 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

CONTINUES CASE AGAINST ACCUSED HIRER OF SLUGGER

At the request of the state's attorney's office, a charge of murder against David Goldblatt, a hoodlum, was dismissed yesterday in the Felony court. Assistant State's Attorney Gordon Nash explained that Goldblatt has since been indicted by the grand jury for the fatal slugging last April 23 of Anton Gorczak, and his trial is pending in the Cook county Criminal court. A similar charge against Samuel Ginsburg, named by Goldblatt in a confesison he later repudiated as the man who ordered and paid for the slugging, was continued in Felony court to Oct. 2 for further investigation.

Hod Carrier Union to Vote on Holding '46 Convention

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 18 (AP).—The convention of the AFL Hod Carriers', Building, and Common Laborers' union, being held for the first time in 30 years, voted today for a membership referendum in 1946 to determine whether or not the next convention shall be held that year. If the 250,000 members vote for the convention, it will be held in Cleveland. Terms of President Joseph V. Moreschi and other officers of the union do not expire until 1946.

Slayer Convicted

Ruth Zwicker. Albert J. Lukens.

Akron, O., Sept. 18 [Special].—Albert B. Lukens, 58, poker-faced former church janitor, today was found guilty of murder in the first degree in the Easter Saturday death of pretty Ruth Zwicker, 23 year old musician.

The jury recommended mercy and Common Pleas Judge Walter B. Wanamaker sentenced Lukens, who remained calm thruout, to life in the Ohio penitentiary, without hope of parole. Just before passing sentence, the judge denied Defense Counsel E. Guy Hammond's motion for a new trial.

The jury of nine men and three women believed, apparently, the prosecution's contention that Lukens choked the girl to death in the church when she repulsed his attempt to rape her.

Lukens admitted at the trial that he cremated Miss Zwicker's body in the church furnace, but declared that she died in a fall against the piano, on which she was practicing, when she slapped him after he asked her for a kiss.

GETS 2½ YEARS ON ALKY TAX EVASION COUNT

Judge John P. Barnes in federal District court yesterday sentenced Mike Caringello, 26 years old, a minor hoodlum, to two and one-half years in prison for defrauding the government of more than $400,000 in taxes on illicit alcohol made from a million pounds of sugar. Caringello pleaded guilty. Martin S. Gerber, assistant United States attorneys, said investigation of Caringello's activities led to raids on four stills.

MUSICAL AUTO HORNS GET SAD BLOW IN COURT

The subject of musical automobile horns was argued yesterday before Judge John Gutknecht in Traffic court in the case of Joseph Radic, a driver for a laundry which has equipped its 50 trucks to play "This Is the Way We Wash Our Clothes" instead of honking.

When Traffic Policeman Jack Maiss heard that refrain on Aug. 17 at 60th street and Yale avenue he handed Radic a summons which charged unnecessary horn blowing. Yesterday Radic brought into court the horn, a lawyer, and officials of the laundry and the horn manufacturers. They argued that the horns are easier on the nerves of pedestrians; that they give a better warning, and that police and courts aren't entitled to do anything about them, anyway.

Judge Gutknecht mused aloud on the specter of 13 million cars tootling the "Hut Sut Song" and observed: "The fine will be $5 and $10.50 costs."

JUSTICE, ILLNESS IN RACE TO WIN MURDERER'S LIFE

John Henry Brown, 25 years old, colored, who is sentenced to die in the electric chair Nov. 21, may not live until then, it was disclosed yesterday at the county jail infirmary. Dr. Andrew Toman, jail physician, said that Brown is suffering from tubercular peritonitis and probably will not live more than a few weeks.

Brown was convicted of the murder of Joseph Gordon, 45, a night watchman, and was sentenced to death July 14 by Judge Julius H. Miner in Criminal court.

BURGLAR GETS $2,750 LOOT.

While the family of Chilton Gaskins played cards early yesterday in their home at 6108 Champlain avenue, a burglar entered a bedroom window and took $125 and United States savings bonds and postal certificates worth $2,625.

SUBWAY TO GET MATERIALS, OPM INFORMS MAYOR

Mayor Kelly said on his return yesterday from Washington, D. C., that he had been assured the 60 million dollar subway project would not be held up substantially by inability to get materials.

The mayor reported that Leon Henderson, head of the OPM division of civilian supply, had assured him the B-1 priority rating granted the subway two months ago would make steel and other materials available with little delay. Completion of the subway tunnels is planned for some time next year.

CITY LAYS PLANS TO ACKNOWLEDGE DUTY TO ITS OWN

Community Fund Chiefs Allot Time to Drive.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Two weeks from today Chicago will launch the 11th annual campaign to assist its own needy thru another year. For the 11th time more than one million Chicagoans will hear from 50,000 of their fellow citizens the story of the Community fund and the 185 private charities and social agencies that make it up.

From now until Dec. 15, when the drive is to close, this army of 50,000 and its leaders, numbering more than 700, will be giving of their own and their companies' time. This fall finds many of the leaders—heads of large businesses and industries — busier than at any time they remember.

Help for Chicago's Own.

Will they be as generous with their time and efforts this year as they have been in the past? Do the leaders participating in their first Community fund drive this year intend to go at it with the same energy they devote to their own businesses and with the enthusiasm of veteran fund workers? Random interviews yesterday among the division chairmen indicate that they do—more than ever before, because of numerous other drives in progress to aid people in foreign lands. This job is for Chicago's own, they assert.

These interviews disclosed also just how much of their time these men are accustomed to give and expect to give to the fund. M. J. Lanahan, of the motor sales company that bears his name, is an example.

Lanahan is head of the automobile division and has been in 7 of the 11 campaigns. During the weeks of the actual drive he donates half of his time, advising the captains under him and spending time in the field himself.

"I am mighty glad to do it," said Lanahan. "I don't know how I could spend time better. This year, more than ever before, we will be doing something for our own people."

Steel Men Ready for Action

George E. Rose, president of the Wisconsin Steel company and vice president of the International Harvester company, is chairman of the iron and steel division. Thru the preliminary phases he has given 10 to 15 per cent of his time, and he is prepared to give more, assisting his 97 captains when the campaign gets under way.

"My time is theirs until we have the $3,583,000 we need," he said. "Our division is rarin' to go. My captains are mostly steel salesmen. They haven't had much to sell lately, and they can't wait to get to doing something again."

Mellen C. Martin, chairman, and W. Ayers Keplinger, co-chairman of the lawyers' division, expect to give practically all their time to soliciting the several thousand Chicago lawyers. Both are members of the firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin & Ellis. Their time also involves the time of secretaries, stenographers, and messengers. They have participated in past drives and are enthusiastic about the one just ahead.

Maps Active Campaign.

Lawrence F. Stern, president of the American National Bank and Trust company, is chairman of the banks' division. He expects to give from 33 to 50 per cent of his time from the outset, slowing down only when his quota of $210,000 has been raised—or exceeded, as it was last year. He already has spent much time in organization work.

F. W. Spiegel, vice president of Spiegel, Inc., who is chairman of the mail order and graphic arts division, is starting his fifth campaign. He, too, is determined to give all the time required until the quota is exceeded, as it usually has been in the past.

F. G. Nicholson, general manager of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, is starting his first fund campaign. It will be his task to direct and assist 65 captains. He doesn't know how much of his time will be required, but he is willing to give all that is needed in covering the vast field assigned to him.

LA GUARDIA TOLD WAR IS OUT AS A CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Fight on the Home Front, O'Dwyer Demands.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 18. — William O'Dwyer, Brooklyn's hard-hitting district attorney and Democratic nominee for mayor, tonight read foreign policies out of the mayoralty campaign and launched a broadside at Mayor Fiorello La Guardia's conduct of the city government. It was the opening shot in his campaign.

William O'Dwyer.

The Democratic nominee, who started his career as a policeman and studied law at night, pointed out that foreign policy was not the business of the mayor of the City of New York, but was handled by the President and congress.

If he is elected mayor, O'Dwyer promised his listeners over the radio, he would devote all his time to the job. La Guardia has been criticized for spending so much time on civilian "defense" activities and so little on the city's business.

Favors "Total Defense."

However, O'Dwyer said in view of the world crisis the voters had a right to know where he stood on foreign affairs. He asserted that he believed in "total defense" and endorsed "the policy of the President in defending our sovereignty and democracy and the policy of the President and congress in giving aid to countries resisting Nazi aggression."

Expressing his hatred of racial and religious prejudice, whether it was represented by communism, Fascism or Naziism, O'Dwyer lit into La Guardia for appointing fanatics, both anti-Catholic and anti-Semitic, to high places.

He named Dr. Charles Fama, whom La Guardia named as a member of the board of employés retirement system, as one who followed anti-Catholic doctrines. He charged that Herbert O'Brien, whom the mayor made a justice of the Domestic Relations court, was anti-Jewish.

"Both bring to their slimy doctrines the prestige of their official positions," O'Dwyer asserted.

Cites Growing Pay Roll.

The Democratic candidate pointed to the swelling city costs and taxes as belying Mayor La Guardia's promises to the voters that he would save money by eliminating useless jobs.

"During the last eight years [two La Guardia terms] the city pay roll has increased from $322,821,594 to $379,089,631, exclusive of rapid transit employés, an increase of $55,000,000; the budget has increased from $615,-327,071 to $667,026,580, an increase of $52,000,000.

"The city has received from the federal government $72,000,000 in cash out of a total of $83,000,000 authorized as grants and has also received from the federal government on account of PWA projects loans totaling $31,350,000.

Pledged to Halt Parasites.

"These staggering increases have occurred despite the express promise of the mayor when he was first a candidate—and I quote, 'to save $50,-000,000 by clearing out a horde of political parasites and cutting out useless jobs.'"

O'Dwyer supporters expressed confidence that Gov. Herbert H. Lehman would indorse their candidate for mayor during the campaign. They recalled that O'Dwyer had gone into Irish sections of the city and campaigned for Lehman in his last run for governor.

In their desire to sidestep the war issue, both camps showed consternation today when Borough President George U. Harvey of Queens, a Republican, issued a statement advocating that no further aid be extended to Russia and expressing general opposition to American entrance in the foreign war. He said he was opposed to the sacrifice of American lives and against financing communism.

CONTEMPT CITATIONS NAME CIO STRIKERS; CHARGE INTIMIDATION

Contempt citations were issued yesterday by Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan against the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the United Packinghouse Workers of America, the Packinghouse Workers Organizing committee, and 12 striking employés as a result of charges that they threatened and intimidated nonstriking workers at three packing plants. Hearing was set for Sept. 30.

Counsel for the companies—Agar Packing and Provision company, P. Brennan company, and the Illinois Meat company—said that the strikers had violated an injunction issued last Friday by Judge George Fred Rush restraining terroristic methods. The strike was called a week ago when the companies refused to rehire 12 unionists who allegedly inspired another strike at the three plants the previous week which was denounced by union officials as unauthorized.

Mayor Kelly disclosed that while he was in Washington, D. C., he conferred with officials of the department of labor about means of ending the strike.

42 Illinois CIO Unions Open Convention Today

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18 (AP).—The first state convention of Illinois unions affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations will convene tomorrow and continue for three days, with officials expecting between 600 and 700 delegates to attend. Ray Edmundson, downstate CIO director, said 42 unions with an Illinois membership of approximately 300,000 will be represented.

ROB TAVERN OWNER OF $700.

Joseph Myss, 45 years old, owner of a tavern at 5650 Diversey avenue, was robbed of $700 yesterday by three gunmen who forced his car to the curb at 2129 North Karlov avenue.

POWER WALKOUT AT KANSAS CITY IS CALLED OFF

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 18 (AP).—Striking electrical workers voted to return tonight, ending a two day strike at the two plants of the Kansas City Power and Light company that darkened and paralyzed the city.

Fred Riddell, president of the local unit of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers [AFL] said the company had agreed to reinstate all strikers, including five men accused of sabotage.

The vote was taken at a meeting of the strikers after they had heard Chester Smith, president of the company. Riddell said the return to work vote was 184 for and two against. First of the returning strikers will report at 7 a. m.

INDIANA WOMAN IS INDICTED AS LOVER'S SLAYER

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 18 [Special].—Mrs. Caroline Payne, business manager of the Bloomington Daily Telegram, was indicted by the Monroe county grand jury late today on a charge of murder in the slaying of her former lover, Charles O. Mattingly, chief legal counsel of the Indiana Public Service company.

The grand jury deliberated only four minutes before returning the true bill. About 100 witnesses had testified in the inquiry, started a week ago. Prosecutor Floyd F. Cook said he would ask Circuit Judge Donald A. Rogers to direct the defendant to enter a plea on the indictment tomorrow.

Mrs. Payne, 43 years old, has been in jail since her arrest immediately following the slaying of Mattingly, who was 41, on July 5. Five bullets were fired into Mattingly's back as he sat in the home of a friend eating a lunch with his bride of a year, who formerly had been his secretary. Cook said Mrs. Payne often displayed extreme jealousy during her 18 years' association with Mattingly.

Learning the Ropes

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 [Special].—Representative Lawrence H. Smith, Wisconsin Republican who Tuesday succeeded to the 1st district seat vacated by the death of Stephen Bolles [R., Wis.], spent part of his first day as a member of the house, learning the legislative ropes from Representative Joshua L. Johns [R., Wis.].

Woman Admits That She's a Quack; Put on Probation

"Mme." C. L. Jackson, colored, 1027 South Paulina street, arrested recently in the roundup of alleged quacks, pleaded guilty yesterday to violating the medical practice act by diagnosing ailments. Judge Harlington Wood, of Springfield, sitting in County court, placed her on probation for six months.

IT'S 'EASY AS PIE' TO PLEASE FOLKS WITH THESE PIES

One Boasts Peaches, the Other Caramel, Nuts.

Here are a couple of superpies you are sure to like. One is a peach cream pie which can be piled into a graham cracker crust and will be just right for any warm autumn evening. The other is a rich caramel nut pie for the first crisp day that comes along.

PEACH CREAM PIE.
[One 9-inch pie.]

1 baked pie shell or graham cracker crust
⅔ cup sugar
⅓ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks
2 cups milk
⅔ cup sliced fresh peaches or well drained canned peaches
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon almond extract

Combine sugar with flour, salt, and milk, and cook in top of double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Add part of mixture to slightly beaten egg yolks, blending well; add to rest of mixture and cook about three minutes longer. Cool and add peaches, lemon rind, and flavorings. Turn into shell and chill. Serve topped with whipped cream if desired, or if crumb crust is used sprinkle some crumbs over top of pie. A meringue topping may be made from part of the egg whites.

CARAMEL NUT PIE.
[One 8-inch pie.]

3 tablespoons caramel sirup
1 cup dark brown sugar
¼ cup flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
2 egg yolks
2 teaspoons butter
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup broken nut meats
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
Baked pie shell

To make caramel sirup, melt ¼ cup granulated sugar in a heavy skillet, stirring constantly; then add 2 tablespoons water and cook to a thick sirup. Combine sirup, brown sugar, flour, salt, and milk, and cook in top of double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened. Add egg yolks to part of mixture, blend well, and return to double boiler. Cook two minutes longer. Add butter and vanilla and cool slightly. Pour into baked pie shell. Sprinkle with nut meats. Beat egg whites until frothy, add salt, and beat to a stiff foam. Add the 4 tablespoons sugar and beat until mixture stands in peaks. Spread over pie and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 15 minutes or until lightly toasted.

Velvety White Festival Cake

Tender and velvety is this luscious white festival cake. Try it with an orange frosting and filling and then decorate the top with shaved unsweetened chocolate. To make the cake add 2 cups sugar gradually to 1 cup shortening, creaming until very light and fluffy. Sift together 3 cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, and 3 teaspoons baking powder. Add to creamed mixture alternately with 1 cup milk. Add 1½ teaspoons of vanilla or other preferred flavoring. Fold in 6 stiffly beaten egg whites and mix to a smooth batter. Pour into two greased 9 inch layer pans and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 35 minutes.

KIN OF INDIAN CHIEF WIN FIGHT TO KEEP HOME

Circuit Judge Denis J. Normoyle indicated yesterday that two granddaughters of Che-Che-Pin-qua, an Indian friendly to white settlers at the time of the Fort Dearborn massacre, will be permitted to live during their lifetime on land claimed by the forest preserve in Maine township. The granddaughters, Mrs. Frances Winters, 64 years old, and Mrs. Catherine Boettcher, 66, have been living on the land for many years.

Judge Normoyle was told that in 1843 President Tyler made a grant of 1,280 acres in the present forest preserve tract to the chief and his heirs in perpetuity. By purchase and condemnation, attorneys said, the forest preserve acquired all the land. Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Boettcher disputed possession of part of the plot, asserting that a provision of the grant requiring Presidential authorization for the sale of any of the land had not been observed by the preserve.

A stipulation arranging for settlement and assuring the chief's granddaughters a home for life is to be presented to Judge Normoyle Sept. 22.

A PINEAPPLE COFFEE CAKE PUTS GLAMOR IN SUNDAY BREAKFAST

Sunday morning breakfast deserves a bit of glamorizing in the way of a special bread—and this pineapple coffee cake does the trick. It's pretty enough to appear on the tea table.

PINEAPPLE COFFEE CAKE.
[Eight inch square pan.]

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
⅓ cup shortening
1 egg
½ cup evaporated milk
⅓ cup water
Topping:
1 cup drained pineapple chunks
½ cup flour
⅓ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons melted butter
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, and sugar. Cut shortening into dry ingredients until mixture is crumbly and dry. Blend egg, milk, and water together and add to dry ingredients, mixing enough to blend. Turn into a greased pan. Arrange pineapple chunks evenly over dough. Mix remaining topping ingredients together until crumbly and sprinkle over pineapple. Bake in a moderately hot [375 degrees] oven about 30 minutes.

THIS WILL ROUSE A NEW INTEREST IN MEAT LOAVES

Your family will take a new interest in meat loaves when they get a whiff of these tiny individual sutffed ones. It's a good recipe for leftover meat.

INDIVIDUAL STUFFED MEAT LOAVES.
[Serves four.]

4 cups ground cooked veal
1 cup fresh bread crumbs
1 egg
1 cup milk
1½ tablespoons chili sauce
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
4 cooked pork sausage links

Mix meat, crumbs, egg milk, chili sauce, and seasoning. Divide into four equal partions and roll each around a cooked pork sausage link, shaping into a small loaf. Place on greased baking pan and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for half an hour. Garnish with sliced stuffed olives.

HILLS BROS COFFEE

PRICES RISING ON SEASON-END FRUIT, PRODUCE

Fall Items Reasonable, Shipper Finds.

BY MARY MEADE.

Don't be alarmed at the few price rises you find in the fruit and vegetable market. Most of the higher prices are on fruits for which the season is drawing to a close and there soon will be other fruits coming into season to take their places. Fresh produce still is the one food that hasn't risen in price.

The great majority of vegetables in the Chicago stores come from nearby gardens or neighboring states.

Green beans which are cheaper this week will need to be selected carefully since all of them aren't of top-notch quality. The average, in fact, is only fair. Beans come from Illinois and Michigan mostly. Green lima beans from Michigan are very reasonable and a smart buy.

Peas Also a Gamble.

Like beans, green peas are of doubtful quality in many cases, so look sharp when you buy. Peas you find nowadays come all the way from Colorado and Idaho.

Corn on the cob soon will be only a mouth-watering memory. It's still quite reasonable, tho the quality is poor-ish and the buyer needs to beware of worminess.

There's a little California asparagus on the market, but it wears a luxury tag. Brussels sprouts and broccoli both come from California and while fairly plentiful these items are not so cheap as vegetables hailing from growing districts closer home.

Salad Makings Cheap.

Salad makings are plentiful and inexpensive; lettuce of the iceberg variety is even cheaper this week. Both lettuce and tomatoes vary greatly in quality.

The first winter hubbard squash is now available and like all squash is very reasonable. Green peppers, spinach, and cabbage are also at the bottom of the price scale.

You'll find carrots, cucumbers [including the tiny ones for pickle making] eggplant, bunch beets, radishes, and sweet potatoes other good buys.

Peaches, Pears, Prunes Wane.

Fruits which are nearing the end of the season and therefore rising in price, are peaches, pears, and Italian prunes. The big blue Italian prunes have been see-sawing up and down in price and may be a bit cheaper again before they finally disappear. The Michigan pickling and canning pears are still reasonably priced. Bartlett eating pears all come from California and the Northwest nowadays.

The trend is toward higher prices on melons. Watermelon continues to be the best buy of the lot from the price standpoint. Illinois and Indiana supply the bulk of the market at present. Honeydews, casaba, and Santa Claus melons are all a little higher priced. Prices on cantaloupe are holding up, too. Cantaloupes vary greatly in quality these days. There are still a few Michigan cantaloupes, tho the local crop has just about disappeared. California and Colorado are the chief sources of cantaloupe.

Apples Are Plentiful.

Supplies of apples are liberal. You can get anything from ruddy little crabapples for pickles to big northwestern Jonathans and McIntosh apples for table use. Apples as a whole are bargain priced. The fancy quality boxed northwestern apples also bring the fanciest prices. Local apples of the same varieties are quite reasonable tho of less attractive quality. Many of them are somewhat immature but in another few weeks apples from Illinois trees should be in the peak of perfection. Wealthies, those grand saucemakers, are here in abundance and are an excellent buy.

Lamb is making news over at the meat counters. Some stores are featuring it all up and down the counter, from tender shoulder chops to very low priced breast cuts. Loin chops and leg of lamb are sale priced too.

Round Steak Cheaper.

Round steaks are getting a little cheaper and are beginning to look like a really good buy. Chuck pot roasts, on the other hand, are getting more expensive. You'll find them featured in several shops, nonetheless.

Pork prices have been easing up on the wholesale market this week, but the slight drops haven't been reflected in retail prices as yet. Pork may be sale priced this time next week. Poultry is still a good buy and one or two stores have a mighty fine buy in ducklings.

SANDWICH LOAF OF FRUIT BREAD HAS DOUBLE USE

This fruit bread is really fruity. Bake it into a sandwich loaf and use it for little tea sandwiches, or as a means of giving variety to packed lunches. When made with enriched flour it's doubly nutritious.

FRUIT BREAD
[1 pound loaf]

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
½ cup orange juice
¼ cup melted shortening
½ cup chopped dates
½ cup chopped nutmeats

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Stir in coarsely chopped nutmeats, chopped dates and orange rind. Beat the egg, add milk, orange juice, melted shortening and mix well. Add liquid ingredients to the flour mixture stirring only until flour is moistened. Pour into greased loaf pan. Bake in slow [325 degrees] oven for one hour.

HERE'S A LITTLE ITEM TO MAKE YOUR HAIR CURL

Carrots! Rabbit food? Not any longer. Home economists claim carrots "make your hair curl" and royal air force pilots eat them to improve their sight after dark. The cooking experts call them a "streamlined, modern food" high in nutritional value and rich in vitamins A and G, and in calcium.

Since it is almost impossible to be invited out to dinner and sit down at the table and not find a dish of carrots—sliced raw, chopped into a salad, or boiled in cubes—a survey was made yesterday of department of agriculture production figures to determine just what effect the current rage for the vegetable has had on the carrot crop.

The result: Well, American farmers planted 46,000 acres of carrots last year and harvested a 17 million bushel crop worth an estimated 10 million dollars. A slightly larger crop is expected this year. Six years ago only 37,000 acres were planted, the yield was 13 million bushels and the crop valued at $7,500,000.

Back 11 years ago the 1930 carrot crop took 29,000 acres, made 11 million bushels, and was valued at $6,000,000. And in 1923, as far back as records are available, only 8,000 acres had been planted, 3 million bushels produced, and the crop had a total value of around $2,000,000.

JUST TRY CABBAGE PAN FRIED—IT'S GOOD AND KEEPS VITAMINS

One of the best possible ways to cook that tender new cabbage you find so reasonably priced in the markets these days is to pan fry it. This way none of the valuable vitamins are lost in cooking waters and the cabbage is wonderfully good.

PANNED NEW CABBAGE.
[Serves six to eight.]

2 quarts shredded raw cabbage
4 tablespoons bacon or other fat
Salt and pepper

Place fat in skillet and add cabbage. Cover pan tightly to keep in steam. Cook slowly over low heat, stirring only occasionally. Remove cover to finish cooking. When the cabbage has lost some of its crispness [about 5 to 8 minutes], sprinkle lightly with salt and serve at once.

Cabbage and Apple Make Taste Tempting Fall Salad

For an inexpensive but taste-tempting fall salad, try this cabbage and apple combination. Combine 2 cups of crisp shredded cabbage with 1 cup of diced, unpeeled apple. Salt lightly and mix with enough cooked salad dressing to moisten. This will serve six persons.

THIS BEAUTIFUL DISH IS REALLY THE CRANBERRIES

Now that the first cranberries are on the market, you'll be anxious to try them in a dish or two. A half pound of cranberries couldn't be put to better use than they are in this delicious and beautiful dessert.

HONEYED APPLES AND CRANBERRIES.
[Eight servings.]

6 medium-sized apples
½ pound [about 2 cups] cranberries
1¾ cups water
½ cup honey
1½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 stick cinnamon

Pare and core apples and place in flat bottomed pan. Add cranberries and water and simmer five minutes, turning apples once. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 15 to 20 minutes longer, or until apples are tender. Turn apples carefully during cooking so they are evenly red. Remove apples to dish in which they are to be served, skim cranberry sauce, and pour around apples. Cool. Cover tightly and store in refrigerator until ready for use.

Self-Conscious? Perhaps This Booklet Will Aid You

How to overcome self-consciousness is told in the booklet, "Charm and Self-Consciousness," by Helen Bartlett, Tribune etiquet editor, on sale at Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn street, and Tribune Tower, 435 N. Michigan avenue. Price 3 cents; postpaid, 5 cents.

SMITTY — BIRDS OF A FEATHER

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1941, by The Chicago Tribune

ALL-AMERICAN —THAT'S SQUASH, WITH US AGAIN

Easy to Prepare, It Is Cheap, and Good.

As American as the Indian, as much a part of the fall season as going back to school, and always inexpensive, squash should play an important part in your menus.

Both summer and winter squashes are available in the early fall and it's a tossup as to which you'll serve. Both types are delicious and easily prepared. The more tender summer squashes require the least cooking time.

All varieties of squash are excellent when steamed. Steaming is the best way to prepare summer squashes. Thin-skinned summer squash needn't be peeled. Cut or slice it in attractive pieces and steam until tender, then serve with salt and pepper to taste and plenty of butter.

Saucepan May Be Used.

If you haven't a steamer, use a saucepan with a tight fitting lid and just an inch or so of water in the bottom of the pan. Boil slowly until tender. Summer squash is a watery vegetable.

Winter squash is of a tougher breed and the seeds, and often the rind-like skin, must be removed. After that it may be steamed or boiled like summer squash, with the exception that enough water to cover is used in boiling.

More often, however, you'll be wanting to bake winter squashes. This is particularly true of the little acorn squash, whose fluted rind is hard to pare away and which cuts up into nice stuffable, serving-size halves. It is generally cut in half, the seeds are removed and the pulpy portion is brushed with butter. Hubbard squash is usually cut in serving-size portions, spread with butter, and baked in a shallow pan.

Use a moderately hot [375 degrees] oven for baking and allow from 40 minutes to an hour, depending on the size and thickness of the pieces.

Pulp Is Good Mashed.

The pulp of baked winter squash, or steamed or boiled summer squash, may be served mashed. Rub the pulp thru a colander, season to taste with salt and pepper, and a little sugar if liked, and whip in plenty of butter. For variety a pinch of cinnamon and ginger may be folded in with the other seasonings, or a tablespoon or two of white wine may be added, along with crisp, chopped bacon.

Summer squash is also good fried. Some cooks prefer to partially cook the squash first, but it may be sliced and, after a dip in seasoned flour, take to the frying pan as it is. The flour coating is all that is necessary if the squash is to be pan fried. Deep fried squash usually goes from crumbs to diluted egg and back to crumbs before its dip in the hot fat. Use a 375 degree temperature for French frying.

Squash custard is a particularly good dish for children, and adults also like it.

SQUASH CUSTARD.

2½ cups steamed, strained summer squash
⅓ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
1 scant teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well beaten
2 cups milk
¼ cup rich cream

Add the squash to the combined sugar, salt, and cinnamon. Stir in the eggs, milk and cream. Turn into a greased baking dish and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven until firm thruout.

CREAMED VEGETABLES IN THIS CHEESE RING MAKES A TASTY DISH

Fill this cheese ring with your favorite creamed vegetable and you have a grand luncheon or supper dish.

BAKED CHEESE RING.

[Serves four to six.]

3 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
3 eggs or 6 yolks
⅔ cup grated or sliced cheese
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
⅓ teaspoon minced parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
1 cup soft bread cubes

Melt butter and add flour. Blend and pour in milk. Cook to a creamy sauce, stirring constantly. Add eggs and cheese, and cook one minute longer. Fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into a buttered small ring mold and set in a shallow pan of hot water. Bake in a moderately slow 325 degrees] oven for one hour. Remove from oven, letting mold stand in the hot water for five minutes. Then carefully loosen sides of mold with sharp knife and turn out onto heated platter. Fill center with any creamed vegetable. Arrange second cooked and buttered vegetable around ring, if desired.

HOT AIR BLITZES MORTAL FOE OF THE LOWLY SPUD

Potato Rot Blocked by Scientists' Tests.

Potato rot, which annually damages millions of dollars' worth of potatoes in transit from farm to kitchen, may be eliminated by use of a process announced yesterday by the Armour Research foundation at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

The disease, known as bacterial soft rot, attacks washed potatoes after they have been made ready for shipment. Sometimes as much as 40 per cent of a carload is affected, causing from a fourth to a third loss in edibility and calory content in the average amount of potatoes bought domestically during a week.

Each Potato Immunized.

Now, after 14 months of research, scientists at the foundation have established a method of treating individual potatoes so that they enjoy comparative immunity from rot.

To prevent spoilage, the scientists agreed at the start of their study, a method of drying the potatoes must be found. After experimentation they decided upon wooden chambers thru which hot air blasts could circulate over the potatoes.

Under the heat treatment a number of additional cells were formed on the periderm, or outside skin, of the potato, thus forming a barrier for the soft-rot bacteria. At the same time the drying process itself killed thousands of bacteria.

The treatment was used by a group of growers near Goulds, Fla. More than 15,000 cars of potatoes were shipped without a single spoilage claim being filed. The experiment was so satisfactory that Lloyds insured the growers' group against spoilage and has never paid a claim.

Flavor Is Unaffected.

Harold Vagtborg, director of the foundation, said the flavor, shape, and appearance of the potato are not altered by the treatment. On the other hand, he added, the life of the potato is lengthened.

F. W. Godwin, assistant director, said that the army and navy, by using the potato heat treatment, could insure the delivery of unspoiled potatoes to units far removed from bases of supply.

Sweet potatoes, which differ in genus from common potatoes, have not responded to the treatment, Godwin said.

BEEF AND PORK LIVER HIGH IN FOOD VALUE AND EASY TO LIKE

Liver is high in food value and beef and pork liver are not expensive. It's also well liked when well prepared as in this casserole.

CASSEROLE OF LIVER WITH VEGETABLES.

[Serves six.]

1 pound of liver
1⅓ tablespoons flour
1½ tablespoons fat
1 cup stock or water
1 cup canned tomatoes
½ bay leaf
1 small turnip, cubed
2 carrots, sliced
¾ cup celery, cubed
1 onion, sliced
Salt and pepper

Cut liver into two inch squares, season and roll in flour; then brown in fat. Add meat stock, tomatoes, and bay leaf. Bake in covered casserole in moderate [350 degrees] oven for one and one-half hours. Add vegetables 20 minutes before end of cooking time.

BEEF BRISKET, WITH A SAUCE, IS TASTY FARE

Fresh beef brisket is a good hearty fare. Serve a horseradish sauce with it to give this economy cut a bit of style.

BEEF BRISKET WITH HORSERADISH SAUCE.

[Serves six.]

3 or 4 pounds fresh boneless beef brisket
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
⅓ cup horseradish
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon pimento

Wipe meat with damp cloth. Place in kettle and cover with hot water. Season with salt and pepper and simmer for three to four hours, or until tender. Melt butter and mix to smooth paste with flour. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Drain horseradish and add with remaining ingredients to the cream sauce. Serve over hot drained meat.

Queen of Kraut Festival

KRAUT, BARRELS OF IT! WIENERS, A TON OF THEM!

It's Forreston's Big Day as Thousands Feast.

BY JUANITA DALY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Forreston, Ill., Sept. 18.—Sauerkraut day, the largest single day celebration in Illinois, began at 5:30 o'clock this morning, when 10 volleys from a shotgun awakened this town of 1,000 persons. Simultaneously the key to the town was thrown away and Forreston was declared wide open for 24 hours.

By noon 20,000 visitors had arrived to reap the benefits of the day—as much sauerkraut, wieners, and coffee as they could store away. In figures it amounted to some 14 barrels of kraut, a ton of wieners, 30,000 buns, and gallons of coffee.

Food Is Main Attraction.

The free lunch stand was the main attraction of the festival. In the middle of the open stand were 11 vats rigged up on wood stoves with tall chimneys. Each vat held about 55 pounds of sauerkraut. At 2 a. m. fires were started under the vats in order to cook the kraut by noon. At least 300 pounds of pork was cooked with the kraut to give it a better flavor.

An hour before the noon whistle blew, visitors lined up five rows deep around the stand. Men, women, and children proffered plates, pails, pots, and even tin cans to the dozen coatless men who were dashing back and forth from the steaming vats. Other servers doled out wieners and buns as fast as they could. And no one checked on refills.

Mounds of Kraut Vanish.

Tho the mounds of kraut disappeared as rapidly as ever, one official lamented that "the kraut wasn't as sweet as last year's." Residents didn't know who was the town's champion kraut eater, but many of the men admitted they could easily handle a half gallon.

The festival was started in 1913 by Justus DeGraff, a public spirited citizen and tireless worker for his community. Returning from a hunting trip that year, Mr. DeGraff passed thru Ackley, Ia., when the town was celebrating Sauerkraut day. Impressed with the spirit of the gathering, he decided to promote a similar festival in Forreston.

The project has gained momentum every year since. This year Mayor Joseph Maas expected 25,000 visitors from Ogle county farms, nearby towns and adjoining states to enjoy a plate of kraut and some weiners before the festival closes tomorrow morning.

Parade Is a Feature.

The feature of the morning program was a grand parade in which every Forreston merchant was represented by a horse drawn or automobile float. On the most elaborate float rode the Sauerkraut queen, Miss Florence Ihm, 17 year old high school senior, who was chosen by a vote of the students. Her attendants were Gretchen Huntley and Caroline Duitsman.

During the afternoon, the visitors were entertained by the Forreston Community band, the Rochelle band, professional vaudeville acts, and the Wyanet Boy and Girl Drum and Bugle corps. Carnival concessions, which lined the two main streets, attracted visitors once they were able to leave the lunch stand.

To climax the evening program, the American Legion sponsored a pavement dance which proved as popular with the old folks as the young. As an educational feature, the festival committee also opened a flower show and agricultural exhibit in the high school. Anyone within a 15 mile radius of Forreston was invited to exhibit and prizes were awarded. The committee hopes to include a stock show next year.

Broiled Lamb Kidneys, Bacon, Tomatoes—Ah-h-h!

Broiled lamb kidneys served with crisp bacon and broiled tomatoes are a delicious and easily prepared dinner. Have the meat dealer leave about one-fourth inch of fat on the kidneys. Split them and place on broiler rack with the fat side up. Broil, with kidneys about three inches from heat, until fat is brown and crisp. Season with salt and pepper and turn. Brush with cut clove of garlic. Continue broiling until done.

AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES WON OVER EVERY BRAND OF GRANULATED SOAPS, CHIPS, POWDERS, IN INDEPENDENT SURVEY WITH CHICAGO WOMEN

American Family Flakes came out first for washing white, first for washing safely, first for best results in washing machines (winning over second-ranking soap by outstanding margins shown above) when Chicago women, who do their laundry at home, were interviewed by members of a well-known, independent research organization.

WHETHER you're using a granulated soap, chips, or powder . . . doesn't it make you wonder if maybe you're missing a wonderful washday opportunity . . . when so many of your neighbors choose American Family Flakes as their 1st choice on these all important washday advantages.

If you haven't tried American Family Flakes since they have been so wonderfully improved, don't you think you owe it to yourself to try them next washday?

When you see what a thrillingly white wash you hang on the line . . .

When you see how washable colors stay so wonderfully bright and gay . . .

When you see how quickly American Family Flakes make rich, abundant suds in your washing machine (see facts below) . . . well, we believe that you, too, will rank American Family Flakes your No. 1 choice!

No matter what soap you're using now . . . no matter how well you like it . . . try American Family Flakes next washday and see if you don't join the thousands who name these flakes as their favorite! We think you'll agree these flakes—which are made especially for the hard water in this area—have earned their position as the biggest-selling package soap in Chicagoland.

GIVES LOADS MORE SUDS — IT'S RICHER SOAP

25% MORE SUDS—Up to 25% more suds, ounce for ounce, than many modern granulated soaps tested in our laboratories . . . Up to 70% more suds than many cheap chips tested. Big soap savings for you!

FASTER SUDS, TOO! American Family flakes make suds more than twice as fast as the average of 10 of the largest-selling package "washday" soaps (flakes, granulated, chips) tested in our laboratory.

Crocheted Scatter Rug

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Creamy white or colored cotton is the newest material to be used for crocheted rugs. A two and one-half or three pound cone creates a handsome rug for the living room, to be used under a coffee table, or as a scatter rug in front of fireplaces. The dusty pastel and clear dark tones all combine for use in any room of the house. Double crochet is the stitch used to create this handsome, creamy white rug.

For instructions in crocheting the scatter rug for a coffee table, No. 986, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Just One More Cocktail May Harm Figure

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We women are sometimes a disconcerting group, as witness a recent occasion in which a loquacious guest elaborated upon her diet "which took off pounds and pounds." Incidentally, the loss was none too obvious to friends and acquaintances, but while she talked, only the waiter knows how many cocktails she consumed.

Perhaps women do not know how alcohol acts in a reducing program. So, the treatment of this theme, found in C. J. Gerling's valuable new book, "Complete Weight Reducer" [Harvest House] may set a few of our silhouette conscious girls to nodding: "No, thanks. Not another! I've had one."

"For the reducing person," says Gerling, "alcoholic drinks work adversely in two main fashions: They stimulate the appetite to an exaggerated food intake and then, in themselves, furnish pleasant and highly concentrated forms of energy which quickly run the daily caloric intake far above normal limits."

Gerling speaks of the concommitant evil of before dinner drinking, the cocktail hour appetizers. Two or three small canapes, 12 to 15 salted nuts, or 1½ cups of popcorn will each amount to about 100 calories.

"As for the calorie content of the drinks themselves," continues Gerling, "all, without exception, are very high. Generally speaking, the average alcoholic drink, whether cocktail, highball, or a bottel of beer, will give at least 150 calories, and many drinks will run much higher. The reducer, therefore, must either avoid these pleasures, or limit himself strictly on them."

Gerling suggests, if a drink is taken before dinner, some items in the meal should be cut down to compensate for it and keep the daily calorie intake within its allowance.

"Also, he must beware of the danger of taking too much drink and cutting down on too much food to make up for it, for in this way he suffers deficiencies of necessary food elements. He should substitute alcohol only for part of his carbohydrates and fats, never for any of his protein, vitamin, or mineral foods."

Universal day—Keep to yourself and don't try to make an impression today.

Names and numbers—Stalin has a nine in that first letter "S," but the next letter is that two again, which we have seen is not very strong when faced with powerful eights. If we look at his first name, we find the strong ten as a first letter and the adjusting six for the first vowel. This is a better combination than found in the names of the French leaders. The duality of the letter "t" has been proved in the case of Stalin and Petain. But note that both have a hidden one in the "a," so they don't give up too easily. Did you notice that Hitler, Hirohito, Petain, and Stalin all have the vacillating "t" in their names?

Announce Plan for Jelly Week to Cheer Needy

Bouquets of zinnias, marigolds, snapdragons and gladiolus are bringing cheer to the sick and needy these days as the Chicago Plant, Fruit, and Flower guild continues its mission of providing "flowers for the flowerless." But the presence of chrysanthemums and other fall blooms warns that the last bouquets for Chicago's hospitals and settlements will soon arrive.

Yesterday Mrs. Stanley D. Grace, general chairman of the guild, announced that Jelly week, always the last week of the season, will be Sept. 23 to 26. Every one is urged to contribute jars of jam and jelly and fruit and vegetable juices for the winter stock of settlements and some hospitals.

"The superintendent of the children's ward at Cook County hospital," said Mrs. Grace, "told me that she divided the jelly last year, an ounce for each child, and they had several parties. They're already looking forward to the jelly parties again this year."

In addition to the jams, this season the guild is asking for potted plants. Many members make it a practice to take slips from their geraniums and other hardy plants, pot them and deliver them to the settlements where the plants thrive thru the winter.

Last year the guild distributed 235,000 bouquets of flowers which were sent from home gardens in the suburbs by more than 2,000 members of the 81 garden clubs which work with the guild. Included in this total were the 66,000 bouquets of lilacs delivered on "Share Your Lilacs" days, sponsored by the guild and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

"The number of bouquets was 15 per cent greater than ever before," said Mrs. Grace, "and we expect to equal the record this year. We also have added six or seven garden clubs to our list."

Mrs. Grace also recalled several special distributions of flowers. They came from a north shore debut party, a funeral in Beverly Hills, a sporting goods house which opened a new store and the Allied Florists after the Navy Pier show last spring.

Every member of the guild donates his or her services and the only funds come from voluntary contributions. Suburban railroads bring the flowers free to stations in Chicago and various business firms supply trucks to deliver the flowers to the institutions.

This effort has been extended for 16 years with increasing enthusiasm in response to stories such as these. Miss Mary Amberg of Madonna center tells of seeing little girls playing bridal procession with wilted flowers which their mothers had cherished for a week, and of a little boy, picking up a fallen blossom, saying "Please may I have this for my sister?"

A 12 year old lad, who lives in a "middle" flat which has no sunshine and little ventilation, appears weekly at one of the settlements for a bouquet for his mother. He accepts it with a grateful smile, saying "The flowers always make our rooms so happy looking."

Doctors and nurses frequently tell how flowers comfort the bedridden, the crippled and the blind.

And tho the flowers die with the summer, the guild does not forget its people. At Christmas time, a collection of books, toys, games, candy, fruit, nuts, children's magazines, and canned goods are delivered to the hospitals and settlements. Little gifts of perfume, toilet soap, compacts, and bedside bags reach many others. And almost before they know it, spring is here with the lilacs and the cycle starts again.

FASHIONS by ANGELA

The feminine sisterhood from grade school to business school likes and spends more time and money on clothes than on any other single feature of daily life. Fractions and word signs take a back seat when the handwriting on the blackboard points to wearable items like these.

Little sister tucks a red silk bow under her chin. Of the same color is the plaited crêpe skirt. It is fastened to a camisole top to insure its hanging evenly on little girl figures. The jacket is black velveteen. Under $10.

Middle sister wears red and black, too, but worked into a plaid. It is a woolen material. A practical color and fabric for school. The plaits of the skirt, of which there are several front and back, are fastened part way down with coarse stitches of red that have a look about them of being hand done. A slick red patent leather belt. Under $8.

And big sister looks smart wearing the casual wool of jerseylike material. It is a ribbed knit of natural color, trimmed with buttons and tabs on the belt of simulated brown alligator.

School Child Needs Fresh Air and Play

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Every child, regardless of age, who is within the four school walls and concentrating largely on the printed page for hours each day, should have plenty of fresh air and exercise as a balance, both physically and in all other ways, each day.

At 8 most school children have no homework or else such a very small amount [as, for instance, a spelling lesson or a short reading lesson] that it should not take more than half an hour.

With the older school child the homework demands are much greater. If he is studying music in order to accomplish anything he needs to spend more time at it. If it is not music he or she is studying there often are outside lessons such as dancing, art, lectures, and so forth.

Frequently parents with a desire to give their child every advantage, or to make him "cultured," or to keep up with the Joneses, will fill all his spare time and leave none for a certain carefree, vigorous, outdoor play and leisurely indoor hours that are the birthright of every child.

Time such as this is needed for mental as well as physical hygiene. Pressure is bad for nerves and poise.

That this is not easy for the parents of high school children I know, but much can be accomplished if parents will see to it that they do not fill up their child's leisure with too many extras that prove to be a drain which is not worth the price.

Anything That Glitters Now Is on Dresses

BY REA SEEGER.

Rather relentlessly the fall fashion season sweeps on to the peak. Despite unseasonable heat, the women downtown, around the shops, tea parties, club meetings and every other activity, are smooth, smart and urbane in new dresses of wool. Costumes that first flash in the bright fall sunshine are of wool, but a filmy thin wool that does not overheat, scratch or cause any other discomfort.

The black wools are the last word in elegance, suavely draped, intricately shirred in some models, simply gathered in others. Nearly all of them have long sleeves that taper to the wrists. Obliging numbers crush either above or below the elbow. Dark bronze green, dark plum red, tobacco brown, taupe, copper, and a natural tone like oatmeal are extremely flattering street shades featured in these one piece dress collections.

Brand new wool cocktail dresses are worth their weight in sequins, paillettes and anything else that glitters. The effect of dress parade accent on such usually casual type materials like jersey and thin wool is decidedly new and different. Rhinestones on jersey provide another thrill. The combines are exotic. For instance, twinkling rhinestones are sewn to caramel color jersey, black sequins wink on topaz colored jersey or wool; black goes on cerise, copper on green, and so on.

Such shining dress successes will be seen in the smartest places, they're the high fashion answer of what to wear in street length models to be sufficiently festive for parties. For these short wool dresses decorated with flashing sequins, paillettes, rhinestones and colorful gold, silver, and beaded embroidery have all the sophistication and slinky effectiveness of dinner clothes.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 18.—As have many others, I've spent years collecting odd names—and I ran across the best of them all just the other day. It belongs to the colored maidservant of a movie guy. When she first came to work he asked what her name was and she said, "Pislam Siv."

"There can't be any such name as that," he marveled.

"It's right out of the Bible," she defended.

"I never heard of any Pislam Siv in the Bible," he said. "Show me."

He got out the volume and she riffled expertly thru it. "See," she pointed, "here it is."

And there, just as plain, was Psalm XIV.

Red Skelton gets the lead in MGM's movie treatment of Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People." It will be a comedy. . . . It looks fairly certain that Ginger Rogers will go to the Warner lot to star in "The Hard Way," an Irwin Shaw scenario based on a Jerry Wald idea. Ida Lupino once was mentioned for the part. . . . Orson Welles has chosen Tim Holt for the lead in "The Magnificent Ambersons." Shooting starts in a fortnight, as soon as Tim can knock off another western for RKO. . . . Leslie Selander, Hopalong Cassidy director, has been borrowed from Paramount to make the Holt horse opera. . . . The Welles assignment is a big opportunity for Tim. . . . Metro has engaged Stella Adler—not as an actress but as a production assistant. Sooner or later she may become a producer and if she makes this berth before Joan Crawford does Joan will be disappointed. . . . Republic is plotting another flicker for Billy Conn, "Down Mandalay Way." John Wayne and Jerry Colonna will be teamed with him. . . . George Marshall, Lucille Ball, Cedric Hardwicke, Dean Jagger, and James Craig depart today for Santa Fe, where RKO will film Bud Kelland's "Valley of the Sun."

James Montgomery Flagg has been in town doing sketches. Couple of days ago he was introduced to one of MGM's noted directors. And honest, so help me, the director said: "I'm glad to meet you. I've admired your Gibson girl for years."

Bette Davis plans to take her lacerated nose and swollen face to her New Hampshire farm immediately and the Warners will have to close down "The Man Who Came to Dinner" today. The picture was all but in the can, with only 10 days of stuff involving Mont Woolley and Miss Davis left to shoot, when a dog nipped Bette on the beak. Yesterday she was working, with her face bandaged, on a closed set—reading sound track stuff. Bette was to have a two week vacation between this picture and the next, so she'll take it now.

Charlotte Greenwood and Charlie Ruggles are a new comedy team for 20th's "The Perfect Snob." . . . Edward Arnold will be the D. A. in "Johnny Eager." . . . Gregory and Grace La Cava are due in N. Y. next week. . . . The Hilltop house recently purchased by Gene Tierney and Oleg Cassini has a guest house—for in-laws. . . . Humphrey Bogart's "The Maltese Falcon" is now known as "The Gent from Frisco." . . . George Meeker, a poker playing devil, has been given a term contract by Warners. He was in "Dive Bomber." . . . Warners are filming "You're in the Army Now." Columbia just finished "You'll Never Get Rich." But the fourth line, according to a hasty check of Hays office title registry, is still in public domain.

Winter Parties Arranged for School Crowd

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE teen age youngsters who are busy with home work five nights a week certainly will have a gay time on Friday and Saturday nights during the school year. Something is planned for their entertainment by their doting mothers for every week-end. The dates for the Dinner-Dance club's parties were announced yesterday and today. Mrs. Nelson Thomasson Jr., chairman of the committee that plans the Fortnightlies, is making known that the 12th season of this organization will open on Friday, Nov. 14.

The Fortnightlies this year will be dinner-dances with sitdown dinners or buffet suppers served at the Fortnightly club, where the parties are given. Heretofore there were private dinner parties before nearly every Fortnightly, but the mothers have decided it is better to have the dinner part of the dance.

Serving with Mrs. Thomasson on the committee in charge this winter are Mrs. John Bellingham Adams, Mrs. James E. Bennett, Mrs. Aldis J. Browne, Mrs. Loyal Davis, Mrs. Charles M. McKenna, Mrs. Hugh McLennan, Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson Jr., Mrs. Dudley Stark, Mrs. William J. Stenson, Mrs. John R. Thompson Jr., Mrs. Wayne Wills, Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley, Mrs. James O. Wood, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Mrs. C. Wallace Johnson and Mrs. G. William Reynolds.

The Christmas Fortnightly will be on Dec. 26.

Dinner Club Is Holding First Party on Nov. 1.

The first dancing party of the season of the Dinner club, which includes 40 girls and 60 boys of sophomore, junior and senior age from Lake Forest to Evanston, will be held on Saturday, Nov. 1. The Christmas party, as usual, will be held on Dec. 30, probably at the Exmoor Country club.

Evanston young people are included for the first time this season, which is the fifth in the club's history. The four parties are given at various country clubs, the last two on Feb. 14 and May 16. Directors of the dances include Mrs. Edward H. Ball III., Mrs. Robert C. Bennett, Mrs. A. Charles Goodrich, Mrs. Stephen S. Gregory Jr., Mrs. Eugene Holland, Mrs. Preston H. Holliday, Mrs. Edward William Hughes, Mrs. William T. Jones, Mrs. George P. Lynde, Mrs. Norbert W. Markus, Mrs. Gilbert H. Scribner, Mrs. Victor A. Spoehr, Mrs. Walter A. Strong, Mrs. Louis Tilden and Mrs. Herman A. Zischke.

Mary Eustis Knowlson Being Married Tonight.

For her marriage tonight in the Emmanuel Episcopal church of La Grange, Miss Mary Eustis Knowlson will wear the handsome gown in which her mother, the former Norah Eustis, became the bride of James Somerville Knowlson. Miss Knowlson and Steven Emmert Scace will be married at 8 o'clock. Only their two families and members of the bridal party will gather afterward at the Knowlson home in Hinsdale.

The bride's gown has a long bodice of ivory lace, a heavy satin skirt brocaded in roses, and long chiffon sleeves. A crown of the same lace holds her tulle veil in place. Her sister, Elizabeth, will serve as maid of honor, and a younger sister, Barbara, will be junior bridesmaid. Their sister-in-law, Mrs. James Somerville Knowlson IV., and Miss Polly Ray, who is here from the east, will be bridesmaids. Mr. Scace will have his brother, Buell, as best man, and Her-

Engaged

[Koehne Photo.]

Miss Mary Leslie Webster, whose engagement to Max Donald Bartley of Indianapolis has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leslie Webster of Evanston. Miss Webster was graduated from DePauw university last June. Mr. Bartley, a graduate of DePauw, is a medical student at the University of Indiana. The wedding will take place on Dec. 27 and Mr. Bartley and his bride will make their home in Indianapolis.

Luncheon, Card Party.

Perez council, Ladies of Isabella, will sponsor a luncheon and card party tomorrow at the Home Arts guild, 205 North Michigan avenue.

June Dorthea Russell Wed to Lt. Manchester

Miss June Dorthea Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Russell of East Walton place, and Lieut. Robert Redding Manchester, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Manchester of Bosworth avenue, were married last evening at 6 o'clock in the John Timothy Stone chapel of the Fourth Presbyterian church. The pastor, the Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson, officiated. Lieut. Manchester has been ordered to report for duty in San Diego on Oct. 3.

Dr. and Mrs. Dietrich Klemptner of North Troy street announce the marriage last night of their daughter, Jeanette Ruth, to Ensign Sidney Lester Nelson of Seattle, Wash. The wedding took place in the Belmont hotel. The bride was graduated from the Chicago Teachers' college and from Northwestern university. Mr. Nelson, who attended the University of Washington, received his commission from the naval training school at Abbott hall and will report for active duty in the 13th naval district in Seattle.

Miss Marie Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph I. Booth of Evanston, and Robert Wilson Howat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Howat of Evanston, will be married tomorrow morning in St. Athanasius church, Evanston. Mr. Howat and his bride will drive south on their wedding trip. Miss Booth was graduated from Barat college and Mr. Howat attended Northwestern university.

The marriage of Miss Betty Berger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Berger of Everett avenue, to Dr. Norman Robert Joffee, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Joffee of East View Park, will take place on Sept. 28 at the Shoreland hotel. A wedding breakfast for the immediate family and a larger reception at the hotel will follow the ceremony.

Thru the Looking Glass

A bad cold plays devilish tricks with your complexion, as you've undoubtedly noticed if you had the bad luck to pick up one of those summer jobs that have been going the rounds.

But we found a wonderful way to erase the ravages of a cold—the surface ravages, anyway. Just drop everything and go to a beauty salon for a face treatment that has two highlights—soothing massage and such skin oiling as you never would have believed possible. The crêpy look that follows the feverishness of a cold is done away with in just one oil mask treatment such as we discovered the other day.

The mask used in the treatment is not like any you've ever seen before. It's oil, lots of it, warm, painted on with a brush. It forms a soft coating and your skin laps it up the way parched earth does a gentle rain.

The treatment begins with soothing cleansing, moves on to gentle stimulation followed by massage for the drooping muscles and is climaxed by the application of the warm, rich oil, which has the fragrance of peaches, by the way. When face and neck are masked with it you rest for 10 minutes or more, comfortably warm and drowsy. The oil is removed with a spatula and the beautiful moist, softened feel of your skin is what every woman with an excessively dry epidermis wants more than almost anything else!

A bracing tieup and a makeup follow, and while they're perfectly delightful and flattering, it's the oil mask that you'll remember. The driest, most stubborn skin yields to its softening influence. It will go down in our book as a winter special, worth every penny it costs.

INSTALLMENT XI.

UNSCRUPULOUS GIGOLO.

There was another little silence. Miles Dorsey didn't look pleased.

"Gay," said Catherine tentatively. "You were just going to ask me about a—a certain young Frenchman. Well, here it is, and Miles can correct me if I go wrong."

She paused. Our Englishman was squirming, very hot under the collar. Catherine went steadily ahead, merely sinking her voice to keep the thing among ourselves.

"Raoul de C.," she began, "is well born—none better. He had money but ran thru it. He's still got brains and talent and all the charm in the world. If his own world is finished with him——"

"It has finished with him?"

"O, definitely! Young Raoul is out." Catherine planked her palm flat on the table. "What can you expect when a person's known to be a card cheat, a sneak thief, and other impossible things besides? It's quite true he's always been clever enough to steer clear of actual arrest. Still, his own crowd is on to him. He's reduced lately to preying on foreigners—silly women, and men, too. You know, don't you, that his particular combination of old nobility, slick modern stuff and personal attraction would be pretty hard to resist? I myself think it partly explains Bliss Abinger's carting him off last winter to St. Christophe—where, of course, your cousin had her villa."

"Bliss Abinger! You mean a hard boiled debunker like him?"

"Catherine's got this wrong," corrected Mr. Dorsey, hating the two of us. "Abinger is hard boiled. He's also hard up, because he overspends and gets periodically stuck for ideas. I quite believe the story he tells. He wanted De Chabenil simply for copy. To base a novel on him, in fact. It was all arranged after some all-night binge, when De Chabenil had been opening up with what seems to be typical frankness."

"O, he never makes a secret of his misdoings, Gay! He's inclined to parade them—as you'll see. Well, then, being on his uppers, I daresay he was glad enough to get down south for a nice winter holiday, in exchange for which he was to relate his life history, uncensored, for Bliss Abinger to use. And in St. Christophe, Miles found them teamed up, when he—Miles, I mean—came down from Paris at Mrs. Rentrew's request to go over business matters with her."

"They'd just separated," grunted Miles. "He was playing gloomy balancing tricks with my roll."

"That's so, the bustup had just occurred—and here's why. Your cousin knew Abinger. When she ran into him the day he arrived with his disreputable friend in tow, well, as Abinger told Miles, he couldn't avoid giving an introduction. He didn't expect to see anything of Mrs. R., being down there to work; but before he knew what was happening——"

"You don't need to tell me, Catherine. Cousin Lou fell for young Bright Eyes with both feet."

"Did she! From that single chance meeting in a village street Abinger lost sight of his guest entirely. Why? Because either De C. was having meals at the Villa d'Azur or whirling off to Monte Carlo, Nice, and so on in Mrs. Rentrew's car and not crawling into bed until Abinger was too tired to take notes."

"Or too drunk?"

"Yes, I know; but anyhow the point is Abinger was paying for recitals he wasn't getting and naturally felt sore. After some two weeks of this nondelivery stuff his finances were reaching a perilously low ebb. He'd wired his publisher for another unearned advance, but he wasn't any too sure he'd get it. Miles, will you tell this, or must I?"

"I won't, that's flat. Why you persist in——"

"O, well! In short, Abinger threatened to terminate the arrangement. I now give you three perfectly good guesses as to what De Chabenil said."

"What did he say, Catherine?"

"Charmingly, mind you, and with that naïveté and good humor you must have noticed. He said, 'But! My dear old bean, why didn't you tell me you were down to your last sou? That's easily remedied. I'll bring you a thousand francs, two thousand, more if you like, at once! She'll never miss them!"

Just like that.

My eye drilled into Mr. Dorsey. "Is this the truth?"

"Abinger vouched for it," he growled.

With a glance at him Catherine continued. "To prove how seriously it was meant, Raoul assured his host the old girl—that's the woman who'd been kind to him!—never did know what money she had, or if she did was too blindly infatuated with him to care. As she made a practice of handing over her bag and letting him settle their various bills he could at any time peel a few milles off her thick bank roll, and nothing, of course, would give him greater pleasure than to assist Abinger in this moment of embarrassment. That's not all, Gay. He—he declared that should any row occur he had ample means of shutting the lady's mouth."

Cousin Lou's perfect aristocrat!

"Blackmail?" I whispered.

My two companions didn't answer. Out of a dead pause Catherine murmured very gently:

"She was rather a prude, you know. Never a breath of gossip that I've ever heard of."

I was getting it now—provided the beastly thing was true. If, as I could quite believe, this was a first and solitary affair. . . .

"And Bliss Abinger?" I demanded.

"Well! Naturally he kicked his delightful visitor out; but that's only the beginning. Bright and early next morning an indignant Mrs. Rentrew waylaid him and asked how he could be so mean, so heartless as to turn a poor stranded and unfortunate man adrift. She even accused Abinger outright of petty jealousy, due to her having shown his guest more attention than she'd bestowed on himself!"

Gosh, that was irony. . . . "And did Abinger let it pass?"

"He had to. As he said to Miles, whom he presently met in the café, anything he might have said would have been branded as a ridiculous, scurrilous libel. The crack about jealousy had sealed his lips. It wouldn't have mattered if De C. hadn't even then been knocking about the village. That being so, Abinger thought some one ought to give Mrs. R. a word of unbiased warning about the shameless blackguard she'd been running round with, before her pearls were pinched or something even worse happened. Here's where Miles comes in. He——"

"Catherine! Surely you've told enough."

"I wonder." She looked at him with dancing eyes. "O, Miles, my darling, hadn't you ever heard the proverb about the tiger's cubs?"

"I was an ass," he gritted. "I got what I deserved."

"I'll say this for Miles," said Catherine judicially. "He'd only just arrived and had no notion of—well, how far things had progressed. In his legal capacity he undertook to——"

"I forbid it, Catherine! The woman was hysterical."

"Please, Miles, do let's make Gay laugh! Gay, haven't you realized Miles' real object in vilifying this Frenchman? He wanted to clear the field of a possible rival. The revolting fact, perfectly apparent to your cousin for some time, was that Mr. Dorsey had been hoping to capture his rich client for himself!"

Catherine's sputter of mirth was an isolated affair.

I remembered that afterwards. Also how a second later we were all of us sitting mute and remorseful. Poor, fatuous Marise Rentrew was dead.

Chiefly, tho, I remembered Miles Dorsey's face. I'd stared at him rather curiously. He hadn't met my eyes.

Savage mortification? This I'd certainly seen in the young lawyer's expression; but I thought some other emotion had been linked up with it. Worry lest, unlike Catherine, I mightn't be taking Cousin Lou's accusation as a side splitting joke?

Catherine had finished the tale after she and I were alone. Cousin Lou had heaped blistering scorn on both Abinger and her solicitor, calling them dolts incapable of appreciating the delicate Gallic esprit. That's how she'd elected to interpret the offer to borrow from her purse. Just a joyous rag only complete lack of humor could fail to recognize as such. And she must have believed this. For hardly had the morning's bus taken Mr. Dorsey to his train before Raoul de Chabenil was installed for an indefinite stay at the Villa d'Azur!

A mad yarn, this. All but incredible—if not quite. I told myself Catherine ought to know; but—Bliss Abinger! Notoriously plastered most of the time, a sorehead as well. . . . Villainy as wide open as this French boy's had a phony look, somehow. If the Saint Cristophe incident was authentic, could De Chabenil have walked right up to me in the presence of Miles Dorsey and brazenly suggested driving me home? Serve like that took some swallowing.

More, in fact, than for an Englishman I know nothing about to have matrimonial designs on a rich widow nearly double his age?

Her Selfish Mother Is Girl's Cross

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Strange mothers there are in this world! Queer, inhuman, monstrous, sometimes.

For instance, a certain case outlined in a communication reaching this department from a daughter who was raised on the principle of getting hold of a man while she's young and bleeding him [the girl's own expression] for all he is worth, and having no truck whatever with a poor fellow her own age.

As expected, it is revealed that mother made a mess of her own life. Her husband walked out on her, never to return, when she took up with a younger fellow whose parents were enormously rich and supplied him with a spendthrift's allowance.

"When my dad left I thought the world was black as it ever could be, because I adored him and he was always good to me. But now my mother insists that I will marry a man I dislike, who is nearer my mother's own age than mine. But he has money. And my mother now has nothing, except what I can afford to give her out of my earnings.

"It's a dreadful thing to say, that one is growing to hate her mother, but I am saying it, nevertheless, after many heartbreaking incidents. She is never satisfied, altho I give her all I can, but being only 21 I can't earn a great deal. She says if I had any heart I would grab this fellow and make life easier for her."

"Correspondent" goes on, but that's the gist of her story and our answer to her is not to marry the man to make life easier for her mother; to marry a man she likes, respects, loves regardless of her mother's feelings. That woman would make a mess of her girl's life as well as of her own. If necessary we'd urge the daughter to threaten her mother with leaving home if she isn't permitted to have the kind of life and marriage that any normal girl would want, and should want.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. William Austin Phelps of Hinsdale announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Conover, to Frederick William Dickinson, son of Mrs. Ruth B. Dickinson and the late William F. Dickinson of Hinsdale. Miss Phelps attended the Northwestern school of music, the Juilliard School of Music in New York, and Columbia university. She has been director of music at Mount Kisco, N. Y. Mr. Dickinson attended Elgin academy and the University of Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Schiff of Highland Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary, to Robert A. Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casril H. Barnard of Winnetka. Miss Schiff attended Stephens college in Columbia, Mo. Mr. Barnard is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

In certain types of hands the declarer's one objective should be to maintain control of the trump suit. I refer to a hand such as the following:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♠ 8 6 3
♥ 6 5 2
♦ 9 6 4 2
♣ Q 7 5

WEST
♠ A K Q 9 4

♥ 10 7 4 3
♦ Q 8 3
♣ 9 4

SOUTH
♠ 7
♥ A K Q J
♦ A K 7 5
♣ A K J 10

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 hearts	2 spades	Pass	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

South chose his three club rebid in the hope that North might be able to respond with three diamonds on any five card suit. As it happened, five diamonds would have been easy but, for that matter, so should the four heart contract.

West opened the spade king and continued with the ace. Declarer, quite overlooking the danger signal inherent in his own short trump suit, ruffed and led his three remaining trumps, his one hope being that the outstanding trumps had originally been divided 3-3. In that case he would be able to cash in all four trump tricks, four clubs, and the two top diamonds. Unfortunately for him, the more normal 4-2 trump break existed. East ruffed the third lead of clubs and returned a spade. Now West could run off his spade suit while declarer had to discard impotently. Thus the contract was down two tricks.

How different it would have been if South had realized the futility of ruffing the second [or third] spade lead! It should have been absolutely clear that 10 tricks were in sight merely by conceding three spade tricks to the enemy, discarding low diamonds from the South hand on the second and third rounds. Now dummy would be out of spades and dummy's trumps would protect South from a force. Declarer would be able to control any lead West chose to make to the fourth trick, draw trumps, and cash all his high cards. In view of the fact that declarer could never hope to take more than 10 tricks, even if he found the extremely favorable 3-3 trump break, it goes without saying that the insurance play described should have been used.

This hand offers the simplest possible illustration of the virtue of conceding to the enemy those tricks which declarer can well afford to concede, and which "belong to them" in any case.

Tomorrow's Hand.

Neither side vulnerable.

Winter Parties Arranged for School Crowd

bert Bruckner, David Collins, Jack de Bacher, and Mr. Knowlson IV. as ushers.

Mrs. Scace, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Scace of the south side, will take his bride to Virginia before they return to Hinsdale tou make their home.

Joseph C. Beldens Giving Dinner Party Tonight.

Guests at Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Belden's dinner party tonight will sing "happy birthday" to their young hostess, as the former Mardo Pattou is 21 today. Next month the Beldens will leave the little house they have been renting on the junior Charles S. Dewey estate in Lake Forest and move into their own home, purchased recently from Mr. and Mrs. Stuart H. Otis. While the house is being made ready for them the Beldens will have a short holiday at the Virginia Hot Springs, for which they plan to leave about Oct. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Roberts, who have been considering giving up their Barrington farm and returning to city life, are planning one of the grand hay ride parties for which they are famous, but this time they will be entertaining for their own friends instead of for a bride-to-be. The party will be given at the next full moon, and the hay wagons will take the guests into the woods for a steak barbecue. About Nov. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will come into town for the winter, probably to the Ambassador East.

George W. Harveys Buy One of Roberts' Farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have sold one of their two farms to the George W. Harveys, who moved in last Saturday. The house on the property is one of the oldest in this part of the country. It was remodeled once by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, and the Harveys added some further touches. That farm and the larger one on which Mr. and Mrs. Roberts make their home were two of the five farms on the original grant of 5,000 acres from the government to the Pomeroy family, 100 years ago.

Announcement is made of the birth of their first child to Mr. and Mrs. William Edgar McKinney on Wednesday in St. Luke's hospital. The baby, a boy, is to be named for his father. Mrs. McKinney is the former Marjorie Leach and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Leach of Astor street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Hosford II. [Lorraine-Marie Roach] and their infant daughter, Deborah Anne, born on Sept. 5, will come from Watertown, S. D., to spend the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Hosford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Roach, in Highland Park. The baby is the Roaches' first grandchild. Miss Beverly Roach, who leaves tomorrow for the Marymount school at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, also will be here for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Roger Faherty and her younger daughter, Ann, are leaving today to motor to Cooperstown, N. Y., where Miss Faherty will study to be a laboratory technician in the Cooperstown hospital. She was graduated last June from Knox school in Cooperstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Niblack Thorne are moving to Arizona to make Phoenix their permanent home. They will leave at the end of the month.

The annual fall hat sale of the White Elephant Rummage shop today will attract capacity crowds as usual. Two full rooms have been set aside to handle the large millinery stock. Some of the hats have come from Michigan avenue and State street stores. Mrs. Roy Flannery is in charge of the sale.

ELEANOR NANGLE REPLIES

If you have a beauty problem on which you need advice, write to Eleanor Nangle in care of the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. For a personal reply inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your question.

Two Polish Coats.

J. C.: It's not necessary to use two coats of nail polish, but two coats offer greater protection against chipping. In the deeper shades a second coat intensifies the color.

Tints for Redheads.

Louise: There is a number of lipstick tints created especially for redheads. The best tones for the current makeup fashion are red with brown, rather than orange, undertones.

Your Stars Today

Supporter.

It's Jerry Freshman's story: Hitler wanted to find out how his public feels about him, so disguising himself, he went into a restaurant, ordered a meal, and when he was paying his check asked the proprietor, "What do you think of Hitler?" The proprietor put his finger to his lips and said, "Sh-h, follow me." He led Hitler into the kitchen, out the back door, into the alley, down the alley and around the corner to a big house, into the back door of the house and down the stairs to the basement, then down a second flight to a kind of subcellar, and thru a door into a padded room. Closing the door he looked carefully about, then turned to Hitler:

"I like him," he whispered.

F. F. S.

I've often thought I'd like to be Related to the F. F. V.
First Families of Virginia, hail!
There's something there you can't assail.
So I had listened patiently
The while a Jefferson or Lee
Explained significance attending
Those from F. F. V. descending,
Until one day I took a look
Into a little plaided book,
And found the Duncan clan to be
Scotland's oldest family!
Some may be F. F. V.—O, yes,
And to any who care, I'm F. F. S.

—Hazel M. Duncan.

Cuffnotes.

Giovanni Martinelli, new artistic director of the Chicago Opera company, breakfasts on a chorus of fruit—three oranges, one lemon, and one grapefruit cut up in a medley. He gives this fruit consumption credit for his excellent breath control. [Colleagues say he can sing an entire opera in three breaths]. . . . Gypsy Rose Lee, authoress, gave what she called one of the literary season's most unusual teas[e] yesterday afternoon at the Four Georges room of the Hotel Sherman when she removed the jacket from her first novel, The G-String Murder. . . . The Charles Yu fans will be glad to know that a limited edition of his verse will be published in November by Chicagoan William Targ. Some of the verses from F. V. and P. will be included and the volume will be called The Poems of a Chinese Student. . . . The first autumn violet is getting to be as much of an annual as the first robin in spring. This year it was found blooming in Mrs. Eltie Matejka's garden in Riverside, Ill.

Lost Whimsy.

Robert Faherty's novel of Key West folk, Big Old Sun, will be published in Swedish. The Tiden Forlag, which is publishing it, will send the author six copies in Swedish, so his wife, Adeline, bought him a Swedish grammar for his birthday and inscribed it, "For My Big Old Swede." She called the Berlitz school to ask what the inscription would be in correct Swedish. The man at Berlitz called back to say that he had submitted it to two reliable sources, both of which refused to translate it literally because it was insulting. They said it should read Till min gamle gode Svenska Van. Which translates into "To my good old Swedish friend."

Martinelli Reveals Opera's Great Need: Customers, He Says

"Customers!" said Giovanni Martinelli yesterday in response to a question as to what opera needs. The famous Italian-American tenor was cleaning up the last of the conferences with which his two day stay in Chicago has ben filled. The most important result of these conferences was his appointment as artistic director of the Chicago Opera company to succeed Henry Weber, resigned.

Fortune Gallo, the company's general director, revealed that many years ago in Havana he and Martinelli had expressed the hope that some day they would be associated in the direction of a major company. That hope will be fulfilled this fall when the two will coöperate in the presentation of what promises to be an interesting five week season.

This season begins Nov. 8 in the Civic Opera house.

Business Men's Orchestra Begins Rehearsals Tonight

The Chicago Business Men's orchestra, George Dasch, conductor, will hold the first rehearsal of the season at 6 o'clock tonight in Room 755 of the Railway Exchange building, 80 East Jackson boulevard. There are several openings for good nonprofessional musicians who wish to become members of the group. The orchestra plays standard symphonic music, and will give three Orchestra hall concerts this year. The organization is selfsustaining, due to the $10 annual dues paid by playing members and the $5 by associate members.

Reunion of Philatelists.

The Pioneer Philatelic phalanx, a national organization composed of men and women stamp collectors, will hold its fifth annual reunion and conference, beginning tomorrow, at the Atlantic hotel. Sessions, which are open to the public, will continue thru Wednesday.

Three Donations Raise Free Ice Fund to $2,110

Three donations recevied yesterday for the Free Ice fund brings the total for the season to $2,110.08. The gifts were $2 from Bobbie, $1.10 from Supoena Fees, and $1 from M. O. The fund is used to provide ice for Chicago's sick and needy, distributed thru the United Charities. Contributions should be mailed to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower. All donations will be acknowledged in these columns.

CARDS, DODGERS LOSE; REMAIN GAME APART

WISCONSIN HAS BETTER TEAM—BUT HOW MUCH?

Two Problems Vex Stuhldreher.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 18.—At each Western conference way station on this trip we have been greeted with grapevine information that Wisconsin, after Minnesota's champions, is the football team to watch this fall. Today's report, after our visit to Camp Randall and a study of Badger statistics, must deny the truth of what Harry Stuhldreher's coaching brethren have told us.

Wisconsin probably will be an improved eleven despite loss of key men from the 1940 squad, but the Badgers may be satisfied if they duplicate last season's conference record of three victories and three defeats.

Wisconsin, in common with all of the Big Nine except Ohio State and Michigan, expects to have an improved team.

Stars Are Graduated.

With John Tennant, Dick Embick, George Paskvan, Gordon Gile, Fred Gage, Al Lorenz, and Cliff Philip graduated, Wisconsin's veterans must improve to equal last year's record and that improvement must have support from sophomores. Wisconsin should have more speed, but still is no better than the average in the conference this year. Forward passing is not exceptional and unless Earl Jefferson, sophomore right half, is kicking, the punting may be average or less.

Illinois is replaced on the Badger schedule by Ohio State, which will be playing a more fundamental brand of football and which tied with Wisconsin for fourth place in the 1940 standings. Marquette, under a new coach and with enthusiasm any change in régime brings, will be an even more difficult foe for the Badgers on opening date, Oct. 4. Probably 35,000 will see these rivals.

A Championship, Maybe?

Wisconsin's conference opponents are Northwestern, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio State, Purdue, and Minnesota. Madison's irrepressible fans, who jammed the dining hall for the annual kickoff luncheon last week, already have matched the Badgers and Gophers for the championship on Nov. 22.

Specifically Wisconsin's personnel problems are the center of the line and right half back.

Claude York, ineligible last fall and the star of the spring games, would have helped tremendously at right half. York has joined the army. Five men are listed at the position and of these, Don Miller, 210 pound senior from Dixon, Ill., could be the ace of the pack. But, Coach Stuhldreher recently ordered Mark Hoskins, left half, and Bob Ray, full back, to learn the right half back assignments.

Thornally at Center.

Dick Thornally, from Morgan Park High school, Chicago, a sophomore tackle last fall, has been moved to center. His 215 pounds and aggressive spirit are said to fill the order, but he still must face the test of competition. Flanking him are two sophomores, Patrick Boyle, 213 pounds, Duluth, Minn., left guard, and Harold Koehler, 198 pounds, Milwaukee, right guard. On this center trio lies Wisconsin's hopes. If they can meet defensive requirements, and if they can supply the offensive blocking it is likely that Wisconsin will do better than break even in the Big Nine. Conceivably the Badgers then will be the dark horse of the campaign.

Stuhldreher's calm estimate of his material, after pointing out the problem at right half and center and guard, is: "We have improved because we have more balanced strength. We will have better reserves if the sophomore group comes thru. However Wisconsin has been

INDIANA is not the only Big Nine conference eleven that has a Hillenbrand this fall. . . . Joe Hillenbrand, brother of Indiana's highly touted Bill, is a junior guard at Purdue. . . . He is expected to see considerable service for the Boilermakers. . . . The family rivalry will add spice, if that is possible, to the annual battle for the Old Oaken Bucket. . . . Thirty-five of Wisconsin's 54 varsity football players are native sons. . . . Seven come from Illinois and three from Minnesota. . . . Ed McKeever, Notre Dame back field coach, says he never has worked with a player who takes instruction better than Owen [Dippy] Evans, junior full back. . . . A move is under way in the Texas league to have visiting teams pay their own expenses, home teams to keep all their receipts. . . . Red Dawson of Tulane, after attending the All-Star game, said the Bears have the T formation down to perfection, but he thinks with their personnel they could make any system click. . . . New Orleans' race meeting next winter won't open until after Christmas, which is expected to minimize complaints from merchants. . . . Howard Pollet, 20 year old pitcher who has helped to keep the Cardinals in the National league race, has a younger brother pitching for a Legion team in New Orleans. . . . John Sisk, former football star with Marquette university and the Bears, recently was elected president of the M club at his alma mater. . . .

Joe Kuhel, White Sox magician-first baseman, recently put on a seance in Philadelphia to display tricks he received from the will of a fellow member of the American Society of Magicians. . . . Five members of the Howard family are on the new list of stockholders of the Los Angeles Turf club, operators of Santa Anita. . . . The Howard list is headed by Charles S., owner of Seabiscuit, Kayak II., Mioland, et al. . . . Harry Mehre, Mississippi football coach, is high on his H boys, Merle Hapes and Junior Hovious, who make their 1941 debut against Georgetown in Washington Sept. 27. . . . Whatever became of those New York Football Yankees? . . . Nebraska claims the tallest end in the country, a sophomore named Bert Gissler, 6 feet 7½ inches. . . . Lou Novikoff rises to announce a correction in his collection of minor league batting titles. . . . The total he says is five, not four, the statisticians having forgotten the time he led the Western association when he was with the Ponca City Angels. . . . His other batting conquests were in the Three Eye, Texas, Pacific Coast, and American association.

YOUR Wake Book.

The 1941 edition of the Wake book is on sale at all news stands today. It sells for 10 cents. Out of town readers may obtain copies for 13 cents by directing their applications to the Chicago Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street. There would be no Wake book except for the grand coöperation the conductor of this column has received from thousands of contributors. The Wake book is intended to present the best verses and most humorous quips submitted since September, 1940. It probably falls short of that goal, but we hope you like it. At any rate, it's YOUR book.

That all is right with the world,
Let's not turn on the newscast,
Leave the morning paper furled;
Let's just sit here and make believe.

Notice that field of burgeoning corn
Rustling in the breeze.

On this lovely morning let's pretend
That this quiet, restful peace
Which hovers over the countryside
Is a permanent surcease;
Look at the flash of that bluejay's wing,
Soaring toward the sun.

CARDINALS MISS GOLDEN CHANCE; BRAVES WIN, 4-1

Demaree's Homer in First Jolts St. Louis.

If—

THE Brooklyn Dodgers, leading the second place Cardinals in the National league race by one game, have nine games to play while St. Louis has ten. If the Dodgers win five while losing four, the Cards would have to take seven of their ten to take the pennant. The standing then would be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Louis	98	55	.640
Brooklyn	98	56	.636

If the Cards win all their remaining games, the Dodgers still could finish on top by winning their nine. That would make it:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Brooklyn	102	52	.662
St. Louis	101	52	.660

The Dodgers' remaining games are: five with Philadelphia and four with Boston. The Cards play six with the Cubs and four with Pittsburgh.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 18 (AP).—Opportunity pounded on the Cardinals' door today, but they couldn't answer with base hits and lost a chance to take over the National league lead. They made only six hits off Manuel Salvo, and lost to the Boston Braves, 4 to 1.

The Cardinals had holes in the bats they were waving at Salvo, and it has been that way for more than two weeks, making it a wonder they have been able to stay up in the race. They have scored only 46 runs in their last 16 games, an average of less than three tallies a game, and their batting average over that stretch has been .207.

Score in Second.

Against Salvo the Cardinals put together Estel Crabtree's triple and Marty Marion's single for a run in the second inning, but Stan Musial's single and Johnny Mize's double just meant two men left on base in the third. The remaining two hits—singles by Jimmy Brown and Gus Mancuso—were wasted in double plays.

Morton Cooper, who throws a speed ball and a sharp curve, could have made a battle of it except for his home run pitch. He served one to Frank Demaree after two Boston singles in the opening inning. Frank's drive was his only hit of the series. Gene Moore's home run in the sixth inning was just so much more black crepe for the Cardinals.

Meet Cubs Next.

The Cardinals now tackle Chicago and Pittsburgh while Brooklyn finds supposed easier pickings with Philadelphia and the Braves. Score:

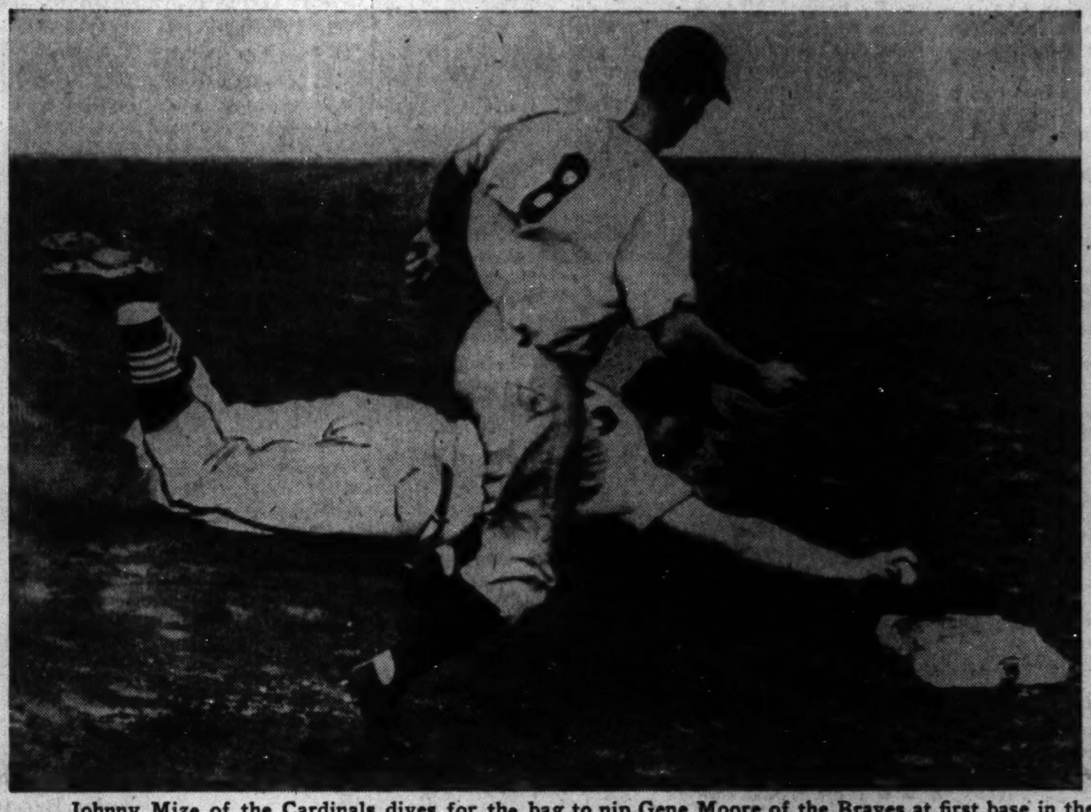
HARMON PLACED IN CLASS 1-A BY DRAFT BOARD

Tom Harmon may be in the army any day now. The Michigan 1940 All-American's request for reclassification to Class 3-A yesterday was denied by his Gary draft board. Harmon was placed in Class 1-A where he is subject to immediate physical examination and induction.

Harmon was granted a deferment by the board to finish his senior year at Michigan. Last week he asked for reclassification on the grounds that his parents are dependents.

A Hot Pennant Race Bursts Into Flame



Johnny Mize of the Cardinals dives for the bag to nip Gene Moore of the Braves at first base in the third inning of yesterday's game in St. Louis. Manuel Salvo held the Cards to six hits as Boston won, 4 to 1, keeping St. Louis a game behind the pacesetting Dodgers. [Associated Press Wirephotos.]

Tempers flare, too, in the heat of the pennant drive. Here Umpire George Magerkurth steps between Larry French of the Dodgers and Frank Gustine of the Pirates to avert a brawl in Pittsburgh. French had just hit Gustine with a pitched ball. Coach Jake Flowers and Pee Wee Reese, both of Brooklyn, and Manager Frank Frisch of the Pirates also were on the scene. Pittsburgh won, 6 to 5.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers argues it out with Magerkurth in the eighth inning and, as usual, the umpire wins. Leo was ordered from the field.

Huzzah! Cubs Win, 7-1; Soar Into 5th Place

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs yesterday brought to a successful conclusion their season's commerce with the Giants. Bill Terry's boys, to all appearances, had their minds on the fact that they soon can go into hiding for the winter, so they just kicked the ball around while the Cubs were engaged in run making. The upshot was a 7 to 1 triumph for the Chicagoans, who thereby leaped into fifth place. On the year's work, however, the New Yorkers finished with a 13 to 9 edge over Jim Wilson's entry.

For a time, the struggle, what with Jake Mooty doing very well in behalf of his eighth victory and Tom [Lefty]

PIRATES BEAT LEADERS, 6 TO 5; TEMPERS FLARE

Rows and Disputes Mark Contest.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 18 (AP).—The belligerence of the Brooklyn Dodgers in their battle for the National league pennant cost them a 6 to 5 defeat today at the hands of the Pirates.

The Dodgers came up with another of their late rallies—five runs in the eighth—and then nullified this effort with an outbreak of frayed tempers, which caused Hugh Casey to throw away the game and Manager Leo Durocher to be chased off the field by Umpire George Magerkurth.

Dodgers Score in 8th.

Brooklyn scored all five of its runs in the eighth after two were out and then Luke Hamlin came in to pitch. The score was 5 to 4.

Vince DiMaggio led off for the Pirates with a single and raced to second as Ducky Medwick fumbled the ball. Casey replaced Hamlin. DiMaggio went to third on a fly by Debs Garms and was held there while Pinch Hitter Maurice Van Robays grounded out. Then with two strikes on Catcher Al Lopez, Casey committed a balk and Umpire Magerkurth waved DiMaggio home with the tying run.

The Dodgers were infuriated and Casey was the most furious of all—tho all joined in a mass protest, claiming Lopez had stepped out of the batter's box.

Umpire Rebukes Casey.

When order was temporarily restored, Casey hurled three consecutive high and wild pitches. Magerkurth whipped off his mask, strode out to the pitcher's mound and told Casey that the pitcher could not make a travesty of the ball game.

Durocher came charging at Magerkurth's heels, protesting volubly. The manager planted himself between Casey and Magerkurth, who disclosed that Durocher argued he was interfering with the pitchers and used bitter language. Magerkurth ordered Durocher out of the game and Umpire Tom Dunn escorted him off the field while the crowd of 9,021 fans, who had cheered the Dodgers earlier, gave vent to jeers.

Lopez walked on the first pitch after play resumed and Alf Anderson then connected for a triple to bring home the winning run.

A Roaring Finish.

It was a roaring finish for a game which had been packed with thrills.

For seven innings Johnny Lanning yielded only two singles, and one of these was a grounder which hit Second Baseman Stu Martin in the face, knocking him out.

In the meantime the Pirates piled into their old jinx, 40 year old Freddie Fitzsimmons, for four runs on a burst of five hits in the fourth. Fitzsimmons was removed for a pinch hitter in the next inning and escaped being charged with the loss, thus maintaining his string of 13 victories over the Pirates in the last three seasons.

Larry French went to the mound for the Dodgers and in the seventh he hit Frank Gustine on the arm with a pitch and Gustine threw, or let slip, his bat at the pitcher. French came marching menacingly toward the plate, but Magerkurth prevented an outbreak.

Pursue Umpire After Game.

On his way to the visitors' dressing room, Durocher broke a couple of chairs and lights.

After the game several Dodgers crowded about Magerkurth under the grandstand and, he said, resumed "vile personal abuse." Eddie Stewart, umpire who helped handle the game, broke up the gathering.

Bill Klem, umpire in chief, witnessed the game from the grandstand and said he was making a personal investigation. Magerkurth telephoned a full report to President Ford Frick of the National league and then started a lengthy full written report.

The umpires agreed that Casey had balked by stopping his windup when it looked as if DiMaggio was going to steal home, and then starting the pitch again. Score:

Colonels Beat Millers; Meet Wings in Finals

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 18 [Special.]—The Louisville Colonels defeated the Minneapolis Millers, 7 to 1, today to win their American Association semi-final play-off by four games to two.

The Colonels now will move on to Columbus, where they will meet the Red Wings tomorrow night in the first game of the seven game finals. Les Fleming probably will hurl against Johnny Grodzicki of the Red Wings.

Oscar Judd limited the Millers to five hits this afternoon while his mates were pounding three Miller hurlers for 16. Tony Lupien led the attack with five for five, two of them doubles.

Louisville won 14 of 22 games with Columbus during the season. The first two games will be played in Columbus, the next three at Louisville, and the sixth and seventh games, if needed in Columbus.

Four South Side Prep Elevens Play in Double Header Tonight

Four south side prep elevens will get together in Shewbridge field, 74th and Aberdeen streets, tonight for a Public School league double header. Morgan Park and Calumet will open the program at 6:45 o'clock and they will be followed by Harper and Parker. Steinmetz and Foreman also will perform under the lights, meeting in Spencer field, 4200 North Central avenue. The lone afternoon game on the schedule will send Englewood against Du Sable at 83d street and Yates avenue at 3 o'clock.

The passing combination of William [Red] Johnson and Art Stevens, which led Amundsen to the north section championship last year, has come to the parting of ways. . . . Johnson has enrolled at the University of Minnesota and Stevens now is a member of the University of Kentucky freshman squad. . . . Coach Louis Jorndt's back field performers this season are Ken Vollman, right half; Bob Crossman, full back; Bill Chandler, left half, and Ray Rasmussen, quarter back, who last year was an end. . . . Amundsen will seek its second victory of the 1941 campaign against Sullivan in Winnemac park tomorrow afternoon.

Lindblom and Tilden Tech, perennial contenders for the central division championship, will move onto Soldiers' field tomorrow afternoon for their annual battle. . . . Two other central section teams—Du Sable and Phillips—have selected the lake front arena for their contest on Oct. 25. . . . The Phillips eleven this season is under the direction of Len Sachs, veteran Loyola university basketball coach. . . . Marv Adams has started his second year as head coach at St. Philip. . . . The squad meets Harrison Tech in a practice game tonight in St. Philip field, Van Buren and Albany streets.

Ed Kalish, left end, has been elected captain of the Hyde Park eleven. . . . Three former Fenger stars are playing in the National Football league. . . . They include Ray Apolskis with the Chicago Cardinals, Aldo Forte with the Chicago Bears, and Rudy Mucha of the Cleveland Rams. . . . The Little Seven conference will start tomorrow afternoon with three games. . . . Wheaton, defending champion, invades Batavia; Geneva travels to Sycamore, and Dundee meets Naperville on the latter's field.

Big Eight conference elevens will be busy tonight. . . . Joliet will engage Bloom in Chicago Heights, Elgin will entertain Maine, West Aurora will play Glenbard on the West Aurora gridiron, and East Aurora will play at Thornton. . . . York of Elmhurst will help East Moline inaugurate its 1941 season in East Moline tonight. . . . East Moline has only three regulars back from last year's team which won five games, tied one, and lost to York and Moline.

Two Day Trial Is Scheduled for Springers

BY BOB BECKER.

Sportsmen will see trained springer spaniels from Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Illinois in the field trial which starts tomorrow morning under the auspices of the English Springer Spaniel Club of the Central States. This 10th annual test for spaniels will be held at Lake Bluff, Ill., near the junction of Green Bay road and route 176 which runs west of Lake Bluff.

Judges J. E. Hoenes of Milwaukee and J. L. Harding of Chicago will pick the winners in the puppy, amateur open all age and shooting dog stakes tomorrow. Sunday will bring the topnotch springers into action in the open all age stake, which carries points toward national honors.

B. F. Genty, president of the club, said yesterday that practically all of the top flight field trial springers in the middle west have been entered in this trial, including some of the nationally known winners from the kennels of David Silberman, Chicago, and James Simpson Jr., of Wadsworth.

Schalk's Evergreen Towers Center to Open Tonight

The first of more than 25 leagues already scheduled will open Ray Schalk's Evergreen Towers Bowling center at 2535 West 95th street, Evergreen Park, tonight. The circuit is the Beverly Country Club league. The establishment is equipped with 24 bowling lanes and 12 pocket and billiard tables. Architecturally, the building is a radical departure from the usual bowling establishment.

Huzzah! Cubs Win, 7-1; Soar Into 5th Place

Sunkel doing a neat job in his debut under the Terry colors, bore the earmarks of a major league affair. But, in the seventh a 1 to 1 situation was blown apart by a few Cub hits and three Giant blunders, one of which was of such a hilarious nature that four men scored on a single. Altogether, the inning netted six runs.

Jake Is Just Too Good.

Mooty handled his enemies so skillfully that he experienced only one shaky inning, the third, when the Giants accumulated three of their four hits. Sunkel was equally elusive for a certain stretch, yielding only three separated singles up to the end of the sixth. But in the seventh, between hits, an error on a fielder's choice, he was able to retire only one of five Cubs. So Cliff Melton was called. He was yanked after two pitches, one of which became a single. Next came Bob Bowman, who immediately surrendered the hit that cleaned up the bases, thanks to aid from Johnny Rucker in center field.

The one run assessment that put the Giants ahead momentarily in the third could have been worse. John Davis opened with a two bagger to left, the first hit of the matinée, and moved to third when Sunkel beat out a bunt. Happily for Mooty, Rucker rolled into a double play, Davis scoring. Nick Witek then singled, but was erased in an attempt to steal.

Novikoff Starts Trouble.

Lou Novikoff, whose big league pleasures have been painfully limited, engineered the maneuver by which the Cubs moved into a tie in the fourth. He led off with a single to left and Bill Nicholson walked. After Babe Dahlgren had flied to center, Clyde McCullough also walked, filling the bases. Novikoff waddled home when McCullough was being forced on Lou Stringer's bounder to Bill Jurges.

The giddy seventh began with a single by Bob Sturgeon, who arrived at second ahead of Sunkel's throw on Mooty's bunt. Witek fumbled Stan Hack's sacrifice to fill the bags and Sturgeon scored on Barney Olsen's fly to left. Novikoff walked and the bases were filled. This was where Melton came in, but, on the second of two pitches, Nicholson singled to score Mooty. Out went Melton and in came Bowman, whereupon the pièce de résistance of the Giant defense was unveiled. Rucker let Dahlgren's single roll to the wall and everybody scored, including Dahlgren.

The Cubs now will endeavor to take another whack at the Cardinals, whom they meet on the latter's lot today, tomorrow and twice on Sunday. For today, the Cards will be offered Paul Erickson, the young man who helped to trim them in the recent double header in Chicago.

RIGGS DEFEATS JACK KRAMER IN PACIFIC TENNIS

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 18 (AP).—Bobby Riggs, national singles champion, and Frankie Parker gained the semi-final round of the Pacific Southwest Tennis tournament today.

Riggs defeated Jack Kramer, 6-2, 10-8, while Parker subdued Larry Dee of Stanford university, 8-6, 6-2. Dee had eliminated Don McNeill and veteran John Van Ryn in earlier rounds.

Frank Kovacs and George Richards, who meet in the other semi-final, gained the round yesterday.

Dorothy Bundy reached the women's semi-finals with a 6-4, 3-6, 6-1 victory over Louise Brough and will meet Gracyn Wheeler Kelleher, who defeated Gertrude Dockstader, 6-3, 6-2.

WHITE SOX HAVE ANOTHER DAY TO PONDER FAILURES

They Face Equally Pallid Tigers Tomorrow.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox, those great beeg major league slashers who don't know their own strength, or at least don't know how to use it, sneaked back into Chicago yesterday, and today can loaf without going to a ball park to do it. Today is a day off and they can put baseball out of mind, if, indeed, they didn't do so immediately after taking a double header from the Indians on Labor day.

Tomorrow Dykes' Terrors will play the first of six games with the Detroit Tigers, who expect to supplant the Terrors in the first division. Thornton Lee will be making his second try for his 20th victory of the season and it is conceivable that even the more drowsy of the Comiskey protegés may bestir themselves by way of helping the popular Lee reach the coveted mark, provided Lee himself pitches a shutout. One thing is practically certain—the Terrors won't make more than three runs unless Detroit makes a lot of errors.

That's Ancient History.

Chicago goes into the Detroit games with a record of nine victories and seven defeats in the season's competition, but that proud record was established when Chicago looked like a major league outfit, and that wouldn't be in September. It is true, however, that the Tigers, during the recent final invasion of the east, were in almost as deep a coma as the Sox.

The impending series might well be billed as the Battle Between Two Teams That Ought to Be Ashamed of Themselves.

The Windup Is Near.

The teams will play a single game Saturday and a double header Sunday. Monday and Tuesday the Sox will be back at loafing in mufti but on Wednesday will be urged to don their uniforms and vie with the Indians in a single game in Comiskey park. The Sox then will be hauled to Detroit to finish the season in a three game series.

CARDS RELEASE ARMSTRONG AND BALAZS ARRIVES

The Chicago Cardinals yesterday released Charley Armstrong, the former Mississippi college back field star, to make room for Frank Balazs, 210 pound full back purchased Wednesday from the Green Bay Packers.

Coach Jimmy Conzelman said yesterday that he expects Balazs, who averaged 4.3 yards per ball carrying attempt last year, to make some of those first downs the Cards missed Tuesday night when they lost their season's opener to the Cleveland Rams.

Reds Capture Double Header from Phillies

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 18 (AP).—Cincinnati Reds banged shut the season's book on Philadelphia with a double victory today and a sweep of the four game series, 5 to 0 and 9 to 2.

Ray Starr, veteran minor leaguer up from Indianapolis, administered the whitewash. The Phils bowed to the Reds 16 of 22 times this season.

SMILIN' JACK—NO TRESPASSING

ALLERDICE QUITS MICHIGAN; WILL ENTER PRINCETON

Sophomore Is Considered Passing Threat.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 18 [Special].—John Allerdice, sophomore back field candidate from Indianapolis, Ind., has quit the Michigan football camp, it was learned here today.

Allerdice, whose father, the late David Sr., captained the Michigan team in 1909, apparently believed his chances of becoming a regular were negligible.

An excellent passer, Allerdice failed to show promise of becoming a strong running or kicking threat.

It was said tonight that he would enter Princeton, where his older brother, Dave Jr., was a back field star for three years. Dave was a member of the College All-Americans' squad which met the Chicago Bears in Soldiers' field, Chicago, last month.

PURDUE SEEKS 1ST TEAM.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 18 [Special].—Raymond Stoelting, a sophomore, was shifted from center to end on the Purdue football squad this afternoon as Coach Mal Elward continued his effort to find the most effective combination for the opener with Vanderbilt here a week from Saturday. Stoelting, a 6 foot 3 inch 195 pound player, has shown promise as a blocker and may solve the wing problem.

During a scrimmage the blocking of three quarter back candidates, Bob Kersey, Fred Smerke, and Bob Hajzyk, was impressive. Only a comparatively light drill is scheduled for tomorrow. The squad will meet the freshmen Saturday afternoon.

FROSH GIVE ILLINI TROUBLE.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 18 [Special].—Illinois' varsity stopped a freshman eleven using Minnesota plays today after being scored on at the beginning of a scrimmage. Impersonating Minnesota's Bruce Smith, Freshman Art Bufelmeyer of Beardstown ran twenty yards for a touchdown. The varsity also had trouble halting Full Back Ray Florek, late of Chicago's Fenger High, who plunged thru big openings. Coach Bob Zuppke put Sophomore Bob Wilson at first string guard because of his fine defensive work.

The hard hitting freshman team included Al Pike, West Aurora; Erving Ridge, Sterling; Bernard Rosen, Chicago [Hyde Park]; M. Craig, Champaign; Ray Bordner, Lewistown; Sam Filippo, Chicago [Fenger], and Don Walters, La Salle-Peru, in the line, plus Bufelmeyer, Florek, Jack Hindron, Chicago Heights, and Mac Weskenas, Georgetown, in the back field.

HAWKEYE PASSING RAGGED.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 18 [Special].—Iowa's Hawkeyes went thru two ragged passing workouts today, following three straight days of long scrimmages. None of the passers was effective, and Dr. Eddie Anderson said plenty of work will be needed to make the aerial attack function as any sort of a threat before the opening game a week from Saturday.

Capt. Bill Diehl, center, Bob Bender, half back, and John Staak, tackle, were left out of today's drills because of injuries.

BUCKEYES SEEK KICKERS.

Columbus, O., Sept. 18 [Special].—A search for punters, place kickers and passers took up most of the Ohio State practice today.

Coach Paul Brown continued to shift the personnel of the three teams and there were no definite first, second or third teams. Peter Hershberger replaced Charlie Anderson at left end on the varsity; Jack Rosen took over Earl Martin's center position and Charles Csuri and Dick Fisher returned to the first team duty in place of Capt. Jack Stephenson and Paul Sarringhaus at tackle and half back. Graf, Burkett, Fisher, and Kinkade showed best at punting.

HOOSIERS EMPHASIZE RUNNING.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 18 [Special].—Increased drive was injected into the Indiana running attack today with the shifting of Bob White from blocking back to full back. Three players were added to the casualty list. Al Bragalone, veteran guard, received a knee injury, Bob Zimny, sophomore tackle, a severe shoulder bruise, and Dan Preger, half back, a sprained ankle. Today's drill consisted of a blocking scrimmage against the freshmen.

MARQUETTE SCRIMMAGES.

Wisconsin Has Hopes

Marlin (Pat) Harder, one of Milwaukee's all-time high school stars, is a sophomore full back candidate at Wisconsin.

[Associated Press Photos.]

Lloyd Wasserbach of Bailey's Harbor, Wis., is one of three veteran tackles on the Wisconsin squad. He is a junior.

Varsity Holds Defense Drill at Notre Dame

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 18 [Special].—The first defensive scrimmage of the season featured today's Notre Dame workout as Coach Frank Leahy turned attention to the opener with Arizona here on Sept. 27. Today's skirmish gave the regulars an opportunity to see Arizona plays, as imitated by the fourth team.

Tomorrow and succeeding days will find the reserves using the tricky Arizona pass plays developed by Coach Mike Casteel, off the basic Notre Dame system.

Wally Ziemba of Hammond, Ind., junior center who was converted from right tackle last spring, participated in today's skirmish. He had been held out of contact work for several days due to a knee injury. His mates in the line were Bob Dove and George Murphy, ends; Capt. Paul Lillis and Jim Brutz, tackles, and Joe Laiber and Bob Maddock, guards. The backs were Bob Hargrave, Owen [Dippy] Evans, Steve Juzwik and Angelo Bertelli.

N. U. TRAINER SMILES.

Carl Erickson, Northwestern trainer, is all smiles. The first week of football practice has gone by without a serious injury. Art Wandtke, reserve end, who twisted a knee on the opening day, is ready to resume drills, which will leave the training room completely empty.

Trainer Erickson ascribes the lack of injuries to the excellent condition in which the squad reported for practice this fall.

The daily practice periods were reduced to a single afternoon workout yesterday with the opening of class registrations. The drill was confined largely to reviewing plays and correcting faults which cropped up in Wednesday's scrimmage. Another light workout is scheduled for today in preparation for an intrasquad scrimmage under game conditions tomorrow.

WISCONSIN HAS IMPROVED TEAM —BUT HOW MUCH?

Two Problems Vex Harry Stuhldreher.

Must Fight Complex.

Underlying a discussion of material and strategy, is the fight against a defeatist complex that has often cost Wisconsin a deserved victory. Last year's rally against Purdue was worth pages of instruction for it brought home to these players the truth of the copy book adage that the game is not lost until the final whistle.

Stuhldreher's greatest contribution to Wisconsin, aside from his success as an administrator, has been an unceasing fight to make the Badgers believe they are the equal of any team and that eventually Wisconsin will have its share of victories.

Len Seelinger, Great Falls, Mont., left half back, who was injured last year before the season started; Pat Harder, Milwaukee, full back, who starred in the first scrimmage of the year; Frank Granitz, Milwaukee left half; Boyle and Koehler, guards; Ashley Anderson, Milwaukee, quarter back; Richard Loepfe, Milwaukee, tackle; Bob Hanzlik, Chippewa Falls, end; Jack Mead, Milwaukee end, and Frank Lopp, Duluth, Minn., tackle, are among the outstanding sophomores on the varsity squad of 50.

The rankings of the varsity squad, with asterisks indicating names of sophomores, follow:

ED LECHNER RETURNS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 18 [Special].—Ed Lechner, veteran reserve tackle, today rejoined the Minnesota squad after missing almost a week of practice because of illness. The 220 pounder did little more than limber up, but squad doctors say that he undoubtedly will be ready for the Washington game Sept. 27.

Another cripple returned to action today. Bob Fitch returned to left end in the dummy and tag scrimmage, spelling off Herb Hein.

Coach Bernie Bierman spent much time with passing and kicking in today's two sessions. The Gophers appear well fixed for punters, with Daley, Smith, Garnaas, and Frickey, all having shown well in this department. Bruce Smith appears to be the only dependable passer on the squad now, but Bud Higgins and Herman Frickey are getting plenty of instruction.

FLOAT AWAY IS VICTOR IN PHOTO FINISH BY NOSE

Woodsaw and Prairie Dog Tie for 2d Place.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Three of Hawthorne's most popular sprinters—Float Away, Woodsaw, and Prairie Dog—went nose and nose across the finish line in yesterday's Brown Wisdom purse. Float Away, jammed in between the other two, got the judges' decision by the margin of a nose but the camera showed a dead heat for second place between Woodsaw and Prairie Dog.

Float Away, the even money favorite, was Don MacAndrew's third winner of the afternoon. Woodsaw and Prairie Dog each was held at 5 to 1 in the field of six.

MacAndrew followed up his victory on Float Away by bringing in Lyner for his fourth victory of the afternoon.

Equistar's Early Run Fails.

Prairie Dog, Float Away, Dusky Duke, and Equistar broke on even terms at the start of this 6½ furlong dash. Woodsaw and Caddiecay were slower to settle into stride. As they went down the back stretch, Equistar gradually forged ahead and drew out to a lead of three lengths as they went around the curve. Prairie Dog and Float Away were in pursuit and Woodsaw was beginning to improve his position.

There was a general closing in as the stretch run began. Float Away and Prairie Dog, running head and head, steadily wore down the tiring Equistar. Woodsaw, which had been forced to go to the extreme outside, was closing resolutely. As the others dropped out of it, these three came on side by side for one of the closest finishes of the season.

The winner's time of 1:18 1-5 was only four-fifths of a second slower than the track record. Float Away paid $4.20, $2.40, and $2.40 across the board.

Another for Mucho Gusto.

Mucho Gusto's 9 year old legs returned to perfect running order yesterday. He beat four rivals in the Phil Gilman purse over the route of a mile and a sixteenth. Kirby Ramsey's veteran campaigner had started the season with six consecutive victories, including the Kentucky handicap. When he came up to Chicago, however, he went into a summer slump and one victory at Arlington Park was all he could accomplish until yesterday's September sunshine put a new spark in his ancient hoofs.

The crowd decided that this was the old boy's day—so they installed him as the 8 to 5 favorite against Sun Alexandria at 5 to 2, Rahanee at 7 to 2, Spiteful at 5 to 1, and Valdina Star at 9 to 1.

Wins in Stretch.

Mucho Gusto swung into excellent stride as he went out to follow Sun Alexandria's speedy pace. Mucho Gusto usually likes to set the pace, but Don MacAndrew took him under restraint as soon as it became apparent that Sun Alexandria was going to put so much zip into the job that an early challenge would only kill off both.

Mucho Gusto bided his time until they approached the stretch. Then he went up to engage the pacemaker, wore him down in the straightaway, and still had enough left to hold Rahanee safe. Mucho Gusto beat the latter by two lengths while Sun Alexandria was saving third place. The prices on the winner were $5.40, $3, and $2.20.

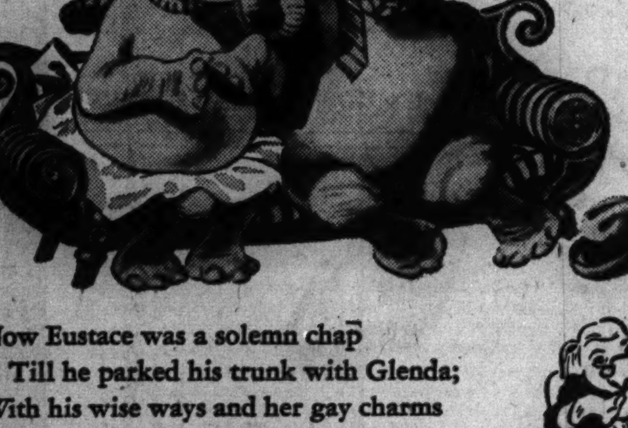
ALL THE WORLD LOVES A "HAPPY BLENDING"!



Now Eustace was a solemn chap
Till he parked his trunk with Glenda;
With his wise ways and her gay charms
They became a "Happy Blenda"!

The same is true of CALVERT, too;
It's a mating smooth and zestful,
A blending of rich whiskey traits
To make your drinks the bestful!

HAWAIIAN RING TEAM TO START HOME TONIGHT

Coach Is Pleased Over Showing Against CYO.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

The Hawaiian amateur boxers, who lost to the Catholic Youth organization, 6 bouts to 4, in Soldiers' field Wednesday, will leave tonight for home. They will be accompanied as far as California by Thomas O'Connell, CYO fight director, who has arranged to have the visitors attend a football game between the University of Hawaii and the College of the Pacific in Stockton next Wednesday.

Yesterday the boys slept late, there being no curfew for them after the contests Wednesday, but in the afternoon they were taken on a tour of a radio and television factory.

Jackie Wright, coach of the squad, and Charles Luis, delegate in charge, analyzed the Hawaiians' defeat by the CYO for the second straight year.

Inamine's Defeat Hurts.

Wright is proud that his boys bettered last year's score of 8 to 3, but Luis was gloomy as he told how Chicago's Harold Dade's victory over Paul Inamine robbed the Hawaiians of a tie. Inamine defeated Harold in the 1940 tournament.

Inamine was pleased yesterday when the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, founder and director of the CYO, awarded him a sportsmanship trophy. Jack Ballangee, who yielded Hawaii its first decision in the lake front arena—Willie Minn beat him in a lightweight match—also was given a sportsmanship prize.

Joe Jawgiel, Northwest Athletic club heavyweight, will meet Jimmy Dennis of the southside in an amateur bout tonight in Madison-Cicero outdoor arena, 4820 Madison street. Other contestants will include Frankie Bodnar, Terre Haute, Ind., welterweight; Eddie Baka, west side, and Otto and Harold Mokry, brothers.

Coley Welch, Portland, Me., middleweight, will arrive today for a 10 round contest against Tony [Ciancicola] Martin of Milwaukee in Chicago Stadium outdoor arena next Wednesday. Martin has been in town since Wednesday, when he established training quarters at Trafton's gymnasium. Promoter William R. Rand yesterday closed negotiations for three supporting matches of six rounds. Jack Haley, Chicagoland Golden Gloves featherweight champion, is paired with Jimmy Joyce of Gary; George Feltes, Milwaukee, Wis., middleweight, with Jimmy Sheppard of Springfield, and Joey Pirrone, Cleveland lightweight, with Gene Ward of Chicago. A 10 round semiwindup involves Willie Joyce of Gary and Quentin [Babe] Breese, Milwaukee junior welterweight.

TOWN, COUNTRY HORSE SHOW TO OPEN TOMORROW

185 Exhibitors Display 600 Entries.

A total of 185 exhibitors, 220 horses, and more than 600 entries will comprise the annual Town and Country horse show opening tomorrow at 12:30 p. m. at Harms Woods in Morton Grove. The show grounds are along route 58, one mile west of Skokie highway. Proceeds will go to the charities of the Sunbeam league.

The big job today is the transporting and stabling of the horses from three states, including Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana. In charge of this assignment are W. Earl Butler, president of the Town and Country Equestrian association; Herbert J. Lorber and A. H. Sus, cochairmen of the show committee; T. L. J. Klapp Jr., stable chairman, and N. J. Geib, head of the entry committee.

Five of the nation's leading exhibitors of harness horses and hackney ponies will compete. They are J. Parish Lewis and Emile Philip Schandein of Milwaukee, Wis., M. G. Sprout of Hammond, Ind., S. J. Campbell of Mount Carroll, and F. J. Flanery of Maple Park, Ill.

Four chief judges will officiate in the ring. They are M. W. Carter, Orange, Va.; Fred J. Southcott, Dousman, Wis.; Douglas M. Davis, Lexington, Ky., and John Hubly, Mason City, Ill.

MATCH TEAM WINS, 4-0.

The Match Corporation softball team defeated the Joliet Rivals, 4 to 0, in the first of a three game series for the Illinois major league title in Parichy stadium last night. Jim Chambers of the winners fanned 23.

New Richness in Robt. Burns Coronas

10¢

There's a world of new smoking pleasure awaiting lovers of a hearty cigar in the Robt. Burns Coronas of today. Finer and finer tobacco—choice of select Cuban leaf and shadegrown wrapper—are going into them. They smoke slowly with a rich satisfying flavor from their first happy puff to their last lingering fragrance.

Here is a cigar for the man who wants positive taste. And here a blunt word for you smokers who think you can enjoy only clear Havana cigars. You will find to your amazement that the Robt. Burns Corona gives you the robust full-flavored smoking you demand—and does it at less cost. Its luxurious flavor makes a new friend of veteran cigar smokers. Try the Robt. ECONOMIC WAR ON AXIS DRAWS MORE RECRUITS

4 Latin Nations Aid U. S. and Britain.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 [Special].—The plan originated by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of the treasury, to cripple the axis war effort by cornering all strategic war materials in this hemisphere is making rapid progress. This was indicated tonight when it was learned that the United States had virtually concluded a new war trade agreement with Peru and had obtained important priorities on several essential metals from Chile, Bolivia, and Argentina.

Peru, under the agreement, will make available to this country her entire supply of copper, vanadium, and lead, it is understood.

Other Countries Agree.

Negotiations with the three other countries are not so far advanced, but Bolivia has agreed tentatively to sell this country her entire production of tungsten and all the Bolivian tin presently going to England; Chile has contracted to export to us each year about 500,000 tons [nearly her entire supply] of copper and most of her manganese; and Argentina has promised to ship us half her tungsten.

Officials are confident that not only Peru but Chile and Bolivia will cooperate in the "Welles plan." Mexico and Brazil have guaranteed to export all their strategic materials to this country in a plan designed to expedite the United States preparedness program and keep these materials from going to Gemany, Italy, and Japan.

Flow to Germany Curbed.

Economic warfare waged by England and the United States has reached a point where well informed Washington officials believe that the Germans are getting only four essential war materials out of Latin America—small quantities of industrial platinum, mica, mercury, and quartz crystals. The latter are important to the Germans because of their use in producing radio equipment by which the Germans direct their mechanized divisions.

Most of these materials are shipped via the Latin air line, which flies from Brazil. Occasional attempts are made to run shiploads of essential metals and grain from Latin America thru the British blockade, but these have generally failed. Within three recent months, for example, 10 German ships tried to get thru, seven were intercepted by the British navy, one is known to have reached territory occupied by the Germans and two are long overdue.

UNION WILLING TO WORK 7 DAY WEEK ON ARMS

R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile, Aircraft, and Agricultural Implement Workers' union [CIO], said last night that the union executive council had agreed on the broad principles of a plan under which workers will make possible seven day a week production in armament industries.

He said that the proposal had been made by Eli Oliver and Eric Nichols, representatives of the Office of Production Management, at a meeting in the Morrison hotel; and that these officials had assured the union that overtime payment provisions would not be interfered with.

A representative of Thomas reported that the union members would stagger the work week, so that some men would be regularly assigned to Saturday and Sunday shifts. The excess earned by these men over regular scale would be placed in a pool to be shared by all members of factory groups.

Keynes, Chief Foe, Gets Bank of England Job

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Another symptom of the revolutionary changes brought by the war was revealed today when John Maynard Keynes, frowned upon by bankers as "unorthodox" and the author of the controversial compulsory savings plan now partly adopted by the government, became a member of the board of directors of the Bank of England.

John M. Keynes.

Montagu Norman, who is just over 70 years of age and was reported intending to resign, will remain as governor, a position he has held 22 years. Norman and the Bank of England have been the principal butts of Keynes' vitrolic attacks on Britain's financial institutions.

Succeeds Lord Stamp.

Keynes will take the seat on the board vacant since Lord Stamp was killed by a bomb in April.

Keynes upset the Bank of England during the World war when he disagreed with Lord Cunliffe, then governor. He opposed the return to the gold standard on the basis of the prewar parity with the dollar, saying that gold, as the shrine at which Norman worships, is a "barbarian relic."

In 1925 Keynes contended that much of the unemployment in this country was due to the policy of the Bank of England, which "seized the opportunity to reduce credit and organize a depression with a view to lowering prices in the interests of the dollar exchange."

Sharp Critic of Bank.

Discussing the cotton spinning industry, he once said of the bank:

"Their main preoccupation appears to have been to use their special knowledge and position to assure, when bankruptcy is at hand and the crash comes, that they shall be somewhat better secured than any one else."

Commenting on Keynes' appointment, the Londoner's Diary in the Evening Standard says:

"Since Hitler signed the nonaggression pact with Stalin there has not been such an extraordinary event as this, which will permit Keynes to sit side by side with Norman. I predict that the new comradeship will not last forever."

Keynes has just returned from America, where for three months he has been working out details of lend-lease supplies.

OPA LOOKS INTO REPORT OF PRICE BOOSTS FOR ZINC

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—Office of Price Administration officials said today they were investigating reports that buyers of zinc had been charged prices ranging up to 16 cents a pound. There is no formal price ceiling on zinc but under an informal agreement prices have been around 7½ cents a pound.

Reports from the middle west, officials said, were to the effect that prospective buyers who did not have priority ratings were being charged higher prices.

Aids declined to disclose what action was contemplated by Leon Henderson, price administrator, but they said that if the reports they had received were true the action of some zinc producers was "definitely against the policy of the Office of Price Administration."

Wholesale Price Index Up to 91.6% of 1926 Average

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The bureau of labor statistics today reported the general level of wholesale commodity prices had increased .7 per cent for the week ending Sept. 13. The change raised the bureau's index of wholesale prices to 91.6 per cent of the 1926 average. A year ago the index stood at 77.9.

NEW U. S. EXCISE TAXES DIP INTO EVERY POCKET

Another 1½ Billions to Be Levied.

The American tax-paying public will pay almost 1½ billion dollars a year in additional excise taxes under the new revenue bill that is now awaiting the President's signature.

The higher income taxes provided for in the bill represent only one phase of the new taxes which American families will have to carry.

The tax collector reaches into nearly every phase of living: When you use the telephone, when you drive your car, when you attend a movie, when you play cards, when you smoke, when you buy a radio or lipstick, or when you drink alcoholic liquors.

The hidden excise and nuisance taxes, most of which become effective Oct. 1, are not as obvious as income taxes because they usually are paid as part of the cost of merchandise or entertainment. The following outline of the various excise and other "hidden" taxes, prepared by the Commerce Clearing House and showing the increases made in the new tax bill, indicates how the tax collector extracts his share:

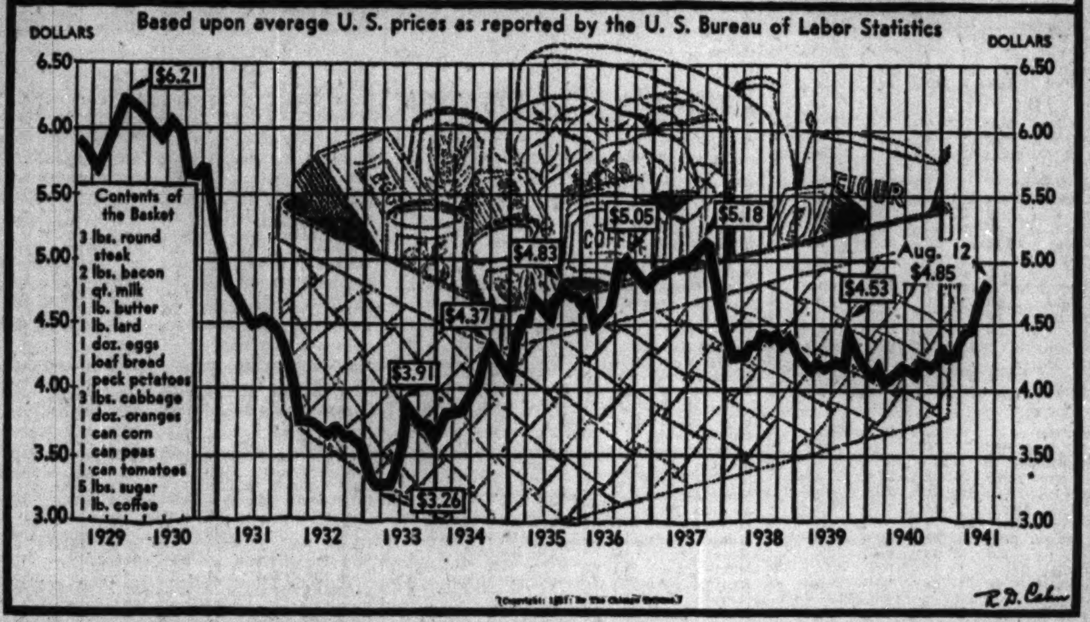
MINES GIVEN TOP PRIORITY RATING ON REPAIR NEEDS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, priorities director, announced today a maintenance, repair and supplies plan designed to help about 15,000 mines increase production.

The order permits mining companies to use the highest rating to expedite deliveries of materials needed for emergency repairs.

To administer the plan, Nelson asked the governor of each state to designate a state official to help carry out the order. The state official will receive each month a list of all purchases made under the terms of the order by the mines and must report any excessive purchases or irregularities to the Office of Production Management.

The Cost of the Market Basket



Tax Collector Pays the Payers! It's a New, Unorthodox Racket

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—A new racket—or maybe it's called "investment policy"—has been uncovered in connection with the payment of income taxes, it was learned today.

Instead of following the customary practice of protesting taxes considered too large—or perhaps paying too little—many persons are said to be overpaying deliberately and getting back refunds at 6 per cent interest.

These enlightened individuals, fortunate enough to get ahead of the tax collector, are under increasing scrutiny by treasury agents. Altho the agents are prohibited from discussing pending investigations, officials hinted that some drastic action may be expected to stop the lucrative but unorthodox practice of making money on the tax gatherer.

Involve Thousands of Dollars.

In some instances the overpayments involve thousands of dollars, it is said.

The law provides that the treasury pay 6 per cent on the amount of taxes erroneously collected from the time the sum is paid until the refund is made. Many months often elapse before the bureau of internal revenue gets around to checking the returns and in the meantime the "tax investors" earn a much larger return on their money than is provided by investing in government bonds or high grade corporate securities, or by depositing the funds in bank accounts.

Most banks pay 1½ to 2 per cent on time deposits, and according to recent treasury statistics the yield on long-term treasury bonds averaged less than 2 per cent and the yield on high grade corporate bonds 2.7 per cent.

Refunds Reach 46 Millions.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1940, the collector of internal revenue refunded $46,022,032 in income taxes, including interest, compared with $27,390,777 in the preceding fiscal year. Interest allowed on these payments in the 1940 fiscal year, totaled $9,155,588, nearly double the $4,925,560 of the 1939 fiscal year. Claims filed for refunds during the 1940 accounting period numbered 132,532.

Official figures are not yet available for the 1941 fiscal year. Altho it is understood the claims will run somewhat below the level of the 1940 fiscal year, the number is still regarded as sufficiently large to warrant closer scrutiny of the returns.

INDUSTRY SETS RECORDS, SAYS RESERVE BOARD

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The federal reserve board announced today that new record highs in American industrial production were reached in August and early September as factories stepped up arms production schedules.

The board said that in August industrial production reached the record high index figure of 161 per cent of the 1935-'39 average. The July index was 160 and in August, 1940, it was 124. The index is adjusted for seasonal variations.

In August, the board said, "there were sharp further advances in the machinery, aircraft, shipbuilding and railroad equipment industries.

"Lumber production also increased, while furniture production, which had been unusually large in July, showed less than the customary seasonal rise. Output of steel and nonferrous metals continued at near-capacity rates."

Crude petroleum production set a record and other mineral output was unusually large.

Mayor Renews Suggestion of SocialSecurityMoveHere

Mayor Kelly, returning to Chicago yesterday from Washington, D. C., said he had renewed his suggestion to Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, that the social security board's offices be moved to Chicago to help relieve congestion in Washington. The board was reported recently to have abandoned serious consideration of such a move, largely, it was indicated, because of apathy among Chicago officials over prospects of getting the bureau.

Security Transfers

The Securities and Exchange commission in its summary of securities transactions during July reported yesterday that:

Thomas C. Fulton, vice president of the Anchor Hocking Glass company, had made a gift of 21,600 shares of his company's stock, valued at nearly $324,000.

James G. Kellogg of Chicago gave away 4,000 shares of Kellogg Switchboard and Supply company common, worth approximately $36,000.

George W. Mixter made a gift of 2,000 shares of Deere & Co. common, valued at $56,000.

Robert L. Clause, Pittsburgh, Pa., made a gift of 3,000 shares of Pittsburgh Plate Glass company common stock, valued at $234,000.

Garfield A. Wood, Detroit, Mich., disposed of 100,000 shares of Gar Wood Industries, Inc., common stock, with a market value of about $400,000. This reduced his stock holdings to 444 shares at the end of July.

STORE SALES UP TO PEAK OF 1928

Chicago Volume 22 Pct. Over Labor Day Week.

Chicago department stores put their fall merchandise on display last week and sales rose to the second highest level of the year, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. State street merchants celebrated fall fashion week and announced that the merchandising program lifted sales to peaks not reached since 1928.

The bank reported store volume was 22 per cent larger than during the preceding week, which included the Labor day holiday, and 4 per cent larger than a year ago. The stores' dollar volume reached a 1941 peak in the last week of August.

Stevens Reports Trend.

Elmer T. Stevens, president of the State Street council, commented: "A steady flow of customers was attracted by the downtown stores. They purchased quality merchandise and prices were of secondary importance."

Store sales in the 7th federal reserve district, embracing a major portion of the Chicagoland area, gained 4 per cent over the preceding week and 10 per cent over the corresponding week last year, the bank announced. Milwaukee stores did 20 per cent more business than a year ago, Detroit stores 18 per cent and Indianapolis stores 14 per cent more.

Surpass 1940 Volume.

Department store trade thruout the United States was 8 per cent larger than a year ago and for the last four weeks was 19 per cent above the 1940 volume.

During the four weeks ended Sept. 13, Chicago sales have shown a 12 per cent gain over 1940 and district sales a 17 per cent increase, the bank said.

FLORIDA UTILITY PLANS FINANCING OF 55 MILLIONS

Florida Power and Light company, under a plan filed yesterday with the Securities and Exchange commission, will refinance all publicly held bonds and preferred stock and cancel $26,347,700 in securities held by its parent company, American Power and Light company.

The company proposes to sell at competitive bidding 45 million dollars in first mortgage bonds due 1971, 10 million dollars in debentures due 1956 and 140,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock.

Trustees of the Erie railroad are asking bids by Sept. 23 on 18 million dollars of 3¼ per cent bonds, one of the first regular railroad bond issues to be marketed at a competitive sale.

Dow Chemical company filed a registration statement disclosing its intention to sell 113,519 shares of common stock primarily to present stockholders at $100 a share.

14 Rail Unions Continue Paid Vacation Plea

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

The 14 nonoperating railroad unions yesterday continued arguments on their requests for vacations with pay before President Roosevelt's five man fact finding commission in Kimball hall. They temporarily side tracked their demands for pay increases of 30 cents an hour with minimum hourly wages of 70 cents.

The railroads had rejected the vacation requests on the grounds that they cannot afford them and that vacations would unnecessarily complicate railroad operation.

George M. Cucich, research director for the railway employés' department, American Federation of Labor, spent most of yesterday afternoon quoting statistics obtained from the United States department of labor showing the growing tendency on the part of American industry to grant vacations to their employés.

Says Rails Lag Behind.

"Vacations with pay are almost universally granted to white collar workers and have been widely extended to wage earners," said Cucich. "The railroads are the only major industry, with the possible exception of the construction industry, which has failed to grant vacations with pay to a substantial proportion of its employés.

"In other industries, the policy of granting vacations with pay has become well established and generally accepted. This is especially true in the public utilities industries, which are the most comparable to the railroads."

He quoted labor department figures showing that in 1937 3,359,281, or 38.6 per cent of the 8½ million wage earners in the manufacturing industries were included in paid vacation plans. He said the chemical industry, including petroleum refineries, ranked first with 84.6 per cent of its wage earners under vacation plans.

Cites Recent Increases.

Cucich said a study made by the National Industrial Conference board covering 2,700 business and industrial establishments with nearly 5 million workers showed that 93.8 per cent of the companies provided annual vacations to salaried workers and 46.4 per cent to hourly paid employés in 1940 compared with 79.8 per cent and 17.9 per cent, respectively, in 1935.

J. Carter Fort, counsel for the carriers' conference committee, questioned H. A. Bacus, statistician for the clerks' union, on his estimate of the cost to the railroads of vacations. The railroads estimate the cost at about 40 million dollars. Bacus estimates it at about 30 millions annually.

The Big Five operating brotherhoods are scheduled to start presenting their demands for a 30 per cent wage increase next Tuesday. The fact finding commission is to report to President Roosevelt its recommendation for a settlement of the differences between the railroads and their 1,200,000 workers, over which the workers have threatened to strike.

J. S. KNOWLSON QUITS JOB AS HEAD OF RADIO MAKERS ASSOCIATION

James S. Knowlson, president of the Stewart-Warner corporation, yesterday announced his resignation as president of the Radio Manufacturers' association. He said pressure of duties at his company because of armament contracts requires his full attention.

It has been reported authoritatively in Washington, D. C., that Knowlson is slated for the $1 a year position of deputy priorities director under Donald M. Nelson, director of the priorities division of the Office of Production Management.

The appointment has not been confirmed.

Executive committees of the radio manufacturers' group have been meeting in closed sessions at the Stevens hotel. Officers declined to comment on Knowlson's resignation.

PROFIT TAKING HALTS STOCKS' UPWARD MARCH

War News Blamed for Downtrend.

A Recollection

The greatest stock market rise in American history reached its peak 12 years ago today.

Sept. 19, 1929, marked the end of fabulous profits to be acquired merely by buying any stock and riding it to the top. Prices then began to decline and by mid-October the market had crashed into depression. In 1932 the market value of stocks on the New York exchange had fallen more than 74 billion dollars.

Twelve years ago today The Tribune average of 50 stocks was 311.99. Yesterday it was 91.78. The low point of the average was on July 8, 1932, when it was 33.98.

A comparison of market prices on some leading stocks follows:

	Close Sept. 19, 1929.	Low price, 1932.	Yesterday's close.
Allied Chem	337	42½	162⅝
American Loco	122¼	3⅝	13⅝
Am. Tel. & Tel	304	70¼	154⅞
Du Pont	210	22	151½
General Motors	74⅛	7⅝	40⅝
Sears Roebuck	165½	9⅞	74
U. S. Steel	241½	21¼	58¾

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—Profit cashing on Wednesday's brisk rally crippled the stock market today after many leaders had sprinted into new high ground for the year with gains of fractions to a point or so.

While there were few weak issues, there were enough fractional losers at the close to put the Associated Press average of 60 stocks down .1 of a point at 44. The composite had risen .5 of a point yesterday.

A slight turn for the worse in the German-Russian battle bulletins received the principal blame for the day's moderate setback. Business developments, including increased dividends and satisfactory earnings statements, tended to prop sentiment. Cheering were predictions that federal price controls might be relaxed to offset higher unit costs of some manufacturers whose production has been curtailed by the shift to armaments.

Steels and Motors Fall.

Shares on the losing side included United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Western Union, Anaconda, Kennecott, du Pont, Union Carbide, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, J. I. Case, United States Rubber, and New York Shipbuilding.

Dow Chemical was an isolated soft spot, dropping 2¼ points in the wake of the announcement new common stock would be issued for subscription by present shareholders.

Consolidated Aircraft, strong performer recently, managed to hold a gain of ⅝. American & Foreign Power preferred was up 2 at a new 1941 high. Emerging with modest improvement were Woolworth, Chesapeake and Ohio, Texas corporation, and Westinghouse.

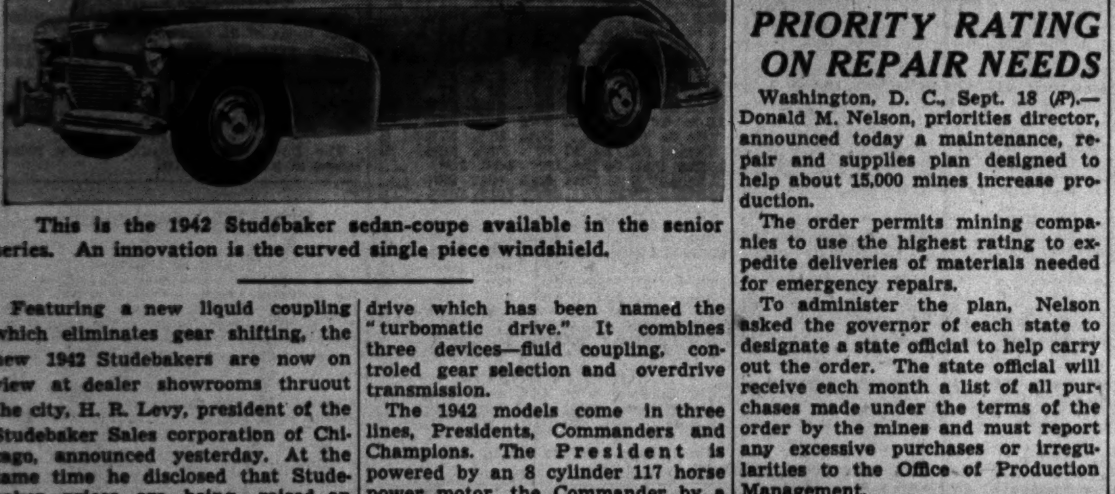
CHICAGO PEAKS SET.

Ten issues reached new 1941 highs on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. They were Bendix, Deere & Co., Standard Dredging common, Goodyear Tire and Rubber, Peoples Gas, Swift International, Raytheon Manufacturing common and preferred, Borg-Warner, and Kellogg Switchboard.

Transactions totaled 33,000 shares. Of 111 issues traded, 46 advanced, 35 declined, and 30 remained unchanged.

Volume leaders were Raytheon common, 2,600 shares, up ⅝ to 4¼; Commonwealth Edison, 1,100 shares, off ⅛ to 25⅝; General Motors, 1,050 shares, off ¼ to 40⅝, and Kellogg Switchboard, 1,000 shares, up ⅛ to 9¼.

Studebaker Introduces 1942 Models



This is the 1942 Studebaker sedan-coupe available in the senior series. An innovation is the curved single piece windshield.

Featuring a new liquid coupling which eliminates gear shifting, the new 1942 Studebakers are now on view at dealer showrooms thruout the city, H. R. Levy, president of the Studebaker Sales corporation of Chicago, announced yesterday. At the same time he disclosed that Studebaker prices are being raised an average of 7.14 per cent over the 1941 prices, the increases ranging from $50 to $85 a car.

Altho the new models show numerous style changes, the most noteworthy addition is the new hydraulic drive which has been named the "turbomatic drive." It combines three devices—fluid coupling, controled gear selection and overdrive transmission.

The 1942 models come in three lines, Presidents, Commanders and Champions. The President is powered by an 8 cylinder 117 horse power motor, the Commander by a 6 cylinder 94 horse power engine and the Champion by a 6 cylinder 80 horse power engine. The Champion continues to be Studebaker's entry in the economy class, with weight in the 2,500 pound range.

Commodities

Cotton futures declined 95 cents to $1.10 a bale yesterday on active hedge selling. Traders were said to have taken an unfavorable view of the government's announced export subsidy program on the ground it would add to free supplies during the current season.

Reports that the Inter-American Coffee board would consider rescinding the 20 per cent coffee quota increase caused traders to undertake active covering operations, and futures closed 0.06 to 0.10 cent a pound higher. Late profit taking sales reduced early gains.

World sugar futures advanced 0.02½ to 0.03½ cent a pound on trade buying spurred by reports of tightening supplies in Cuba. Domestic sugar closed irregularly lower. Cottonseed oil ended 0.04 to 0.06 cent a pound lower in light trading. Wool futures lost as much as 0.6 cent a pound.

WHEAT FUTURES RISE; SOY BEANS CUT EARLY LOSS

Short Covering Checks Week Long Decline.

Wednesday's heavy undertone continued in the grain and soy bean markets in the early trading yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Bean futures dropped about 4¼ cents to a new low on the current downturn, and at the bottom showed a loss of 24¼ to 27¾ cents since last Friday.

Short covering developed in grains following reports from Washington that about a third of the 6 billion dollars sought for lease-lend operations would be for agricultural products.

Corn Closes Irregularly.

Wheat rallied about 1⅜ cents and closed ⅝ to 1⅛ cents higher. Soy beans finished 1⅝ to 3 cents lower, with December at $1.74⅝.

Corn was unsettled and closed ¼ cent lower to ⅝ cent higher, the former on September, while rye was ⅝ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher. Lard futures were unchanged to 7½ cents per hundred pounds lower.

Liquidation by holders of October bean contracts kept that market under pressure the greater part of the day, and there were reports of hedging sales against the movement of the new crop.

Weather Ideal for Crop.

Weather conditions the last few days have been ideal for maturing the bean crop in the main producing areas, and reports indicate that there may be a fair movement under way the latter part of the month from the more southern sections of Illinois and Indiana.

Liquidation developed in September corn late in the session and it closed at 6¼ cents under December after selling at 6½ cents discount at one time.

HAY MARKET.

★SMALL BUSINESS★ MAN'S DEPARTMENT

This department is prepared to help the small business man who is seeking information on priorities, substitute materials, and related subjects. Inquiries should be directed to the Small Business Man's department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill. All inquiries will be given careful attention. Letters on subjects of broad interest will be published and commented upon.

FOR HOUSE TRAILERS.

We operate a small manufacturing company which makes lighting equipment and accessories for house trailers. The greatest percentage of these trailers is going into the defense housing program. Even with this information our suppliers in the east hesitate to ship us enough materials without a priority rating. How can I get the materials I need?

Answer: If you customarily fill your orders from stock on hand and you can determine what part of your shipments goes into so-called "defense" channels, you may be able to obtain an A-10 preference rating covering your orders for materials devoted to such uses. Apply for the defense supplies rating on form PD-25 and send it to Joseph L. Overlook, priorities division, Washington, D. C.

The priorities division has notified this department in response to your inquiry that, unless the new defense housing plan applies to your products, you may request a priority rating on form PD-1 for those materials you have difficulty in procuring. You should make a detailed statement of the importance of your products to house trailers that are used by workers near munitions plants.

ARMAMENT PLANT EXPANSION.

Has there been any estimate of the cost of the various additions and new plants started as the result of the armament program? How much expansion has there been in Illinois?

Answer: The cost of 2,420 industrial plant expansions and new plants devoted to armament manufacture contracted for thru July 31 has been estimated at $4,192,495,000 by the research and statistical bureau of the Office of Production Management. Government agencies financed 523 expansions costing $3,293,033,000, or 78 per cent of the dollar total. The rest were financed with private funds.

Estimated cost of arms plants for several midwestern states and the amount financed by the government follow: Illinois, $233,282,000, and $197,460,000; Indiana, $272,892,000, $245,031,000; Iowa, $80,669,000, $78,493,000; Michigan, $285,199,000, $248,414,000; Missouri, $180,705,000, $176,462,000, and Wisconsin, $30,741,000, $16,592,000.

City's Plan Indorsed

Mayor Kelly's appointment of an industrial commission to survey Chicago's manufacturing facilities in an effort to obtain subcontracts for small businesses has been commended by Floyd B. Odlum, new director of the contract distribution division of the Office of Production Management.

The mayor said yesterday upon his return from Washington, D. C., that Odlum had approved steps taken by the city to promote the spreading of arms contracts to smaller plants and had declared his intention to obtain the co-operation of the army and navy in developing the city's program.

The commission will hold its first meeting next Thursday afternoon.

AGRICULTURAL CHEMICAL.

As a prospective buyer of stock in the American Agricultural Chemical company, I'd like to know its corporate background and its earnings and dividend record.—B. L. S.

Answer: This company was incorporated in Delaware in 1913. From organization until a readjustment in 1931, its issued capital stock was owned by the American Agricultural Chemical company, a Connecticut corporation which was dissolved in 1936.

The largest part of the company's business is the manufacture and sale of mixed fertilizers. Operations cover mining of phosphate rock and manufacture of sulphuric acid. Markets include virtually all important agricultural regions east of the Rocky mountains.

Sole capitalization is 627,969 shares of no par common stock outstanding. In 1938, stock was changed from 500,000 authorized shares of no par capital stock to 700,000 shares of no par common and outstanding shares were split three for one.

Dividends have been paid since the initial in 1934. This year there have been three 30 cent quarterly distributions, the latest payable Sept. 30.

Results for fiscal years ended June 30 follow:

	Net sales.	Net income.	Per shr.
1941	$22,330,492	$1,121,873	$1.79
1940	19,030,642	908,608	1.45
1939	17,581,507	764,694	1.22
1938	18,440,476	1,401,075	*2.23

*Adjusted for stock split.

Total assets at the end of last June were $23,053,220.

DECREASING LOSSES.

Has Barium Stainless Steel corporation showed a profit since 1938 when it was forced to shut down until it received an RFC loan?—J. J. F.

Answer: There has been no profit reported to date, but losses have been reduced. In 1938, loss was $239,836, followed by $154,323 in 1939 and $83,792 in 1940.

EMPORIUM CAPWELL.

What is the business of the Emporium Capwell company and where is its stock traded. How many issues are there?—W. E. D.

Answer: This company owns and operates two general department stores in Oakland and San Francisco, Cal., and a public food market in the latter city. There are three classes of stock, 7 per cent preferred, 4½ per cent preference, and common. The preference and common are listed on the San Francisco Stock exchange.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC BY RAIL SOARS TO PEAK SINCE 1930

Total Tops 900,000 Cars for Third Time.

Revenue freight loadings by railroads during the week ended Sept. 13 reached the highest total for any week since Nov. 2, 1930, the Associated Railroads reported yesterday.

Shipments totaled 913,952 cars to top by 1,232 cars the previous 11 year high mark established in the week ended Aug. 30. It was the third time this year that shipments exceeded the 900,000 car mark. In no year subsequent to 1930 did freight loadings for any week reach the 900,000 car mark until this year.

Exceed Year Ago 13.6 Pct.

Shipments during the week ended Sept. 13 increased 116,212 cars or 14.6 per cent, over the preceding holiday week. Increase over the corresponding 1940 week, reflecting the stepped up industrial activity under the armament program, was 109,687 cars, or 13.6 per cent. The increase over the 1939 week was 113,521 cars, or 14.2 per cent. The rise in loadings for the week ended Saturday was considered less than seasonal, however.

All classes of freight shipments showed an increase over the preceding week with miscellaneous freight again leading the rise.

Loadings of the various commodities compared as follows:

	Week ended Sept. 13.	—Change from— Prec. wk.	Year ago.

PREDICT TRAFFIC RISE.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 18 (AP).—Railroad freight agents said today there would be no car shortage in the next three months despite a prediction by the southeast shippers' advisory board that loadings would increase 11.4 per cent over last year.

In a joint meeting to forecast commodity shipments in the last quarter of the year and arrange for prompt handling, representatives of 22 shipping industries and 25 railroads agreed that enough cars are available to give uninterrupted service.

Freight loading increases of 20 to 25 per cent were predicted for cement coal and coke, crushed stone, sand and gravel, furniture, and pulp paper products. Only cotton shippers foresaw a decrease.

Day by Day on the Farm By BOB BECKER

Nature Holds Preview.

Sept. 18, 1941.

THE age old transition from summer to early autumn, always a time of beauty and interest to the outdoor fan, now is bringing gradual changes to every tree and shrub on the Du Page county farm. At this time of the year nature seems to be holding a preview of the big pageant of color that comes in October.

There are on the farm brilliant yellow corn flowers, several species of purple and white asters, flaming sumac, yellowing catalpa trees, and the vivid scarlet of the thornapples. These shrubs and flowers are carrying the colors of autumn while the osage oranges continue to put a summer note into the landscape with their bright green fruit.

Big Year for Asters.

This is a big year for the beautiful wild asters. We found some of these flowers standing at least four feet above the ground. Every plant is loaded with blossoms. Along one hedgerow the asters, brightened by thornapples, and red and orange sumac have combined to put on a dazzling mid-September show. The asters in this spot are so tall that their blossoms project upward thru the lowest branches of the haw trees on which the ripe fruit is unusually plentiful. Thus there is a contrast between deep purple and brilliant scarlet, two colors typical of this transition period.

The walnut trees have called it quits as far as autumn is concerned. Three trees in one of the woodlots have only a handful of leaves on them, so the frosts and gusty autumn winds will have little to do to these trees. With their foliage almost gone the clusters of walnuts on the trees are silhouetted against the sky.

Two Trees a Problem.

While autumn is changing the landscape at the farm the gardener sees no change in the relationship of two trees which present quite a problem to him. One is a red cedar and the other is a hawthorn. They are about 40 feet apart. They harbor a fungus rust which prevails when a cedar and a haw grow close together, but which disappears when one or the other is eliminated.

This summer the cedar has been infected with the rust disease. The gardener may have to eliminate either the cedar or its opponent, the haw tree. Spraying the trees might solve the problem temporarily, but the gardener says that the only sure way to get rid of the unsightly rust is to remove one of the trees.

INLAND MAY GET U. S. FUNDS FOR STEEL EXPANSION

New Indiana Harbor Plant Under Consideration.

Expansion of the steel making facilities of Inland Steel company at Indiana Harbor costing 35 to 45 million dolars may be undertaken soon, it was indicated yesterday in Washington. Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, commenting on government plans to enlarge steel making facilities thruout the country to aid the arms program, said he thought a government loan to Inland would be announced soon.

Inland officials yesterday said they could not comment and any information would have to come from the government. It is known that Inland officials were in Washington recently conferring with government officials on plant expansion.

May Buy Bethlehem Site.

Sources in Indiana Harbor said the proposal is for the Defense Plant corporation to buy a 50 acre site owned by the Bethlehem Steel corporation just across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks from the Inland plant. Government funds would finance construction of the new plant.

It is expected the projected improvements will include two or three blast furnaces, coke ovens, and other auxiliary equipment. With scrap metals growing scarce, the blast furnaces would be able to convert iron ore directly into the molten iron from which steel is made.

Transports Own Ore.

Inland transports iron ore from its properties in upper Michigan by its own steamers directly to Indiana Harbor—a few miles from the Illinois line. Inland is the second largest steel producer in the Chicago area, having an annual capacity of about 3,300,000 tons of steel ingots. It has five blast furnaces and has a sixth under contract.

Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation recently was reported negotiating with the government for a steel plant in the Calumet steel area, but no announcement has been made.

VOTE ON MERGER OF TWO CHICAGO FIRMS DELAYED

Voting by stockholders on the proposed merger of two Chicago corporations, the Utility and Industrial corporation and the General Finance corporation, was delayed for an indefinite period yesterday because an injunction suit to prevent the action is being sought by a minority Utility and Industrial stockholder.

Officials of General Finance told stockholders at a meeting in Detroit, Mich., that no action could be taken until the status of the suit is determined. The meeting was adjourned until this afternoon, when an indefinite recess is expected.

Utility and Industrial is an investment company and General Finance is an automobile finance and insurance company.

URGES SIMPLER PROSPECTUSES FOR INVESTORS

Banker Tells Aims of SEC Law Amendments.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18 [Special].—The investment banking industry is stressing amendments to the federal securities act which will make it possible for the investor to be given essential information on securities instead of flooding him with so many facts as to result in his complete confusion.

This statement of some of the principal objectives of the Investment Bankers association was made before the American Institute of Accountants at its annual meeting here today by Edward H. Hilliard, vice president of the I. B. A., who is a member of the Louisville investment house of J. J. B. Hilliard and Son, was critical of the voluminous prospectuses now required.

Urges Readable Forms.

Preparation and filing of full facts with the Securities and Exchange commission is not enough, Hilliard said. The facts must be gotten to investors in such a way that they will be useful and not in a form which will insure their being dumped unread into a wastebasket.

Hilliard commented on the difficulty under present regulations of giving investors information on outstanding as distinguished from newly issued securities. One of the amendments recently proposed as a result of conferences between officials of the SEC, the I. B. A., and other interested organizations would relieve this handicap, he said.

Accountants Elect Officers.

An amended statute would continue to impose liabilities fully adequate to insure that dealers act in good faith, he continued, but it would recognize that requiring too much completeness of information may actually result in no information at all for the ordinary investor.

Norman Loyall McLaren of San Francisco, Cal., was elected president of the American Institute of Accountants. New members of the institute's council include Frakn Ahlforth, Chicago, and Carl E. Dietze, Milwaukee.

OPERATORS GET LEWIS THREAT TO EXTEND STRIKE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The United Mine Workers [CIO] and seven steel companies failed during six hours of negotiations today to reach an agreement to end the strike in "captive" coal pits. When the negotiators quit to meet again tomorrow, it was announced that the conferees had not yet produced a mutually acceptable plan for resuming production.

The union called out 44,000 workers Monday from the mines owned by the steel companies to back up its demands for a union shop agreement.

John L. Lewis, U. M. W. president, served notice on the steel companies that a broad scale work stoppage might be ordered if the dispute with the steel companies continued. He dispatched to all signatories to the 1941 Appalachian area contract with the UMW a letter reminding them that the agreement reserved to the union the right to strike the entire area to protect competitive conditions of the agreement.

De Haven Elected Allied Mills President, Chairman

J. S. DeHaven, elected president of Allied Mills, Inc., in July, has been elected to that office and named chairman of the board, the company announced yesterday. In both positions he succeeded Hinckley G. Atwood, founder of the company, who died last June. Other officers, including H. J. Buist, executive vice president and treasurer, were reelected.

RISE OF 140 MILLIONS IN EXCESS RESERVES OF BANKS REPORTED

Excess reserves [idle funds available for lending] of the member banks of the federal reserve system increased 140 million dollars in the week ended Sept. 17 to a total of 5 billion 250 million, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. In the preceding week the banks' excess reserves increased, the gain for the preceding week having been 250 millions.

Member banks in the Chicago and New York reserve districts each increased their business loans by 7 millions in the week ended Sept. 17. Details follow:

CLEVELAND BANKER, J. S. FLEEK, PICKED FOR I. B. A. PRESIDENCY

John S. Fleek.

John S. Fleek, partner in the Cleveland investment banking firm of Hayden, Miller & Co., has been nominated for president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America by the association's board of directors, it was announced yesterday. Nomination is regarded as tantamount to election. Fleek is now a vice president of the association.

Emmett F. Connely, president, said Fleek also will become chairman of the association's public information committee and in this capacity will serve as a full time executive of the association. He will take leave of absence from his own business to direct the public relations program.

The election will be at the association's annual convention in Hollywood, Fla., Nov. 30 to Dec. 5.

New vice presidential nominees include Jay N. Whipple, Chicago, of Bacon, Whipple & Co.

U. S. SUBSIDIZES EXPORTS OF LOAN STOCK COTTON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The department of agriculture inaugurated today a new export subsidy program on American cotton designed to help make it competitive in the Canadian market with Brazilian cotton.

During the last year or so, American cotton has been quoted considerably above foreign cotton in world markets, largely because of price supporting and other farm programs.

The department will offer to exporters cotton from the 1937 crop acquired under grower loan programs, in amounts of not more than 308,000 bales in any month or 1,500,000 bales a year.

The price will be at a base rate of 13.25 cents a pound for 15-16 inch middling cotton at Carolina warehouses, and adjustments will be made for freight and quality on cotton from other centers.

Officials explained that the cotton would be available for export to markets other than Canada, but because of the war and shipping difficulties little was expected to be sold outside the Canadian market.

INVESTING FIRMS ORGANIZE A NEW NATIONAL GROUP

Paul Bartholet Proposed as Executive Head.

Plans to form a permanent organization of investment companies, to be known as the National Association of Investment Companies, were announced yesterday by the National Committee of Investment Companies, a temporary committee set up a year ago.

Executive director of the permanent organization will be Paul Bartholet, who has been executive director of the committee. Bartholet will resign as vice president of five investment companies to devote his full time to the new association.

Has 111 Member Firms.

The memorandum said that the committee, first coöperative venture of the business, received support of "substantially all active management investment companies." Membership included 111 organizations with assets in excess of a billion dollars.

The committee proposes that the scope of the organization's work be broadened to include activities in addition to coöperation under the investment company act. It would study and take action on other legislation affecting investment companies and on matters arising under state blue sky laws.

12 on Executive Committee.

Success of the committee to date has made clear that "the joint effort should be continued," the memorandum stated.

The executive committee of the new association will be composed of 12 men, with Bartholet an ex-officio member. The members:

Frank Altschul, president of General American Investors Co., Inc.; F. Wilder Bellamy, president of the National Bond and Share corporation; Charles F. Eaton Jr., trustee of the Eaton Howard Balanced Fund; David M. Milton, president of the Equity corporation; Hugh Bullock, vice president of Dividend Shares, Inc.; Arthur H. Bunker, executive vice president of Lehman corporation; Paul C. Cabot, vice president of State Street Investment corporation; William T. Gardiner, chairman of Incorporated Investors; Merrill Griswold, chairman of Massachusetts Investors Trust; James H. Orr, president of Railway & Light Securities company; Cyril J. C. Quinn, vice president of Tri-Continental corporation, and Richard Wagner, president of Chicago corporation.
